THE GREAT WAR.

GENERAL BATTLE ON ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Kouropatkin Strikes at Japanese Center and Seizes Railroad Bridge.

If Kuroki Rolls up Russian Left Much Further Slav Commander Must Evacuate Mukden, Which, According to St. Petersburg Report, He is Already Doing—Japanese Capture Da Pass.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1, 1:50 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Last evening's news from Manchuria is of the most important nature, an Associated Press dispatch from Mukden, transmitted at noon Tuesday, indicating that a general battle was beginning along the whole of the 100 miles of front occupied by the two armies.

Gen. Kouropatkin appears to have taken a leaf out of Field Marshal Oyama's book and replied to Gen. Kuroki's attack on the Russian left by a counter-attack on the Japanese left, in which Gen. Kaulbers's initial success was better for the Russians than the success of Gen. Gripenburg, the Russian vanguard being established close to Sandiapu.

At the same time, Gen. Kouropatkin delivered a blow against the Japanese center, seizing a railroad bridge across the Shakhe River.

These reports, therefore, give a more hopeful aspect to the situation, as the Russian army, though driven out of Da Pass, appears to have succeeded in stopping, at least for the moment, the further advance of the Japanese eastward and beaten off the attack on the center.

The effect of yesterday's developments on Gen. Kouropatkin's reported intention to withdraw from the Shakhe is problematical. Retirement in the face of an enemy, which is extremely hazardous under any circumstances, is doubly dangerous when the armies are grappling in a general engagement; but if Gen. Kuroki succeeds in rolling up the Russian left much further, the perilous expedient may become necessary. The counter strokes on the right and center may possibly be intended to cover the withdrawal of trains and stores.

FIGHTING ALONG WHOLE LINE.
JAPS ATTACKING EVERYWHERE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MUKDEN, Feb. 28, Noon.—Fighting is in progress today along the whole line, the Japanese attacking everywhere. All attacks this morning were beaten back and the Russians made counter-attacks at many places. On the right flank, the Russians occupied the village of Boatatzsi, which is close to Sandiapu, and from that position hurled hand grenades across the intervening ravine into the Japanese trenches in Sandiapu, causing heavy loss and great disorder.

RUSSIANS SEIZE BRIDGE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MUKDEN, Feb. 28.—The Russians have seized the head of the bridge across the Shakhe River in the center of the Japanese lines, assisted by artillery firing of particular energy from Lone Tree Hill and Novgorod Hill.

Ten determined attacks opposite Yangsing Tung and west of Vanupudzi were all repulsed with heavy loss.

The situation on the Russian left flank is unchanged, as compared with Monday evening.

JAPS TEN TIMES REPULSED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—Gen. Kouropatkin, in a dispatch to Emperor Nicholas, dated today, says: "Ten attacks made by two Japanese battalions and some cavalry west of the village of Tansingtong have been repulsed. The Japanese renewed the attack in the morning of February 27 and weer again repulsed. They left 100 corpres in front of our positions. the Russian was six men."

OYAMA'S REPORT.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28.—Field Marshal Oyama reports that Russian batteries at Manpoo Mountain, Shakhe village and Sufangtai occasionally shell the Japanese lines. Small bodies of Russian infantry, the report says, attacked the Japanese positions west of the Mukden road Sunday night and that the attacks were repulsed. The Russians have resumed making defensive works in the vicinity of Litajentun and occasionally shell Chenchiehpao.

MUST EVACUATE MUKDEN.
KOUROPATKIN TO WITHDRAW.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28, 6:55 p.m.—The Associated Press hears from a high source that Gen. Kouropatkin considers his position on the Shakhe River was menaced to such an extent by Gen. Kuroki's success on the left flank as to necessitate the immediate withdrawal of his army to Tie Pass, and has so advised Emperor Nicholas.

No confirmation of this is obtainable in military circles here, where it is pointed out that, with the Japanese pressing the whole Russian line, such an operation must inevitably end in a disaster of the first magnitude.

ELABORATE DEFENSIVE WORKS.
OPPOSITE EXTREME JAP LEFT.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEWCHWANG, Feb. 28.—Advices received here say that over two Russian army corps are engaged in building elaborate defensive works opposite the extreme Japanese left and that large forces of cavalry are prolonging the Russian flanks.

It is reported here that a railroad bridge between Tie Pass and Kaiyuan has been destroyed.

It is reported also that large bodies of well armed Chinese bandits are prepared to harrass the retreating Russians when they endeavor to escape Gen. Kuroki's enveloping movement.

OPENS DOOR TO MUKDEN.
JAPANESE CAPTURE DA PASS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HEADQUARTERS RUSSIAN ARMY HUAN MOUNTAIN (Manchuria), Feb. 28.—The Japanese attack was renewed at dawn yesterday along the whole eastern front and Da Pass was taken after fighting of the most stubborn character.

An engagement simultaneously was in progress on a front extending almost twenty miles from the extreme left, eastward of Kandolesan, where the Japanese opened a heavy artillery fire, to the district of Lao Linzan, where the Japanese advanced in great force, meeting with stubborn resistance.

The capture of Da Pass opens the road to Fushun, east of Mukden, and Tie Pass, but the Russians are gathering a strong force to meet the threatened attack on their line of communications.

The Japanese attack was supported by a strong park of artillery, a reserve of seven batteries being discovered east of Kandolesan, which is yet silent.

The Japanese army now holds a line from Syaobhe opposite Dzhantan, through Shahposo, along the Shakhe River, to Vankpudzi and thence to Da Pass and Toumadzi southeastward.

PREPARED FOR THE WORST.
KUROPATKIN OUTFLANKED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28, 1:15 p.m.—The fragmentary official and press reports of the fresh reverse sustained by Gen. Kouropatkin are inadequate to draw a conclusion of the magnitude of Gen. Kuroki's success against the Russian left, but the public, as usual, is ready to believe the worst and the city is already full of reports that disaster has again overtaken the Russian army, according to which Mukden has been outflanked and is untenable and Kouropatkin is withdrawing from his strong position on the Shakhe River.

That such reports are exaggerated is beyond question; but, although reticent and seeking to minimize the operations of the last few days, the officials of the war office are plainly discouraged at the fashion in which Kuroki is able to drive in and turn the Russian extreme left, his advance columns actually crossing the Shakhe River.

It is admitted that the fighting was desperate at several passes Sunday and Monday, while the front was being involved, the purpose of Field Marshal Oyama evidently being to keep the center and right engaged and prevent Kouropatkin from sending reinforcements to head off Kuroki.

Should Kuroki cross the Hun River, the high road to Tie Pass, forty miles north of Mukden, would be open, and Kouropatkin's retreat threatened. Further news is awaited with great anxiety. Anything like a decisive victory would probably end the war.

KUROKI'S SIGNAL VICTORY.
FIGHTING AT TSINKHETCHEN
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GEN. KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS, Feb. 26, via Fusan, Feb. 28.—The Japanese yesterday (Saturday) achieved a signal victory over the forces commanded by Lieut.-Gen. Rennenkampf.

While this victory is important in itself, it is more so because of the strategic advantage gained by the Japanese.

The fighting was over a mountainous country between thirty and forty-five miles east of Yentai, which is about fifteen miles northeast of Liao Yang.

Gen. Kuroki's infantry again displayed remarkable qualities as hill fighters, and proved their superiority to the famous cavalry of the Russians.

The right of the Japanese winter position has been near Ponchi, extending toward the southeast, on the south of the Shakhe River and west of the Taitse River. In yesterday's movement a body of Japanese troops which had been advancing from Ponchi swung around toward the northeast and swept the Russians before them.

The Japanese now hold strong lines extending from southwest to northeast, and partly eastward of the Taitse River, threatening the Russian left flank.

Gen. Rennenkampf commanded a division and a half of cavalry, a division of infantry and a body of sharpshooters, with full complements of guns.

The principal engagement was northeast of Tsinkhetchen, where the Russians held strongly defended entrenchments.

The Russians left 203 dead on the field there, and lost several machine guns. Their casualties are estimated at over 2000.

FIGHTING WAS SEVERE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKIO, Feb. 28, 6 p.m—Official reports of the battle of Tsinkhetchen indicate that severe fighting occurred. The Japanese attacking force began the occupation of points on the left bank of the Taitse River February 19, but the topography of the country, the hills, the river and the heavy snow delayed the attack.

The first line attacked Tsinkhetchen at noon, February 23, assaulting fiercely. The Russians held strongly fortified positions, with obstructions protecting them, and resisted stubbornly.

The fighting continued February 23, and was resumed at dawn, February 24. At 10 o'clock in the morning the two lines closed, and attackers and defenders exchanged hand grenades.

While continuing their frontal attack the Japanese executed a flank attack, with the result that the Russians abandoned and burned the town and fled northward in confusion.

The Japanese captured three machine guns, many rifles, a quantity of ammunition, a number of maps and twenty-four prisoners.

The reports say that none of the Japanese suffered from frost bites, in spite of the intense cold.

GETTING YENS EASY FOR JAPS.

Expected That New Domestic War Loan Will be Doubly Subscribed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, March 1.—[By Asiatic Cable.] A meeting of bankers and financiers was held today for the purpose of discussing subscriptions to the new domestic loan should it be found oversubscribed when the list is opened. At the close of the meeting the associated bankers announced that they would take 60,000,00 yen, about $30,000,000 the imperial household will take 5,000,000 yen and other corporations 60,000,000 yen, about $30,000,000 yen. It is expected that the loan will be doubly subscribed. Count Okuma, addressing today's meeting, said that the Japanese domestic financial capacity is astonishing, even to its friends. He expressed the belief that the slight disturbance in financial conditions, despite enormous expenditures, was due to the fact that agriculture furnished the country's great wealth. Continuing, Count Okuma said that he believed the country could continue the war without any feeling of embarrassment.

THREW OFF A COUNT.

Wealthy Miss Howe of Pittsburgh Marries the One Who Was Her Boy Lover, Ignoring Title.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pittsburgh, many of whose wealthy woman have married titles from abroad, was agreeably shocked when it was announced that Miss Elizabeth Howe, one of the wealthiest young women of the State, was married at noon today to Frank P. Sproull, the Pittsburgh attorney who was her boy lover. Count Charles de Chini, a member of the Italian nobility and nephew of Pope Leo XIII, was thrown over by the young woman.

The Italian made a proposition to his wealthy fiancée, saying that he must have $50,000 cash in hand; she must pay all his debts and also assure him $10,000 a year for life. For all this, he would consent to bestow his title on her, and would take her to Rome, but he would not agree to "be good," as he put it, for more than two years. This lost him several million American dollars. Miss Howe refused, and the Count left in a temper.

Some time ago, Miss Howe sent the Italian word he need not come back to Pittsburgh, as she was about to wed the man she loved. In spite of this, it is hinted here tonight that de Chini landed in New York today.

LIFE ENDS ON ROPE.

"Red" Woods Up at Hazen, Nev.

Immediate Cause of Lynching Was Attempted Hold-up of Two Citizens.

Crowd Organizes and Bursts Open Doors of the Jail in Early Morning.

Desperado Engaged in Crimes at Other Places—Search for Companion.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 28.—William Woods, sometimes known as "Red" Woods, with a companion, attempted to hold up D. A. Wise and James Wallace near the passenger depot last night. Agent Ferguson heard the calls for help from the victims, and, rushing out, scared off the highwaymen, who took flight. Ferguson sent five shots after them, and succeeded in bringing Woods to a halt. The prisoner was taken to the town jail, a wooden structure.

Woods's arrest caused the people of the town to arise in arms, and as the night advanced their anger became uncontrollable. Deputy Sheriff Allen cautioned coiness, but his entreaties were in vain. It was after 2 o'clock when the crowd, by this time thoroughly organized, marched to the jail. An axe and a sledge hammer were used in bursting open the door, and soon Woods, trembling with fear, was dragged from the jail.

No formalities were gone through by the crowd. He was led and carried to the nearest telegraph pole. A rope was thrown over the cross arm, and in a moment the fellow was swung into the air. The free end of the rope was then fastened, the mob dispersed, and it was after 9 o'clock this morning before the people found the body.

A Coroner's jury was summoned, a verdict of death by hanging by unknown parties returned, and by noon the body was interred in the Hazen Cemetery.

Woods was a desperate character. He was in trouble several times in Reno, and went to Derby, engaging in the saloon business. He was driven from there and went to Fallon, where he also got orders to leave. From Fallon he went to Hazen, and his arrival was the signal for a number of burglaries and highway robberies. The people have been aroused for several days, and the lynching was not unexpected. Officers are now searching for Woods's companion. He escaped to the desert.

GEN. BROOKE OVERRULED.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—In a suit brought by Maria Francisca O'Reilly, Countess of Buena Vista, Cuba, against Maj.-Gen. John R. Brooke, U.S.A., for $250,000 damages for having, while Governor-General of Cuba, deprived her of the hereditary right to slaughter all cattle for the city of Havana, Judge Holt, in the United States District Court, yesterday overruled a demurrer filed by Charles W. Russell, as special assistant attorney-general representing Gen. Brooke. Judge Holt refused to rule that Gen. Brooke was not personally liable.

LAST PHASE OF THE SPOTS.

Prof. Fox Announces That Country Will be Treated to an Aurora Borealis.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If the deductions of President Philip Fox of the Yerkes Observatory are correct, this country will be treated March 3 to an aurora borealis. This, he says, is the last phase of the sunspots that occasioned excitement last month. The sunspots have reappeared, and although smaller individually than before, are said to be much more active and cover a larger area of the sun's surface. Last month they were plainly visible, and were in only two groups. This month they are scattered, and seem to be of a "nervous" character, as though they were seeking a common center.

Prof. Fox differs from Prof. Brashear in part, saying that, in his opinion, there will be no atmospheric changes of note, but that the sunspots, coöperating with other favorable conditions existing, will produce one of the finest displays of "northern lights" seen in years.

Huge Stenographers' Bills in Judicial Inquiries.

Ralston's Anti-prize-fight Bill Knocked Out.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—Assemblyman Goodrich's concurrent resolution providing for a convention for the purpose of revising the State Constitution was defeated after a sharp debate in the house this morning. Mr. Goodrich urged that the complexity of the present constitution demanded a convention, for the purpose not only of simplifying the Constitution, but also of defining its uses. He said that the present Constitution was like a collection of laws.

McCartney and Weyand, chairmen respectively of the investigating committees which had charge of the impeachment proceedings against Judge Lucas F. Smith of Santa Cruz and Judge E. S. Torrance of San Diego, both presented resolutions this afternoon calling for payment of stenographers' bills.

The stenographers' bills of the Smith investigation committee for four days' service ask for $1025. This includes inscribing a large amount of testimony. The stenographer of the other committee presents a bill of $1350, making a total of 2375 for stenographers' services alone, in these two investigations. Added to this is an aggregate of $215 for mileage and incidental expenses, making in all $4470 spent in these two investigations, with no report in sight from either committee as regards their conclusions relating to the innocence or guilt of the two Superior judges.

On measures affecting their own locality, the Los Angeles delegation has to be lamentably at odds. Two days ago, the Assembly voted to allow the committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures to junket to Los Angeles and examine the harbor at San Pedro. The trivial reason given by the chairman of this committee, Vogel of San Francisco, for the proposed, reckless use of the State's money was that the committee in question had under consideration a bill providing for the appointment of a board of harbor commissioners for San Pedro. This bill is a curious instance of the utter contempt in which other members of the Assembly hold certain members of the Los Angeles delegation.

HARTMAN'S CREATION.

The bill was introduced by Hartman of San Francisco. It affects primarily Los Angeles county in that the expense of maintaining the commission, some seven hundred dollars a year, will have to be paid by the Los Angeles county supervisors. Hartman introduced this, he says, at the behest of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, represented by Frank Wiggins. Why the bill was not handed over to any member of the Los Angeles delegation in question which none of them have been able to answer. Hartman's action in introducing the bill without consultation with the Los Angeles members is an act of discourtesy which has no justification, except that he and his colleagues wish to cast tacit contumacy upon the Los Angeles members.

Another rift developed in the Los Angeles delegation over this junketing proposition. Houser, who has bitterly opposed it, voted against it and succeeded in inducing Wickersham to change his vote in time to enter a motion of reconsideration. Later, Wickersham was won over by the persuasive techniques of the junketing committees and withdrew his notice of reconsideration. Houser told Wickersham what he thought of this traitorous action in very pointed terms. There will be no reconsideration now of the proposed junket. The committee on Commissions and Public Expenditures will take the Los Angeles visit this week. This makes a grand total of five junketing committees which have fared well the City of Los Angeles and vicinity with legislative inquiry during the present session. As a matter of fact, most of the gentlemen on the committee have already visited Los Angeles at the taxpayers' expense. They are fully apprised of the merits, or rather lack of merits, of Hartman's bill asking for board of harbor commissioners for San Pedro.

All measures of this kind, resolutions to expend large sums of the State's money on mileage, Stanton and Preston invariably stand in. It is only when Stanton wants to crowd through measures of his own that he pleads economy and holds back or cuts down appropriation bills until he has reduced the author thereof to the proper stage of obsequiency.

THE LEGISLATURE.

THIRTY-SIXTH SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—SENATE—After a debate which occupied several hours and prolonged the morning session until 1 o'clock this afternoon, the upper house refused to adopt the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the financial system at the state university and incidentally to look into the defalcation of ex-Secretary McKowen. Before considering the report in its entirety, the Senate struck out the recommendation to hold the regents responsible for the theft of $28,78 by McKowen. Senator Lukens asked to be excused from voting, but he was compelled to cast his ballot after objection had been made by Senator Carter. Curtain's amendment relieving the regents from moral and financial responsibility for McKowen's defalcation was adopted, by a vote of 24 to 7. Lukens gave notice of reconsideration. The motion to adopt the report was lost by a vote of 14 noes to 12 ayes. Lukens then gave notice that he would make a motion to reconsider the vote on the report.

The attention of the Senate was devoted this afternoon to the consideration of the bill framed by the Senate committee on Fish and Game relating to the protection and preservation of game. The first skirmish occurred when an amendment was offered by Senator Wolfe providing that a game dealer may purchase as many ducks as he likes providing that no more than three ducks are purchased from one person on a single day. Senator Shortridge spent considerable time in debating against the adoption of the amendment. By a vote of 21 to 5, Wolfe's amendment was defeated.

ASSEMBLY—Senator Digg's bill appropriating $150,000 for a farm to be conducted by the State university was passed this afternoon. The measure has now been sent to the Governor.

Bills were passed as follows: By Burke, fixing the hour at which birds of flight may be shot at 6 o'clock a.m. to 6 o'clock p.m.; by Cromwell, making it a misdemeanor not to obey the regulations of the State Board of Health; by Wolfe, allowing the State Board of Harbor Commissioners to insure certain property.

ANTI-PRIZE FIGHT BILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Senator Ralston's anti-prize fight bill was defeated in the Senate by a vote of 18 to 10. The debate was limited to three minutes for each member, after a protest from Shortridge against gag law.

Shortridge said the bill was pernicious, inasmuch as it limited the personal liberty of the citizens. He said further that representative citizens of San Francisco could be found at the ringside at the Corbett-Nelson contest.

Senator Wolfe made an attack on the measure because it provided for amateur contests where the untrained and physically unfit were allowed to pummel one another to their permanent disablement in many cases.

Ralston advocated his measure by referring to the numbers of fake fights that take place and also for the undesirable citizens that are developed in a prize-ring environment. He said that the youth of the State need the suppression of the prize ring if it would develop to its fullest possibility. The Senator gave notice of reconsideration.

Senator Hahn's bill providing for the establishment of a highway from San Francisco to San Diego passed the Senate. It carries an appropriation of $15,000.

By a vote of 27 to 5, the bill to reapportion the school funds of the State on the basis of teachers employed, instead of average attendance of children, passed the Senate after a sharp debate between members of the San Francisco delegation.

Senator Wolfe said that the bill would rob San Francisco schools of $200,000 per year. He said that the San Francisco delegation had lost two votes by the recent expulsions and that one member of the delegation, Bauer, would undoubtedly vote against the city he was supposed to represent. Mr. Bauer jumped to his feet to defend his position. He said that if San Francisco had been getting more than its share of the school fund it was time a change should come.

MANY BILLS PASSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—The Assembly tonight passed the following bills:

By Goodrich—Amending the Penal Code relating to minor children and their care by parents.

By McCartney—Adding a new section to the Penal Code relating to the authorized taking for temporary use or occupation of automobiles, bicycles, autocycles or other vehicles.

By Waste—Amending the Political Code relating to granting licenses to persons for the purpose of procuring policies of insurance from persons not authorized to transact insurance business.

By McKinney—Repealing the present law prohibiting cutting stone for curbings, bridges, etc., by convicts at Folsom and other California penal institutions.

By McKenney—Amending the Penal Code relating to regulation of sale of convict-made articles.

By O'Brien—Appropriating $3000 for the purpose of improving the grounds and repairing the buildings at Sutter Fort, Sacramento.

A concurrent resolution was passed in the Assembly today fixing the date of the adjournment of the Legislature at noon, March 18. Various other dates were proposed, running from March 4 to March 14, but the recommendation of the Ways and Means Committee was finally adopted.

GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—The General Appropriation Bill, as passed by the Assembly, was amended in several particulars by the Senate today. While several items were entirely omitted from the measure, a total increase of $41,815 was added to the $7,350,287 decided on by the House.

Among the appropriations cut from the bill were $26,000 for the maintenance of the Yosemite Valley, and $11,500 for printing the Blue Book. The amount allowed the National Guard was raised from $175,000 to $180,000. Two new items added for the Senate Agricultural Society were $30,000 for statistical work and $6000 for printing. Provision was made for the return of the Code Comsion, and $10,850 was set aside for this purpose. The fund for the maintenance of the State prison at Folsom was increased $20,000.

Senator Leeke's bill, appropriating $65,000 for building and equipping a wing to the Southern California State Hospital, was passed by the upper house tonight.

BUNKERS IN JAIL.

DESERTED BY BONDSMEN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—Ex-Senator Harry Bunkers, deserted for the time being by his bondsmen, passed the night under lock and key in one of the steel tanks of the County Jail. Yesterday he was nominally surrendered by his bondsmen to allow his attorney to take his case before the Supreme Court on habeas corpus proceedings, and as his bondsmen, Moffitt and Kelley, of Alameda, were not in the city to go on new bonds, Sheriff Reese took no chances, but locked him up. He was allowed to go out for his meals today, in care of a deputy Sheriff, but will be retained in custody until new bonds are given.

Up to a late hour this afternoon ex-Senator Emmons was still ignorant of his expulsion from the Legislature. Mrs. Emmons is the only person allowed by the physicians to visit him, and is carefully concealing the news of the Senate's action. The ex-Senator is resting easily, and his recovery now seems certain.

The grand jury of Sacramento county is in session today, and judging by the witnesses who are being examined, the case of Martin Kelly is on the tapis. Miss Alice Kelly, Stenographer Vaughn and George Peckham were before this body this morning, and Martin Kelly in person is waiting for examination.

REGAINS HIS LIBERTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 28.—After spending nearly thirty-six hours in the County Jail while his attorneys were scouring the city and State for bondsmen, Harry Bunkers, recently thrown out of the Senate for accepting a bribe, was released at 8:25 o'clock tonight. At that hour John O. Scroggs, formerly State Gardener, appeared and qualified in the sum of $2500, and Bunkers walked out a free man. Bunkers's bondsmen are Joseph Kelly, Oakland, $2000, and H. C. Johnson and John C. Scroggs, both of Sacramento, each $2500.

WOOD FLARES UP.

Steel Millionaire Says He Had a Perfect Right to Marry Goldie Mehr, the Chorus Girl.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alan Wood, the steel millionaire, and wife, formerly Goldie Mohr, a chorus girl, expressed themselves forcibly today regarding the attitude of Wood's children, who threaten to annul the marriage and have a trust created out of Wood's estate, because, it is alleged, there is a similarity between Wood's marriage and that of Brodie Duke. Relatives of Duke separated him from his bride and placed him in a sanitarium because it was said that his marriage was the culmination of a protracted "drunk" in company with the woman he wedded.

Wood today said: "Do I look like Duke? I think I'm a pretty keen business man. I'm over 40, but I'm too good to be chloroformed. I am independently wealthy. I have provided well for my children, and I had a perfect right to remarry. You can go back and look in the ice chest. You won't find it stocked with wine bottles. You can hunt the place high and low, and you won't find any Brodie Duke symptoms."

Mrs. Wood's indignation appeared to be stirred greatly by the statement she had been a "show girl."

"The idea," she said, "I'm not big enough to be a 'show girl.'" And she isn't. The former Goldie Mohr is slender and petite.

OLIVER'S SECRET LOVE.

"Captain of Industry" Shown After Death to be Father of an Erstwhile Stenographer's Child.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World publishes an extended account of the secret love affair of Henry W. Oliver, who died at Pittsburgh, February 7, 1904, leaving an estate of $40,000,000. Oliver, at the time of his death, was the foremost political figure in Pennsylvania, being slated for the Republican leadership made vacant by the death of Senator Quay. In a business way, Oliver was one of the great "captains of industry," ranking with Carnegie, Frick and Schwab.

The woman in the case is Mrs. Margaret L. Kingsley, or Mrs. A. C. Carpenter, as she sometimes is called, who, twelve years ago, was a stenographer at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. While he was a guest at the hotel, Oliver became infatuated with her. After that she abandoned stenography, and lived luxuriously on the allowance of $5000 a month made by Oliver. One child, Charlotte, 8 years old at present, was born to the woman, and she says Oliver was the father. The child was the mother's weapon in the attack on the Oliver estate. The woman demanded $6,000,000, but settled for $400,000. Of this sum, $100,000 was applied in payment of the woman's debts and $300,000 is invested in a trust fund for the child, although the mother has the benefit of the trust fund income during her life.

Mrs. Kingsley-Carpenter's claim never reached the courts. It was never whispered outside the inner circle formed by the Oliver executors and lawyers. It is certain that Oliver's widow and her daughter, Mrs. Henry P. Rea, were not taken into the secret. The final decision of the executors was to compromise.

PRODDED BY JEROME.

Gamblers of New York Selling Out Their Property—Policy King Adams Sells Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That it has been the fashion for gamblers to sell their real estate under the persistent prodding of District Attorney Jerome is now quite apparent. Richard A. Canfield has just disposed of one of his properties, No. 8 West Forty-seventh street, a four-story house. The buyer is Mrs. Elsie S. Chalmers, who will use it as a tailoring establishment.

Tomorrow is the day set for the auction sale of some thirty parcels owned by "Al" Adams, the "Policy King," who has also suffered at hands of Jerome.

DEATH OF WHITNEY.

Former Partner of Lincoln and a Prominent Figure in Notorious Rawson Divorce Suit Expires.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Telegrams received today from Salem, Mass., announce the death of Henry O. Whitney, for many years one of Chicago's leading lawyers and citizens. Whitney was 74 years of age. He was connected with Abraham Lincoln in the practice of law at Springfield. He left Chicago in 1889, shortly after he was shot, during the bitter Rawson divorce suit.

The divorce suit of Stephen W. and Lucretia Rawson led to two shootings. Mrs. Rawson shot Whitney in Judge Jamison's court, and Ralph Lee, Mrs. Rawson's son, shot Rawson as the aged man was leaving church.

Mrs. Lee, a member of a famous southern family, came to Chicago in 1883 and later married Banker Rawson. They quarreled on a honeymoon trip and divorce proceedings were instituting, Banker Rawson fighting the alimony clause. Whitney threatened to expose Mrs. Rawson's alleged "past," and while he was waiting in Judge Jamison's courtroom for divorce proceedings to open she shot him three times. She was acquitted.

The conferees on the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation Bill have reached a final agreement. The House accepted the Senate amendment appointing a United States Minister at Morocco at a salary of $7500.

FIRE ON THE OREGON.

FIFTY-SIX PASSENGERS RESCUED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CRESCENT CITY, Feb. 28.—The steamer Oregon, with a burning cargo, left here today for Eureka, where she will be beached. The Oregon was accompanied from Crescent City by the steamer Del Norte, Capt. Payne, and every effort will be made to reach Eureka. The Oregon has a heavy list and is drawing about twenty feet of water. This will make it difficult to take her over the Humboldt bar. It is thought her cargo of general merchandise will be a total loss.

Fire broke out in the cargo of the steamer yesterday evening, when she was north of Crescent City, on her voyage from San Francisco to Portland. There were fifty-six passengers on board, besides the crew.

According to a statement made today by G. A. De Fries, a Portland photographer, who was a cabin passenger, the Oregon, in command of Capt. Fred Warner, was off Point St. George, a few miles north of Crescent City, when fire was discovered in her after lower deck. Signals of distress were at once made, and these brought the collier Meteor promptly alongside.

The first thing considered by Capt. Warner was the comfort, as well as the safety, of his passengers, and all of the fifty-six were at once transferred to the Meteor. The Oregon was then turned back in her course and headed for Crescent City, where it was determined to beach her in the event of extreme necessity.

Nearing Crescent City, the steamer Del Norte was attracted by the signals of distress that were still flying. The Del Norte was at once headed toward

FIRE ON THE OREGON.

FIFTY-SIX PASSENGERS RESCUED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CRESCENT CITY, Feb. 28.—The steamer Oregon, with a burning cargo, left here today for Eureka, where she will be beached. The Oregon was accompanied from Crescent City by the steamer Del Norte, Capt. Payne, and every effort will be made to reach Eureka. The Oregon has a heavy list and is drawing about twenty feet of water. This will make it difficult to take her over the Humboldt bar. It is thought her cargo of general merchandise will be a total loss.

Fire broke out in the cargo of the steamer yesterday evening, when she was north of Crescent City, on her voyage from San Francisco to Portland. There were fifty-six passengers on board, besides the crew.

According to a statement made today by G. A. De Fries, a Portland photographer, who was a cabin passenger, the Oregon, in command of Capt. Fred Warner, was off Point St. George, a few miles north of Crescent City, when fire was discovered in her after lower deck. Signals of distress were at once made, and these brought the collier Meteor promptly alongside.

The first thing considered by Capt. Warner was the comfort, as well as the safety, of his passengers, and all of the fifty-six were at once transferred to the Meteor. The Oregon was then turned back in her course and headed for Crescent City, where it was determined to beach her in the event of extreme necessity.

Nearing Crescent City, the steamer Del Norte was attracted by the signals of distress that were still flying. The Del Norte was at once headed toward the Oregon, and within a few minutes the passengers made another transfer, this time to the Del Norte. The passengers were shown great hospitality by Capt. Payne and his men while en route to the Crescent City docks, where they were landed.

Shortly after the burning steamer and the Del Norte shot out of Crescent City Harbor, Capt. Warner believing he could make Eureka in time to beach his vessel. Smoke was coming out of the Oregon in clouds, however, and it was deemed very doubtful by those who saw her that she would ever reach the more southerly port. Capt. Warner and his crew were fighting the flames in heroic fashion.

Her passengers were taken to a Crescent City hotel, where they were all accommodated, and it was stated by the steamship company's officers in San Francisco today that all would be taken to Astoria, or Portland, by the steamer Alliance.

SANTA FE IN DEAL?

DUTCH LINE STEAMERS SOLD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKTON, Feb. 28.—The Union Transportation line of steamboats and the company's business has been sold to the California Transportation Company known in trade circles on the rivers as the "Dutch Company," and heretofore operating on the Sacramento River. The Union company's boats are the Capt. Weber and the Columbia, which have been running for many years between Stockton and San Francisco, in opposition to the boats of the old line, the California Navigation and Improvement Company. The late James Gillis owned most of the stock of the Union company and his heirs have made the sale to the "Dutch Company."

There is a belief in transportation circles that the Santa Fé is interested in the deal for fruit business, but the purchaser is the "Dutch company," and their plans are to enter into the San Joaquin trade.

In it and the affidavits of Sergeants Cook, Coogan and Sylvester, accompanying it, the prevalence of gambling in Chinatown is declared.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

The Gila bridge was intact at last report, a train arriving this morning late and leaving this evening. Santa Fé trains are held for daylight runs on account of the soft roadbed, hence mails are somewhat delayed. The rivers are all booming.

The two men were overpowered and taken to the county jail.

RAILROAD MATTERS IN KANSAS HOUSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Feb. 28.—The Anti-Discrimination Bill was a special order in the House today, but was not reached on account of time being taken up with a discussion of the primary election law. It will probably be reached tomorrow. There is a growing conviction that the Anti-Discrimination Bill may now be passed by the House. A week ago, the House leaders refused to assure passage of the measure, because the Senate would not accept the House's Railroad Bill.

A conference committee has been considering the Railroad Bill, and has adjusted most of the points of difference. Leading legislators have said of it that there is enough legislation already. On the other hand, the friends of the Anti-Discrimination Bill urge that a failure to pass it would be a hard blow for the State refinery to overcome.

The House adopted a resolution today providing for an investigation of the binding-twine combine, and the Senate decided to look into the workings of the insurance companies doing business in this State. It is alleged that the companies have made a combine in violation of the State Anti-Trust Law.

STANDARD OIL PIPE LINE.

INJUNCTION IN IOWA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BURLINGTON (Ia.) Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An injunction was served today on workmen near Fort Madison, Ia., who were engaged in extending the Standard Oil's pipe line from Chicago into Kansas along the right-of-way of the Santa Fé Railroad. The State authorities hold that the charter of the Santa Fé Railroad, as granted, allows the use of right-of-way solely for railroad purposes, and the laying of a pipe line within the right-of-way is contrary to law.

The work of laying the pipe line has been conducted quietly, and it was hoped that the entire distance would be covered without interference. Illinois was crossed in safety, but Iowa has blocked the work.

LAWS NOT SEVERE ENOUGH.

CZAR APPROVES A REVISION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—Count Alexis Ignatieff, a member of the Council of the Empire, has been appointed president of the special conference for the revision of the exceptional laws designed for safeguarding public order.

The committee of ministers has come to the conclusion that the Jewish restrictive laws, the methods of dealing with political agitators and similar special measures do not effect the desired result. Therefore, with the approval of the Emperor, a revision has been decided upon.

JEWISH STRIKERS PARADE.

MUCH TROUBLE IN WARSAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WARSAW, Feb. 28, 4 p.m.—The Jewish store clerks who struck work are now parading the Jewish quarter, forcibly compelling the merchants who have not yielded to the strikers' demands to close their shops.

All the bank clerks of Warsaw and Lodz will strike tomorrow unless they are accorded higher wages and shorter hours.

A large number of arrests were made today of strike leaders who tried to inaugurate a general police strike.

It was officially announced today that anyone hereafter attacking the police will be tried by drum-head court-martial.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Vistula Railroad today it was decided to grant most of the strikers' demands. It is hoped that train service will be resumed later in the day.

GORKY'S EXILE BEGINS.

AUTHOR LEAVES FOR RIGA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—Maxim Gorky, who was released from the fortress yesterday on $2500 bail, was banished late last night to Riga, after he had been informed of the decision of Governor-General Trepoff that he could not reside in St. Petersburg. The authorities conveyed him to the railroad station. In the meantime Mme. Gorky had been informed of the author's release and went to the railroad station to bid him farewell. The author told his friends who gathered at the railway station that he wanted to go to the Crimea, but the government refused his request. Mme. Gorky, with her young son, will join him immediately.

FAILURE OF BROKERS.

CHARGED TO STANDARD OIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the filing in court today of the assets and liabilities of the Ellingwood & Cunningham Co., comes the report that the real cause of their failure was the hostility of the Standard Oil Company.

It is reported in Wall street that, some time ago, these brokers, through their Boston house, issued a statement that reflected on the Rockefeller crowd. Umbrage was taken at once, and Ellingwood & Cunningham were told to look out for "breakers." Little attention was paid at first to this warning, but a few days later, it is declared, the National City Bank called in, without warning, a big call loan that left the brokers in bad shape. The loss of money is said to have so effectually crippled them that they were forced to assign.

FIGHT ICE TO GET AT ICE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—For the first time in many years the Hudson River is so tightly icebound that powerful tugs are unable to force their way up to Rockland Lake, where are located the great ice houses which supply the city. All other measures failing, the company owning the storehouses, has a large gang of men engaged in the stupendous task of cutting a channel through the ice from off Hastings, which now marks the head of navigation, to Rockland Lake, a distance of over ten miles. The channel is being made 100 feet wide through ice two feet and more thick. Tugs steam up and down the channel night and day to keep it from freezing over again. Two hundred men are at work and it is expected that the channel will be cut to Rockland at the end of the week. The men are aided in their work by a tug designed for ice breaking.

POLICE GUARDED WEDDING.

Despite the receipt of threatening letters and promises of sensational episodes, Mary Louise Blair, daughter of Sidney O. Blair, was married last evening to Russell Ely Burke of New York, in the presence of hundreds of guests at the family residence, No. 4319 Drexel boulevard. Bishop Cheney officiated. While there was no incident to mar the occasion, unusual police protection was maintained, officers being stationed both within and outside the house. It is said that the letters demanded $5000 under threats of dynamiting the Blair residence or revealing a scandal which might interfere with the wedding.

DISSENSION IN ZION.

Dissension is spreading in Zion City. As the result of differences with Dowie, Deacon Charles J. Barnard, financial manager and next in power to Dowie in the Christian Catholic Church, has resigned and taken his departure from the city. It is reported that Barnard, using his power of attorney, mortgaged the lake front at Zion recently for $100,000 without getting the consent of Dowie. When Dowie heard of it he was angered, and a stormy series of telegrams are said to have resulted in Barnard's dismissal.

HEAVY BEAM BROKE UNDER THE MOURNERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIA TED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A searching investigation was begun today by the county and borough authorities of Brooklyn to ascertain the cause of the collapse of the floor of the Fleet-street African Methodist Episcopal Church of Zion, last night, when ten persons were killed and upwards of fifty injured. It was ascertained today that the cause of the collapse was the breaking of a heavy beam supporting the floor and running lengthwise of the church, near the south wall. Under the weight of the great number of people gathered above, it snapped squarely in two midway between the front and rear of the church.

Coroner Flaherty of Brooklyn today began his investigation, and soon afterward declared that the disaster was due to gross negligence on the part of someone, and asserted that it is his intention to fix the blame upon those guilty.

Three hundred persons were crowded into the pews and aisles of the church last evening to attend the funeral of Sydney Painter, when a section of the floor about forty feet square fell into the basement ten feet below, which was used as a Sunday-school room. Into that hole the throng of people fell until they filled it to the level of the floor ten feet above. Those underneath were crushed to death by the weight of those above. Eight of those killed were colored women, and a similar large proportion of the injured were women. Those who were not either killed or badly injured became panic stricken, and a terrible scene ensued when the building was plunged into darkness. Two hundred of the funeral party, members of the colored Order of Elks, who were assembled in the basement below the main floor of the church, were not under that portion of the floor which fell, and so escaped injury.

Of the injured, there are ten in the hospitals suffering from fractured limbs, broken bones and contusions, but none of them is believed to be fatally injured. The greater portion of the number of injured were removed to their homes, and their injuries are of a minor character. Death in nearly every case was due to suffocation.

MORGAN BUYS HOLMES M.S.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The original of Oliver Wendell Holmes's "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" has been purchased by J. P. Morgan for $4000. The manuscript is in good condition and is to be placed among the most valuable in American literature. It was preserved by the publisher of the magazine in which papers first appeared. On the publisher's death, several pages were found to be missing, but Mr. Holmes rewrote them, and they cannot be distinguished from the rest. The manuscript contains about three hundred closely-written quarto-pages and interludes the poems "The Wonderful One-horse Shay," "The Chambered Nautilus," "Parson Turrell's Legacy" and "The Living Temple."

ICE GORGE'S DOINGS.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—When the ice gorge in the Mississippi River went out, it completely demolished the new $250,000 government dyke and a $100,000 water protection in East St. Louis, Ill.

C. Michaelson and J. M. Schoening, respectively Norwegian Minister of Finance and Councilor of State, have tendered their resignations.

A Grand Water Supply

"As Permanent as the Very Hills Themselves"

Wm. Mulholland, Los Angeles City Water Superintendent, says regarding the water supply in Montebello: "In fact, it may be stated with the utmost positiveness that the water supply there is as permanent as the very hills themselves."

Mr. Mulholland himself is the owner of 53 acres in Montebello, which is the largest acreage held by any one man, which indicates that he is not afraid to back his opinion on water with coin.

Ample water rights go with each acre sold. The water in Montebello is cheaper than it can be obtained from the gravity ditches in most irrigating districts, and the Montebello water is piped in front of every lot.

7 acres of cucumbers sold for $1400.

15 acres of Montebello popcorn sold at a profit of $900.

3½ acres of Montebello strawberries yielded $2500.

2 acres of Montebello dewberries yielded a profit of $500 per acre.

Montebello is the ideal location for a home. It is the ideal soil for fruit culture and vegetable gardens. Climatically, the conditions are perfect, being very similar in climate to Hollywood.

Montebello is now dotted with cosy, prosperous homes, and it is only a question of a very short time when every acre of ground in this vicinity will be worth $1000.

The terms are one-fourth cash, balance in one, two, three and four years at 6 per cent. interest. INCREASE PAY OF PRESIDENT.

Sentiment in the House Favorable Thereto.

Present Chief Executive Not Likely to Get It.

Kearns on Mormons—No Constructive Recess.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unless the measure is framed and adopted very quickly—before Saturday, in fact—President Roosevelt will be barred from the benefits of increased salary. Representative Fitzgerald of New York has an amendment which he proposes to offer when the General Deficiency Bill comes up, probably tomorrow, which provides that the pay of the President be increased to $100,000.

As there is a very general feeling in the House in favor of a more liberal salary for the Chief Executive, it is not at all improbable that the amendment will be adopted. Inquiries at both ends of the Capitol today brought out the fact that the sentiment among the Democrats and Republicans is that the President is underpaid.

No objection has been heard to giving him an increase, and some time this will be done. It is possible that the time may arrive before March 4.

NO CONSTRUCTIVE RECESS.

DECISION AFFECTS NOMINATIONS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON Feb. 28.—The Senate Committee on Judiciary today, by adopting the views of Senator Spooner, concerning recess nominations and what constitutes a recess of the Senate, has declared that there can be no constructive recess. The decision, if it, were given any legal standing by action of the Senate would affect the nominations of Gen. Leonard Wood, Dr. W. D. Crum, Collector of the Port of Charleston, S. C., and 166 other nominations sent to the Senate in the intinitesimal peroid between the adjournment of the special session, convened November 9, 1903, and the convening of the regular session, December 9, the two sessions having merged.

All the nominations were sent to the Senate and confirmed, but the officers drew salaries for the time. The Senate committee now decides they were not serving under authority of the law.

CABINET CONSIDERATION.

CANAL SUPPLIES DISCUSSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Emergency contracts for supplies made by the Panama Canal Commission without legal advertising for bids formed one of the topics of discussion at today's meeting of the Cabinet. Secretary Taft explained that two weeks or more ago he had sent to the commission for all emergency contracts that had been made. He had gone over most of them with some care, and was inclined to the opinion that, in such as he had examined, the commission had acted wisely. Some of the purchases, perhaps, were open to unfavorable criticism, but it was remarkable, he thought, in view of the necessity for haste in procuring many of the supplies, particularly medical supplies, that criticism should lie against the contracts made. He had not completed his examination yet, but at its conclusion he will bring the matter again to the attention of the Cabinet.

Arrangements for the inaugural ceremony were discussed informally but no conclusions beyond a few of a nature personal to the President and to the members of the Cabinet were reached.

Attorney-General Moody said that Judge Charles Swayne, acquitted yesterday by the Senate on the impeachment charges, had requested and had been granted a leave of absence for two months. Judge Swayne expects in that time to undergo a surgical operation.

FREE TRADE WITH FILIPINOS.

HOUSE COMMITTEE'S DECISION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Chairman Payne of the House Ways and Means Committee has filed a report favoring the passage of the Curtis bill, providing for the free entry of products from the Philippine Islands, except sugar and tobacco, on which 25 per cent. of the Dingley tariff is to be collected.

The report declares that the only logical result of our possession of the islands is free trade. It has been definitely settled, it says, that we will retain the islands until their population is fitted for self-government and he repeats Secretary Taft's suggestion that this will be at least one generation. Until the treaty stipulation between the United States and Spain shall expire in 1909, all tariff advantages given by the islands to us must be given to Spain and for this reason reciprocity free trade is not feasible. The present bill, says the report, goes as far as is practicable, under these conditions and it is believed no American industry will suffer by its enactment.

Representative Williams, the House minority leader, offered a minority report signed by himself and Representatives Henson of Virginia, Cooper of Texas, Clark of Missouri and Cockran of New York favoring the Williams bill providing free entry of Philippine goods wholly the growth or product of those islands.

THE CONGRESS.

CLOSING SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—SENATE—Immediately after the Senate convened at 11 o'clock today, Mr. Kean, from the Committee on Interstate Commerce, reported a resolution authorizing that committee to conduct an inquiry into railroad rates during the approaching Congressional recess, and it was referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses.

The House joint resolution, authorizing the President to convey the thanks of the United States to foreign governments participating in the St. Louis Exposition was agreed to.

Mr. Allison presented the conference report on the District of Columbia Appropriation Bill, and it was agreed to. He stated that the House had yielded to the Senate on the price fixed for a municipal building in Washington, which is $2,500,000.

A joint resolution presented by Mr. Fulton accepting the invitation of the management of the Lewis and Clarke Exposition, to be held next summer at Portland, Or., was adopted. It provides for the appointment of a committee of ten Senators and fifteen members of the House of Representatives to represent Congress on that occasion.

The chair brought to the attention of the Senate a communication from ex-Senator Thurston and Higgins, attorneys for Judge Swayne in the recent impeachment trial, making request for a sufficient allowance to the judge to pay the expenses of the trial, including counsel fees. The communication was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The anti-polygamy resolution introduced by Mr. Dubois was then laid before the Senate and Mr. Kearns addressed the Senate. He said that he could not permit the occasion to pass without saying what it seemed should be said by a Senator under such conditions, before leaving public life. He then reviewed the history of Utah, and recited the conditions under which Statehood was granted.

"The pledges given by the people of Utah," said the Senator, "I believe consisted of the following propositions: That the Mormon leaders would live within the laws pertaining to plural marriages and the continued plural marriage relation, and that they would enforce this obligation upon all of their followers, under penalty of disfellowship; that the leaders of the Mormon church would no longer exercise political sway, and that their followers would be free and would exercise their freedom in politics, in business and in social affairs."

Continuing, he said: "Utah secured her Statehood by a solemn compact made by the Mormon leaders in behalf of themselves and their people. That compact has been broken, willfully and frequently. No apostle of the Mormon church has publicly protested against that violation.

"I know the gravity of the utterances that I have just made. I know what are the probable consequences to myself. But, I have pondered long and earnestly upon this subject, and have come to the conclusion that duty to the innocent people of my State and obligation to the Senate and the country require that I shall clearly define my attitude."

Mr. Kearns said the question of religion is not involved, and he passed from that question to the social aspect with brief comment. The social autocracy, he said, at present is at as high a point as it has ever reached. He described the surroundings and the powers of President Smith, who, he said, affects a regal state and has established himself with the dignity of a monarch.

"In all the social system," said Mr. Kearns, "each apostle has his great part. He is inseparable from it. He wields now such part of the power as the monarch may permit him to enjoy, and it is his hope and expectation that he will outlive those who were his seniors in rank, in order that he may become their ruler."

Taking up the business policy of the church, Mr. Kearns charged that it amounts to a monopoly. He recited the holdings of President Smith, by virtue of his office as well as his private holdings, and said that when he became president he boasted of his poverty, while he now "is in receipt of an income like unto that which a royal family derives from a national treasury. One-tenth of all the annual earnings of all the Mormons in all the world flows to him. These funds amount to $1,500,000 annually."

Continuing, Mr. Kearns said: "Parties are nothing to these leaders, except as parties may be used by them. So long as this is a Republican administration and Congress they will lead their followers to support Republican tickets, but if by any chance the Democratic party should control this government, with a prospect of continuance in power, you would see a gradual veering around under the direction of the Mormon leaders. No man can be elected to either house of Congress against their wish."

Mr. Kearns charged that every apostle of the church is in a large part responsible for this condition, and that it is quite evident the church monarchy is trying to reestablish the rule of the polygamous class over the mass of the Mormon people. He charged that not more than three or four of the quorum of apostles have refrained from practicing polygamy, and that "special reasons may exist in some particular case why a man in this class has not entered into such relation."

The deductions of Mr. Kearns concerning the church "monarchy" were that it "pledged the country that there would be no more violations of law and no more defiance to the sentiment of the United States regarding polygamy and the plural marriage relation; it pledged the United States that it would refrain from controlling its subjects further in secular affairs. This pledge had been violated by the church, Mr. Kearns said.

Speaking of the tithing system, Mr. Kearns said that no account was made of this vast sum of one-tenth of all the incomes of the Mormons, and that the president of the church expended it according to his own will. He said the hopelessness of contending in a business way with this autocrat was perfectly apparent, and continued:

"It will astound you to know that every dollar of United States money paid to any servant of the government who is a Mormon is a tithe for the benefit of this monarch. Out of every $1000 thus paid, he gets $100 to swell his grandeur. This is also true of money paid out of the public treasury of the State of Utah to Mormon officials.

"But what is worst of all, the monarch dips into sacred public-school funds and extracts from every Mormon teacher one-tenth of his or her earnings, and uses it for his unaccounted purposes; and by means of these purposes and the power which they constitute, he denies the laws of his State, the sentiment of his country, and is waging a war of nullification on the public-school system so dear to the American people."

The Indian Appropriation Bill was laid before the Senate and the committee amendment relating to sectarian schools was considered. Mr. Stone indicated a purpose of making a point of order against the amendment.

Mr. Gallinger referred to his former antagonism of sectarian schools, saying that his opposition had been to schools of that character in general and not to those of any particular denomination, but notwithstanding this fact, he had been denounced by a Catholic paper for "bitter hatred of the Catholic Church;" that the denunciation was without justification, and that he had performed no act, nor spoken any word in committee or elsewhere to justify this reflection upon him. He said he had been very much impressed by Mr. Bard's statement concerning the propositions made to him by Mr. Scharff, and he expressed surprise that a Senator should have been so approached.

Mr. Stone also referred to the revelations made by Mr. Bard, saying that they were rather startling, and that the country had been quite excited over them. He regarded the proposition as "indefensible, discourteous and not honorable," but said he did not desire to refer especially to that incident. He thought the lines should not be drawn too tightly in these matters, and he expressed the conviction that the President had acted within his authority when he issued an order for the use of the income of tribal funds in educating Indian children at mission or contract schools. He thought, however, that a mistake had been made, and expressed the opinion that public funds had been diverted to the support of sectarian schools. This he considered wrong in principle, and calculated to lead to scandal.

Mr. Penrose made a point of order against the committee amendment and also against an amendment offered by Mr. McCumber to the amendment, but was overruled on both points. The committee amendment related to tribal funds, while the McCumber amendment seeks to permit the use of the share of individual Indians.

Mr. Morgan expressed the opinion that Mr. McCumber's amendment gives away all that had been gained by the committee amendment. It has the effect, he said, of confirming all that has been done, and of making that legal which otherwise would not be so. The appropriation should be made direct by Congress, if at all, he said.

Mr. McCumber replied that the only purpose of his amendment is to give individual choice of action, which he said ought to be absolutely legal.

"We know," replied Mr. Morgan, "that this is a movement on the part of the sectarians to get control of these funds, the priests are at work—the priests of all denominations. They go to an Indian and tell him 'you are going to hell if you don't send your son, Billy Bowlegs, to our school, and give us an order on the treasury for payment.' We are seeking to do by indirection what we should do by direction if at all—merely 'beating the devil around the bush.'"

By a vote of 21 to 26, the McCumber amendment was agreed to. The amendment extending for ten years the Foster lease in Osage oil lands in Indian Territory was agreed to. At 5 p.m. the bill was temporarily laid aside in order to permit the transaction of other business.

Mr. Hale reported, and the Senate adopted the conference report on the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation Bill. Mr. Hale, Mr. Perkins and Mr. Martin were appointed conferees on the Naval Appropriation Bill.

A number of bills amending the laws regulating the inspection of steam vessels were passed. The following bills were also passed: Prohibiting the selection of lands in lieu of lands held in forest reserves; increasing the pensions of soldiers who lost limbs in the service.

At 5:57 o'clock p.m. the Senate went into executive session, and a few minutes later took a recess until 8 p.m. On reassembling, consideration of the Indian Appropriation Bill was resumed.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—When the House met today consideration was given to a number of bills by unanimous consent. Bills were passed setting aside certain public lands in the Philippines for school purposes; to regulate the construction of dams in navigable rivers; to provide for the investigation of leprosy with special reference to the care of lepers in Hawaii; to incorporate the American academy in Rome, Italy, and amending the Revised Statutes so as to permit entrymen under the homestead laws to deed rights of way for telegraph and telephone lines without prejudicing their claims.

The Naval Appropriation Bill was sent to conference. The Senate amendments to the bill amending the copyright laws were agreed to, which action finally passed the bill. The House then began consideration of the General Deficiency Appropriation Bill.

At 7:48 o'clock the House adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

CONFEREES ON STATEHOOD.

NO HOPE OF AGREEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The conferees on the Statehood Bill were in session three hours today, but were unable to agree, nor is hope held out by the conferees that there will be any ultimate agreement. The House conferees declined to consider the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory alone, and it still appears that the Foraker amendment, which would admit New Mexico and Arizona as a State, if both Territories voted to adopt a Constitution, is the only chance of Statehood legislation. One of the members of the conference committee said after the meeting: "And that chance is one in a thousand."

The conferees declared that no deadlock existed, and that considerable progress was made in the tentative reconciliation of minor details of the bill.

LIKES LOOKS OF THINGS.

MISSOURIAN AT THE CAPITAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman-elect Tyndall, from the Ozark Mountain district in Missouri, had a great time here today. He strolled along Pennsylvania avenue, peered into shop windows, visited the Capitol and the library of Congress and said that he liked the looks of things so much it was his intention to go after a renomination in earnest next time.

Tyndall was piloted through town by friends who knew of his suspicion of electric cars, his prejudice against elevators and his timidity about wandering in the streets of a big city alone. As Tyndall and his friends passed a hat store, one friend suggested, "Let's go in and buy silk hats for the 4th of March."

"Me buy a silk hat?" queried the new statesman, "and my wife at home making soap? Not much."

Tyndall has nothing except the salary of $5000 a year as Congressman, and expects to save some out of that to send to the folks at home. He reiterated today that the campaign cost him nothing, explaining how he come to get the votes. He said: "The people knew I was one of them. I just went around and chawed long green tobacco with them. They liked and voted for me."

Expenditures for Troops.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Complying with the provisions of the act of 1902, making appropriation for quarters for troops in the Philippines, the President has transmitted to Congress a statement of these expenditures. The appropriation amounted to $1,500,000, and previous reports covered the expenditures of $1,183,720. The present report includes the expenditure of $67,106 for material in the United States; $183,349 for construction; $57,834 for repairs and $105,746 for rent in the Philippines. This total included $98,256 subsequently appropriated, on which no report is required.

Agricultural Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Agricultural Appropriation Bill will fail unless the Senate recedes from the Bacon amendment requiring cotton statistics to be gathered twice a month, instead of monthly, as at present. This ultimatum has gone forth from the House conferees on the bill. The House practically has yielded to all other amendments of the Senate to the measure. The cotton statistics amendment and those of the Senate regarding experiments with wheat, tobacco and rice culture are all that remain unsettled between the conferees. The latter three are small matters, and can be easily agreed upon when that regarding cotton has been disposed of. The Department of Agriculture opposes the amendment.

Inaugural Parade Commanders.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Lieut.-Gen. Chaffee, Grand Marshal of the inaugural parade, has advised the Inaugural Committee of the following appointments of division commanders: Military grand division, Maj.-Gen. James F. Warner; First Division, Gen. O. O. Howard; Second Division, Gen. Joseph Wheeler, U.S.A.; Third Division, Judson W. Lyons.

Brownson will assume command of the armored cruiser squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, and that Rear-Admiral Dickens will succeed Rear-Admiral Sands in command of the Coast squadron.

Government for Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Senator Foraker today reported favorably from the Senate Committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico, a bill amending the act providing a government for Hawaii. Under the amendment, all the officials shall be appointed or elected in such manner as shall be provided by the Governor and the Legislature of the Territory.

SLAV REFUGEES CROWD AUSTRIA.

RUSSIAN DESERTERS ORDERED TO LEAVE BUKOWINA.

Are Underbidding Natives in the Labor Market and are Said to be Suffering from Trachoma—Russia to Contsruct Battleships in America After War is Over.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VIENNA, Feb. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The authorities of the Austrian province of Bukowina, close to the Russian frontier, have ordered all Russian refugees and deserters, totaling about three thousand persons, to leave within six weeks. The reason for this is that the Russians are underbidding the Austrians in the labor market at a time when many of the Austrians are out of work. It is also stated that most of the Russians are suffering from trachoma.

The majority of the Russians came to Bukowina during the last six months, fleeing from mobilization regulations and other unwelcome regulations in the near-by Russian districts.

RUSSIAN AGENT AT SEATTLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 28.—A. M. Delacoff, a special agent of the Russian Bureau of Finance, is in the city. He says Russia is to construct a battleship, two cruisers and several torpedo boats in the United States within the next year, for delivery after the war in the Orient. His errand here is to visit Moran Brothers' shipyard, in order to report on its capabilities to his government. He states that there is nothing secret about the matter, and that the construction of the vessels was decided on a couple of months ago.

STOESSEL IN MOSCOW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Feb. 28.—Gen. Stoessel, who left here this evening for St. Petersburg, attended services at the Choudoff monastery with his wife this morning. Grand Duchess Sergius, who also was present, invited Gen. and Mrs. Stoessel to breakfast with her.

Great crowds besieged Gen. Stoessel's hotel throughout the day, and he was obliged to use the side doors in order to avoid popular demonstrations. The Mayor of Moscow, accompanied by officials of the municipality, presented bread and salt to him.

Gen. Stoessel, in replying to the Mayor's speech of welcome, spoke feelingly of the necessity that had forced him to surrender Port Arthur, which, he said, he had done only as a last resort, and in order to avoid the slaughter that would have resulted from taking the city by assault. He said that until the last moment they had hoped for relief from Gen. Kouropatkin and Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky.

BLOCKADE RUNNER BEACHED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOKIO, March 1.—It is reported that the German steamer Romolus, which was recently seized while en route to Vladivistok with a cargo of Cardiff coal, has been beached in Aomori. It is understood that the Romolus struck an iceberg while attempting to pass through Soya strait and was damaged so that she was leaking on her port side when seized by the Japanese.

A prize crew was put aboard her and she was started for Yokohama. Her leak increased and it was necessary to beach her in order to save her.

INCESSANT ARTILLERY ROAR.

THE REVOLT IN RUSSIA.

SITUATION IN POLAND BAD.

General Tie-up is Expected in Warsaw Today.

Next Saturday Anxious Day for the Officials.

Terrorists Leave Grand Duke Vladimir Wreck.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, Feb. 28.—The strike situation in Poland is far from encouraging. A general strike of shop assistants in Warsaw is expected tomorrow unless the demands of the men are conceded. Seventy-five per cent. of the employers are willing to give in, but the remainder refuse to do so. The domestic servants also threaten to strike tomorrow.

The coal supply in Warsaw is diminishing and prices are rapidly advancing owing to the situation at Sosnovice, where few mines are being operated. Negotiations between the employers and strikers are continuing, but there is probably little hope of a successful outcome. All the coal received here now is coming from Silesia. The situation was further complicated today by a strike of the coal cart drivers.

The owners of the great cotton mills at Zyrardoff today notified 15,000 strikers that unless they returned to work immediately the mills would be closed for six months.

There is some evidence of a recrudescence of the Lodz strike. The strike still continues.

GORKY'S FAMILY ANGRY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1.—Maxim Gorky's family and relatives are greatly exasperated by his treatment, and maintain that a breach of confidence has been committed, the order for his unconditional release having been signed when bail was deposited. The relatives say that if he had known he was to be transported to Riga he would have preferred to remain a prisoner in St. Petersburg. He requested permission to reside in the Crimea, owing to one of his lungs being affected, but the request was refused.

ANXIETY IN ST. PETERSBURG.

WHAT WILL SATURDAY BRING?

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, March 1, 1:35 a.m.—Next Saturday being the anniversary of the emancipation of the serfs, rumors have been in circulation that the day has been selected for notable events of diverse natures. According to some of these rumors the workmen are planning an immense revolutionary demonstration, while according to other reports the government intends to commemorate the anniversary by issuing a manifesto establishing some form of representative legislative body. It was stated positively, however, on competent authority that there is no intention on the part of the government to signalize the anniversary by any special manifesto. On the other hand, it seems certain that the recently-revived Council of Ministers, at its weekly sessions, is considering the all-important question of reform and evolving governmental alterations of a momentous character; but what form these changes are to take it is impossible to ascertain with positiveness. Presumably the council is discussing means of bringing the government and people in closer touch. According to current reports, the decision has been reached that a zemsky sobor would be an unsatisfactory agent for doing this, and that the ministers are now considering other measures looking to the same end. A definite announcement as to their decision or the nature of the proposed reforms is not expected for some time.

SECRET STORE OF BOMBS.

FOUND IN MOSCOW SUBURBS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, Feb. 28.—A secret store of bombs, dynamite and revolvers has been discovered at the Margina Slobotka, a suburb of Moscow.

It is now believed that the assassin of Grand Duke Sergius came from Paris, and that by trade he is an artificer. His name is still unknown.

STUDENTS WRECK HOUSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MINSK, Feb. 28.—The students of the Colonial Seminary here today wrecked the house of the Director and Inspector of Schools and burned all their papers. All the students then left the town.

SCHOOLS TO REOPEN.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday, in the case of O. W. Marble, held in substance that the practice of Christian Science comes within the scope of the medical law.

At Cleveland, Judge Taylor of the United States District Court, yesterday overruled the motion of Attorney J. P. Dawley, counsel for Mrs. Chadwick, that the two indictments returned against her by the Federal grand jury February 21, be quashed.

Joseph S. Ferry, an attorney-at-law practicing in Hilo, Hawaii, has been arrested and held to answer by United States Commissioner Judd, on a warrant charging him with complicity with the frauds in the postoffice at Koloa, Kauai, where the sum of $27,000 was missing.

William T. Horsnell, proprietor of a St. Paul real estate and employment agency, is under arrest there and was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Spencer on a charge of securing by conspiracy homestead titles to 16,000 acres of public lands in Minnesota. The hearing was continued one week on request of the government.

Fruit growers of Michigan have reached an agreement to stop packing fruit in the orchards. All of it will be taken to a central packing-house, where it will be graded and packed by an association of the growers employing a large force to handle the business. This will cut out the commission men.

In the Chamber of Deputies at Rome, Señor Todesco, Minister of Public Works, said it was the duty of the railroad companies to operate their properties to meet the requirements of the traveling public, and added that if the companies were incapable of performing their duties the government would be obliged to intervene.

With the exception that Col. Kerens called three of his supporters who have been scattering their votes, to his standard on the thirty-fourth ballot, yesterday, there was no change in the Senatorial deadlock at Jefferson City, Mo. The vote resulted: Niedringhaus, 61; Cockrell, 72; Kerens, 15; Dyer, 1; McKinley, 4; Elliott, 1.

A London dispatch says Lord de Freyne, whose Irish estates three years ago were the scenes of notorious evictions, has ended the long struggle with his tenants by consenting to sell his estates to the Congested Districts Board, under the Land Act. The tenants celebrated the event with huge bondfires and rejoicings.

A Denver News special from Flagstaff, Ariz., says that the towns of Holbrook and St. Johns, situated in the Apache Valley, have been almost completely deserted by their inhabitants, who fear that the immense dam of the St. Johns Reservoir Company will break from the strain of flood waters, due to almost incessant rains for two weeks past.

At Portsmouth, King Edward yesterday bid farewell to the Second Cruiser Squadron, under Rear-Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg. The squadron will sail to Caribbean waters. The King slept on board the armored cruiser Drake, Prince Louis's flagship, and yesterday morning inspected the rear-admiral's half-dozen war craft, described by naval men as "battleships in disguise," all of which are capable of making twenty-three knots per hour.

Dr. William R. Harper, who was operated on last week at Chicago for cancer of the colon, is sitting up in bed at the Presbyterian Hospital, attending to his duties as president of the University of Chicago.

The Pittsburgh Post says the Steel Bar Association held a protracted session yesterday and terminated the meeting by officially announcing an advance of $2 a ton on steel bars.

The body of an unidentified woman was found last night lying on the sidewalk in front of No. 5529 Monroe avenue, Chicago, in the aristocratic section of Hyde Park. She had unquestionably been murdered by a revolver bullet fired into her head.

GRAND DUKE VLADIMIR A COMPLETE WRECK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The utter impotency of the police in the face of the terrorist organization is shown by the increasing boldness of the latter all over St. Petersburg. Even on the side of the public buildings simple notices of Grand Duke Sergius's death are found. They read:

"The sentence of death passed upon Sergius Alexandrovitch was executed February 17.

[Signed]

"THE FIGHTING ORGANIZATION OF THE SOCIAL DEMOCRAT PARTY."

Moreover, the notices are neatly printed, a thing unknown in the days of Interior Minister Von Plehve, when similar notices were always run off on copying machines. The secret police then were too close on the heels of the terrorists to permit of the use of a printing press.

The Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna, whose husband, the Grand Duke Vladimir, is high on the list of those condemned to death, is trying to shield his life with her own. Since "Red Sunday" the Grand Duke has not only been showered with threats and warnings, but has twice received from abroad formal letters signed by different groups informing him of his sentence to death and of the assignment of men to execute it. At the same time, the Grand Duchess Marie, like the Grand Duchess Elizabeth, in the case of Grand Duke Sergius, was notified that her life and her son's life would be spared, and she was appealed to not to go abroad in her husband's company.

The letters naturally terrorized the family and household of the Grand Duke, who has aged greatly during the last few weeks under the strain of what he insists is the unjust criticism which placed the responsibility for the bloodshed of January 22 wholly on his shoulders. Although the Grand Duke's health had been failing for over a year, he is now almost a complete wreck.

For a time the entreaties of his family and the warning of the police sufficed to keep him within the walls of the palace, but since the funeral of Grand Duke Sergius, Grand Duke Vladimir has shaken off restraint, declaring that he refuses to show cowardice, and not only drives out in a closed carriage, but on Sunday walked for a short time up and down the quay in front of the Winter Palace. At his side, however, on each occasion, was the Grand Duchess Marie Pavlovna. The Grand Duke tries to elude her, but she insists on being immediately apprised if he goes out, donning wraps and accompanying him.

Today, Grand Duke Vladimir received a letter from one group which had previously warned him, saying his sentence was temporarily suspended, which is attributed either to a changed appraisement of his share in the events of January 22, or to a general decision of the terrorists to give the autocracy a breathing spell and await the result of the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius.

The latter coincides with the views of those acquainted with the methods of the terrorists, who point out that a succession of assassinations would defeat their object by compelling the Emperor, in the interest of the safety of the imperial family, to thrust aside all questions of concessions and to sanction the most drastic measures of repression.

SECTARIAN INDIAN SCHOOLS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Secretary Hitchcock transmitted to the House of Representatives today a statement from F. M. Leupp, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, relative to the use of Indian funds for the support of sectarian Indian schools. In his letter of transmittal, the Secretary says that two contracts were made with sectarian schools in 1904 and seven for similar purposes in 1905. It is estimated that the total amount on this account for 1905 will be $80,000. It is stated that no part of any funds appropriated by Congress has been used in the purchase of rations for the children attending the sectarian schools, and the property accounts fail to show that any subsistence or other supplies were issued to sectarian schools during the fiscal year 1904 and the first and second quarters of 1905.

How does the sunshine strike you? Don't you think you'd like to stay out here and be one of us, and say to people a few years hence, "I located in Los Angeles when they had less than two hundred thousand population and now look at it." Lots of property that looks clear out of reason when you ask the price will surely double in the next three years. There's only one Southern California, there's only room for one big city on the South Coast. Los Angeles is "it." See the great institutions that started from a handful of merchandise a few years ago. Take my boss, see what he's accomplished in a few years. Ten years ago he had a little modest furnishing goods store on the other side of the street, he saw a future for the town, he was liberal with his printer, honest with the public, and see the result. First, he added a Hat Department, then he procured a larger store and added Tailoring, then he opened a branch house at Bakersfield, then the business got too large for one store in this city and he opened a second. Now, he's just opened a big new store at Long Beach. Others have done the same thing. It's up to you.

STONE in the BLADDER

Quickly Dissolved and removed Without Danger by Warner's Safe Cure.

Stone in the bladder is one form of kidney trouble—a sign that the kidneys are so diseased that they are no longer able to remove all the uric acid and other poisonous waste matters out of the blood.

The uric acid accumulates in the bladder and forms into little lumps or stones, which pass away from time to time in the urine. If these are at all large they seriously injure the delicate tissues of the urinary organs, causing inflammation, great weakness, and not infrequently convulsions and death.

When the gravel becomes so large that it cannot be passed the uric acid backs up through the blood, poisons the whole system, and the sufferer dies in terrible agony.

There is only one way to prevent uric acid poison, and this is to dissolve the gravel without delay and get it out of the system by taking Warner's Safe Cure, the only medicine that can be taken with safety.

SAFE CURE CURES

gravel, or stone in the bladder; Bright's disease, Diabetes and every other form of Kidney disease. It acts on the delicate tissues of the kidneys, removes the diseased, worn-out parts, and replaces them with live tissue; purifies the blood, stimulates the circulation and awakens the torpid liver; assists digestion and tones up and strengthens the whole body; enables every organ to do its work properly and fully.

Nearly every man and woman has the germs of kidney disease in their system, and should make a test of the kidneys at least every two or three months.

Let some urine stand in a glass for 24 hours; if it is cloudy or smoky, or if particles float in it, or if there is a reddish brown sediment, your kidneys are diseased and there is not a moment to lose. You should begin taking Safe Cure at once. It is absolutely pure, made entirely of herbs, contains no dangerous drugs, is pleasant to take, and is prescribed by doctors and used in hospitals everywhere.

Safe Cure is sold at all drug stores, 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

ANALYSIS FREE.

If after making this test you have any doubt as to the development of the disease in your system, send a sample of your urine to the Medical Department, Warner Safe Cure Co., Rochester, N. Y., and our doctors will analyse it and send you a report, with advice and medical booklet, free.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES AND IMITATIONS

DEATH'S TRAP CATCHES HER.

AGED MRS. DE LA MONTE IS GROUND TO PIECES.

Daughter Sees Her Mangled Beyond Recognition Under Fast Oil Tank Car on Hill Street and is Prostrated—Constable in Unspeakable Agony Beholds Mother's Blood Flow.

Mrs. Huldah O. De La Monte, aged 70, mother of Constable J. H. De La Monte, was struck by an oil-tank car of the Los Angeles Interurban Railway at Twelfth and Hill streets shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and instantly killed, her body being ground into a shapeless mass of flesh. She was run over by the wheels and tangled in the gearing of the motor until it would have been impossible to identify the victim had she been alone.

Mrs. M. E. Lee, daughter of the unfortunate woman, was within a few feet of the place where the car struck her and witnessed the horrible sight. She saw the heavy car stopped by the obstruction offered by her mother's body and was so prostrated by the shock that she was placed under the care of a physician.

Mrs. De La Monte and her daughter were about to board a car and had stepped into the street to hail it when several wagons loaded with bricks passed, cutting off their escape to the street, and leaving such a narrow space between them and the tracks that the elder woman thought she was in danger of being struck by a wagon. She stepped forward upon the west side track, and at that moment a heavy tank car with J. D. Talbott at the controller and Albert Vaughn as conductor, approached at tremendous speed. Talbott pounded his gong, but according to the statements of several witnesses, did not attempt to reduce speed, thinking probably that the aged woman would step out of the way. Had she done so she would have been run down by a car coming from the other direction on the other track. To step back was almost impossible because the wagons were behind her.

Thus caught in a pocket Mrs. De La Monte became confused, and her confusion was increased by the shouts of those who sought to warn her. An instant she hesitated and the heavy car struck her, knocked her down between the rails and then, the car being without a fender, the cruel wheels ground her to pieces.

It is believed she was dead before the wheels touched her, for the impact was terrible. There was a long wait for the wrecking car, and meantime Constable De La Monte arrived. He could see the dismembered body of his aged mother caught in the running gear of the car. Small pieces of flesh and great blotches of blood were under the car, and a small stream of blood ran along the track near the rails. It was hard enough for those who had not known the woman to stand there and see the mangled body; the agony of her son was pitiable.

When the wrecker arrived the tank car was raised and the corpse removed. Piece by piece it was placed in the basket which had been brought with Bresee Bros., dead wagon. Fragments of clothing to which flesh adhered were taken from the axles and from the flanges of the wheels other shreds were removed. When the remains were in the basket they bore little semblance to those of a human being.

The arrest of the motorman and conductor was suggested but Constable De La Monte would not give the order. He was so dazed by the tragedy that he hardly knew what was going on about him. He said the men could be found if wanted.

Mrs. De La Monte resided with her daughter at No. 1153 South Hope street. The arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Real Estate Properties in Various Parts of the City Changed Hands Yesterday.

Miss Alice Gaston and Mrs. Ella Weaver have purchased of J. H. HEIR TO A FORTUNE.

Grecian Consul at San Francisco Asks Los Angeles Police to Find Missing Man.

Henry S. Martin, Consul for Greece at San Francisco, asks the police here to locate a Greek named Stabro P. Boutsina, who has fallen heir to a fortune in that classic kingdom, and who cannot be located by his relatives. He was last heard of in Los Angeles. Only a few weeks ago one of his countrymen gave him money to go to one of the smaller towns in this section to secure employment, but he is known to have returned to this city.

Boutsina has been employed here in various restaurants as cook or waiter, and at times he followed the calling of a fisherman. Inquiry among the Greek residents of Los Angeles has failed to disclose his whereabouts.

MAY NOT RECOVER.

Old Man Probably Fatally Injured by Being Struck by Car While Crossing a Street.

William Foley, aged 60, who is employed at a restaurant at No. 212 East Second street, was struck by car No. 347 of the Los Angeles Railway Company on Second street, between Los Angeles and San Pedro streets at 8:30 o'clock last evening, and sustained injuries which probably will result in his death. With a party of friends, Foley started across the street from the restaurant to No. 213 East Second street, where he rooms. His friends saw the car approaching at high speed, and called to him, but he did not understand them, and stopped to ask what they had said. He had not seen the car, and could not get out of the way in time. He was knocked to the ground, picked up by the fender and carried nearly 100 feet. When taken to the Receiving Hospital, it was found that nearly all his ribs on the left side had been fractured, and that he had sustained serious internal injuries. If he lives through the night he probably will be taken to the County Hospital this morning.

THROWN DOWN STAIRS.

Quarrel Over a Dog Causes Fight Between Neighbors in Which Woman is Injured.

A warrant on a charge of battery was issued late yesterday afternoon for the arrest of L. D. LeValle, who resides in Court Circle, his alleged victim being Mrs. Kate Mills. A pet dog was the cause of the trouble. A dispute arose over the right of the dog's owner to permit it to annoy other persons in the neighborhood. Just what happened will come out when the case is tried, but it is alleged that Mrs. Mills was rudely jostled in such manner that she fell down a short stairway and sustained injuries which rendered necessary the services of a physician. She is still suffering from the effects of the fall, and may not be able to appear in court for a week or more.

KRIEGE WILL RECOVER.

Injured Policeman Removed to His Home and Will be Incapacitated for More Than a Week.

Patrolman Herman Kriege, who was injured early yesterday morning near the corner of Sixteenth and Main streets, by being thrown from his bicycle while going at a high rate of speed, recovered consciousness in the Receiving Hospital at 9 o'clock yesterday. He was unable to tell what caused the accident. It is supposed that the front wheel of his bicycle caught in the slot near the street car rails, tearing off the front tire and causing the locking of the front wheel. The sudden stopping of the bicycle caused the officer to be thrown over the handle bars with such force that he was rendered unconscious and was found in that condition by a citizen. Later in the day he was removed to his home, where he is now under treatment of one of the police surgeons.

VERY FEW PEOPLE

Are Free From Some Form of Indigestion.

Very few people are free from some form of indigestion, but scarcely two will have the same symptoms.

Some suffer most directly after eating, bloating from gas in stomach and bowels, others have heartburn or sour risings, still others have palpitation of heart, headaches, sleeplessness, pains in chest and under shoulder blades, some have extreme nervousness, as in nervous dyspepsia.

But whatever the symptoms may be, the cause in all cases of indigestion is the same, that is the stomach for some reason fails to properly and promptly digest what is eaten.

This is the whole story of stomach troubles in a nutshell. The stomach must have rest and assistance and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give it both by supplying those natural digestives which every weak stomach lacks, owing to the failure of the peptic glands in the stomach to secrete sufficient acid and pepsin to thoroughly digest and assimilate the food eaten.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3000 grains of meat, eggs or other wholesome food, and this claim has been proven by actual experiment, which anyone can perform for himself in the following manner: Cut a hard boiled egg into very small pieces, as it would be if masticated; place the egg and two or three of the tablets in a bottle or jar containing warm water heated to 98 degs. (the temperature of the body) and keep it at this temperature for three and one-half hours, at the end of which time the egg will be as completely digested as it would have been in the healthy stomach of a hungry boy.

The point of this experiment is that what Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do to the egg in the bottle they will do to the egg or meat in the stomach and nothing else will rest and invigorate the stomach so safely and effectually. Even a little child can take Stuart's Tablets with safety and benefit if its digestion is weak and the thousands of cures accomplished by their regular daily use are easily explained when it is understood that they are composed of vegetable essences, aseptic, pepsin, diastase and Golden Seal, which mingle with the food and digest it thoroughly, giving the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate.

Dieting never cures dyspepsia, neither do pills and cathartic medicines, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines.

When enough food is eaten and promptly digested there will be no constipation, nor in fact will there be disease of any kind because good digestion means good health in every organ.

The merit and success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are world-wide and they are sold at the moderate price of 50 cents for full-sized packages in every drug store in the United States and Canada, as well as in Europe.

DO YOU KNOW OUR STORY and a half?

It is shortly told. Our plans of story and a half houses contain bed chambers upstairs, with full-height ceilings, and the house from the interior has all the appearance of a full two-story house.
And there is little difference in the expense of one of our story and a half houses and a cottage, and their interior arrangement justifies the praise we accord them.

Call and see these plans; they will delight you.

Now is the Time

To Take Advantage of Favorable Climatic Conditions.

The physicians of the Los Angeles Medical Institute are curing cases of catarrh, beginning lung troubles, bronchitis, deafness, throat troubles, etc., every day. They do not ask you to take their word for it, but give you the names of well-known people whom you can consult, and who will testify to the benefits they have received. Could you ask any more positive proof than this; if not, then, why delay; consult these doctors today. Now is the time.

MR. R. PARKER, 2604 Central Ave.

Mr. R. Parker, 2604 Central ave.—In describing his case recently Mr. Parker said: "I was in a dreadful condition when I commenced to treat with the specialists of the Los Angeles Medical Institute; my nose was constantly stopped up; scabs would form and the nose would bleed on the slightest provocation. I was nearly crazy with headaches and bothered continually with an itching sensation of the skin. Now all this is changed. I breathe freely, sleep fine, and headaches and noises in my ears have disappeared, and I can do a good day's work without giving out. I wouldn't take a great deal for what I have received from these doctors, and freely recommend them to anyone in need of treatment."

Mr. Parker is a well-known and highly esteemed machinist. He conducts a bicycle repair shop at No. 2604 Central ave. Such a statement coming from a man of his standing should convince the most skeptical that the physicians of the Los Angeles Institute are fulfilling all their promises.

We accept no hopeless cases and every patient can rest assured that they will receive permanent help.

Dr. O. C. Joslen, The Leading Specialist.

I Will Cure You

THERE IS NO physician anywhere who employs the same general method of treating men's diseases that I employ. This fact is in itself no recommendation of my services. With proof of superiority added it becomes the highest possible recommendation. Results obtained prove all methods. Results prove mine superior beyond all doubt or question. I cure ailments that others never have cured and never can cure by their present forms of treatment. Not only do none treat as I treat, but none cure as I cure.

I Treat Men Only

My Fees Are Fair, My Cures Permanent, and You Can Pay When Satisfied That You Are Well.

"WEAKNESS"

"Weakness" is merely a symptom of local disorder, usually an inflamed condition of the prostate gland. This I overcome by a thoroughly scientific system of local treatment, and the full and normal degree of strength and vigor is permanently restored.

VARICOCELE

I cure Varicocele by mild, painless and harmless treatment. No cutting at all, and it is seldom necessary that the patient is detained a single day from his business. A permanent cure in one week. No failures.

Write for my free pamphlet, "Live All Your Years a Man." Consultation free at office or by mail.

Permanent Cures, But

NOT BY MAIL

Certainty of a Cure is What You Want

Permanent results cannot be had by guessing; those who have tried it have failed. When I convince your case I will know just what to do and how to do it. My treatment and methods are reliable and I get the "EXACT CAUSE."

Functional Decline Termed Weakness by Some

I am positive the treatment I employ in the cure of this derangement is the most potent, rational, direct and certain whereby functional activity of the parts can be restored. Many men, suffering from this condition, will find the cause directly traceable to the reproductive system.

Varicocele

Many men have treated for this diseased condition and few have found permanent cure. My treatment is thorough and cures in 4 to 6 days, and there is no relapse of the old weakness that accompanied the disease. The treatment is direct and for the exact cause. It is a treatment not in common use and is the most effective yet known.

Stricture

I cure in 10 to 15 days. I have devoted years of study to the formation and complete eradication of urethral obstruction. I restore health and tone to the membranes. My exact cause treatment removes the necessity of any surgery. The right treatment applied the right way will always bring you results.

Contracted Diseases

I cure these ailments more quickly, with less pain and inconvenience than anyone claiming to treat successfully these conditions. Has your case become chronic through improper treatment or by the use of caustic remedies? Has it caused deep-seated inflammation and irritation in the urinary tract. My treatment cures these conditions quickly, and the cure is permanent.

A CHAMP MEET.
THAT AT U.S.C.

Proof. Harvey Holmes, coach of U.S.C., last night announced: "The interscholastic track meet to be held April 29 on the U.S.C. cinder path will be a championship affair. To all schools within a radius of 100 miles of Los Angeles, sending a full team of ten men, the railroad expenses will be guaranteed for those ten men. To all schools more distant than 100 miles, one-half will be assured. To all schools sending less than that quota, one-half expenses will be guaranteed.

"Cups will be given for first, second and third places. A cup for the relay and a banner for the team winning the championship of the south will be hung up as prizes.

"The meet is open to all High Schools, private schools and preparatory school students doing strictly secondary work and having a passing grade in fifteen hours of recitations."

These days are busy ones at U.S.C. field. The athletes are working tooth and nail to beat St. Vincent's Saturday, and Coach Holmes has assured them that they have quite all the work cut out that they can hope to do.

Varicocele

Every man having varicocele can be cured, but any and every external application—medicines internally, electricity, electric belts—ARE ALL ABSOLUTELY WORTHLESS. There is but one method that will cure varicocele. Dr. Harrison is the only specialist in Los Angeles using that method. Dr. Harrison guarantees an absolute permanent and perfect cure. We will show dozens of men right here in Los Angeles we have cured. We cordially invite men to call.

Contracted Disorders

Are cured by us. Every particle of poison thoroughly eradicated from the system. Every patient coming to us consults no one but Dr. Harrison or his associate, both regular physicians. Each and every man coming to us for consultation has his case carefully and understandingly looked into. Every case we treat receives our personal attention.

Stricture

This trouble we treat successfully by our improved method, which never fails to bring about a cure. Electricity or electric belts cannot do this trouble any good. When you employ either you throw your money away. Call and let us explain the nature of the trouble and how you can be permanently cured.

"Weakness"

Affections of men commonly described as "weakness," according to our observations, are not such, but depend upon reflex disturbances, and are almost invariably induced or maintained by appreciable damage to the prostate gland. As this may not be perceived by the patient, it is very frequently overlooked by the physician.

If you come to us we give you a thorough examination and consultation absolutely free and truthfully tell you if you can be cured.

MEN

We are Specialists for Varicocele, Hydrocele, Stricture, Piles, Fistula, Blood Diseases, Contracted Diseases, Private Diseases, Loss of Vital Power, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

NOT SOLD TO THE STANDARD.

Mexican Petroleum Company Still Independent.

President Doheny Makes Flat Denial of Rumors.

Development Going Ahead on Extensive Scale.

A report of the sale of the Mexican Petroleum Company's property at Ebano, Mexico, to the Waters-Pierce (Standard) Oil Company, which has been circulating in one form or another for about a year and was recently published in a number of papers here and in Mexico, was positively denied at the offices of the company yesterday by President E. S. Doheny.

"There is no foundation whatever for the story," said Mr. Doheny to a Times reporter. "The Mexican Petroleum Company is an independent corporation and expects to remain so. So far as we know there has been no effort to get control of the company or its property.

"We expect to go ahead with our business as before. We shall build a canal to the Panuco river, which will enable us to market our product without dependence on rail transportation, and we are negotiating with the Mexican Central for the sale of oil for fuel. The railroad company has made extensive tests of our oil in locomotives and we find it is superior to the best California fuel. We have negotiations also pending with several other roads, among them the Tehuantepec National, which already has fourteen oil-burning engines. Texas oil is being shipped in by steamer, but our product can be furnished for less. The Inter-Oceanic line has just fitted up two oil-burners. Among other lines that are now desirous of using oil are the Mexican (Vera Cruz) line, the United Railways of Yucatan and the National system.

"The oil used for the test on the Mexican Central was 14 gravity, but the greater part of what we have is 11 to 12. We have about 300 square miles of oil territory and some 400,000 barrels storage. There is one gusher that pours out some 1600 barrels a day and has kept this up since April 3, 1904—an unusually long record, and one that is remarkable with such heavy oil. While our oil is heavy there is, however, none below 10 gravity as has been reported in some papers.

ASPHALT PRODUCTION.

"In regard to asphalt," said Mr. Doheny, "our asphalt company has work on the streets of Mexico City amounting to $400,000 Mexican currency. We have contracted for half of all that may be done in the future. We are paving twenty-three streets in Guadalajara. The quality of the work is now admitted to be fully equal to that done by the former contractor, a French company that has now withdrawn. We have also inquiries from the governments of many different Mexican States as to our terms and conditions. The total of all these contracts will run into millions."

EXCELLENT SHOWING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mexican Petroleum Company was held some two weeks ago in this city and the following officers and directors were elected: E. L. Doheny, president and general manager; C. A. Canfield, first vice-president; C. E. Harwood, second vice-president; C. D. Bennett, secretary and treasurer; Herbert G. Wylie, general superintendent; E. L. Doheny, C. A. Canfield, E. T. Stimson, C. E. Harwood, C. Leonardt, A. P. Maginnis, C. W. Smith, Norman Bridge, W. G. Kerckhoff, directors. All the directors are residents of Los Angeles or immediate vicinity.

President Doheny's annual report shows receipts from sale of bonds, assessment and other sources amounting to $312,619.35 and expenditures amounting to $296,834.99, leaving a cash balance on hand amounting to $21,-984.36 on January 1, 1905. The expenditures for 1904, with the exception of $30,000 applied to the repayment of money borrowed on notes during 1903, $14,940.50 for miscellaneous expenses (taxes, duties, rents, etc.) were largely for permanent improvements, and for material and labor are divided as follows: machinery, tools and supplies, $28,396.45; service and labor, $165,007.41; office furnishings, $250.78; house furnishings, $663.82; rolling stock (locomotive and tank cars,) $12,824.60; steel storage tanks, $25,340.12; lumber and building material, $8,467.57; telephone equipment, $4,586.17.

The company has as assets, besides its wells, tankage and drilling apparatus, a refinery, ice plant, electric plant, cooperage plant, telephone system, pipe lines, general buildings, offices, etc., and furnishings; a railroad from the fields to the river, a yacht, 2771 head of cattle, 636 horses and over 100 mules and burros. The total value of the improvements is over $500,000, steel tankage alone being worth over $75,000, and oil well machinery and tools being valued at over $100,000.

The average price obtained for oil in the past is more than $2.50, Mexican, or in the neighborhood of $1.25 a barrel, United States gold. Asphaltum brings an average price which is above $15 a ton in gold. The daily production of five wells, all flowing, is over 2000 barrels a day, of which about 1000 is being stored. A 55,000 barrel steel tank is now nearly completed and a 160,000 barrel reservoir being roofed. More developments will be done when a permanent contract for the sale of oil has been made.

FLOODS AND WASHOUTS.

The company has experienced an unusual amount of difficulty from high water during the year. The railroad was washed out during July, the reservoir was flooded and thousands of barrels of oil went to waste. A pipe line had to be laid to relieve the railroad. Repair work was rendered useless, the rains, usually over by September, continuing until the first of the year.

President Doheny estimates that future expenses will be lightened and believes that the outlook for dividends on a basis of about four per cent. on the par value of stock issued, is good.

FEAST OF FLOWERS.

Old-fashioned Flower Festival to be Revived—Last Gay Scene in the Old Pavilion.

The old-fashioned flower festival is to be revived in Los Angeles. It is more than a decade ago since a real flower show has been held in this city. Old-timers remember when the spring-time flower festival used to be one of the regular events in Los Angeles.

Hazard's Pavilion used to be the place where these festivals were held, and more than once the old barn-like structure has been decorated from floor to vaulted roof, with the fairest and most fragrant of Flora's vernal offerings. Once more this historic old building is to be converted into a bower of beauty where the city's fairest social buds and their elders will congregate to revel mid the flowers.

Once more, and only once, will the old Pavilion, now known as Temple Auditorium, be the scene of such gaiety. Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, wife of the pastor, and other members of the Temple Baptist Church, have decided to hold a flower festival the latter part of March, in the building, just before it will be torn down to be replaced by a more modern convention hall.

Plans for the festival are already under way, and no efforts will be spared to make it a feast of flowers eclipsing all previous events of the kind in Los Angeles.

Indoor flower festivals went out of fashion with the annual holding of La Fiestas de Los Angeles, but as there is to be no fiesta this year, the time is thought opportune for the revival of the old-fashioned floral display.

MINES AND MINING.

STATE DISPLAY FOR PORTLAND.

PREPARING FOR THE EXHIBITION AT NEXT FAIR.

San Diego Will Make Specialty of Gems—Suggestions for Sign Boards on Desert to Indicate the Location of Water to Wandering Prospectors and Others.

The business of preparing the mining exhibit of California for the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland is now under way in charge of L. Douglas Sovereign of this city, who handled this work at the St. Louis Fair. This time there will be no exhibit from the State Mining Bureau, but a general exhibit from all parts of the State gotten together independently of that institution. The latter's exhibit will remain in its place at San Francisco.

At Portland there will be no division of the State's exhibit among different buildings, the mining in one, agricultural in another, and educational in another, as was the case at St. Louis, but all will be grouped into one, representing the State of California. The exhibits will be smaller, but it is intended to make up in quality and in mining it is intended to have an exhibit that will excel any hitherto presented. It is desired to have displays from every county and from all persons and corporations interested, all of whom are requested to notify the commission at an early date. The commission consists of Gov. Pardee, J. A. Filcher and Frank Wiggins.

The policy of limiting the size of many exhibits and getting the best possible was very successfully followed at St. Louis by several States. In the mining line, Colorado was a notable example and her exhibit was one of the very best at the fair. It is intended, however, that all exhibitors are to have an opportunity to make their display.

A number of counties will make specialties of products which are peculiar to them or in which they excel. Among these San Diego county has already decided to give special attention to its gems, it being the chief producer of these in the State, the number and quality produced far excelling any other section. Its turquoises, garnets, tourmaline crystals and other precious stones, which won high recognition at St. Louis, will be even better displayed at Portland.

San Bernardino will make a feature of its building materials and cement. Los Angeles county will have a display of tiles with its exhibit. Ventura will have its sandstone. There will also be collections of marble, granite, terra cotta, slate, soda and minerals of all kinds from different counties. The petroleum exhibit, a full statement regarding which appears in the oil column, will include samples from every oil county and district in the State and from every producer.

It is intended to include the crude materials, the finished article and all by-products manufactured from it in all cases, so as to give a complete and comprehensive idea of the wealth taken from the earth and the industries dependent therein.

Specimens of gold, copper, and all other ores found in the State will be there from the different counties where they are produced. Nevada and Tuolumne counties have already sent some fine specimens of gold ores. Nevada made a special county exhibit of gold ores at St. Louis and received a gold medal. No special county display will be made at Portland, but fine specimens will be contributed to the general State exhibit. It is desired to make the display one that will show the mining industry in every phase. It will be remembered that California was awarded the grand prize for gold and quartz mining together with a gold medal for its collection of gold ores at St. Louis.

WATER ON DESERT.

"With the approach of the hot weather and the rush to the deserts of Southern California and Nevada, it is about time for some action to be taken toward providing for an adequate water supply in the arid country where hundreds of prospectors are going to risk their lives to enrich the country as well as themselves," said George W. Parsons of the Mining Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, who for several years has agitated this important question.

"In my opinion," said he, "the matter of sign posts directing people to where water is to be found is good, but first and more important is that of providing means to get at the water and protecting it so it will be fit for use. Wells should be cleaned out, covered so that animals will not fall in and drown, and buckets and ropes provided to reach the water. It would also be well to have some person visit them occasionally and see that they are in proper shape. At present it is frequently of little use to get to the water when there is no means provided to get at it and it is so foul as to sicken one. When the other matters are arranged sign posts should be put up.

"The Supervisors of San Bernardino, Riverside and Inyo counties in this State and of Lincoln, Nye, and Esmeralda counties, Nevada, should get together at once and act, for at no time before has the need been greater than now."

A trainload of tourists who started from New York about two weeks ago and who have been taking in the sights at San Diego, Redlands and other places, will arrive today at the Angelus for a two days' stay. It is the Pennsylvania Railroad's annual Golden Gate excursion. From here the party will go to Santa Barbara, Monterey and San Francisco. Upon its return to New York it will have been absent more than a month.

Flirting With Us.

School teachers and choir singers of Salt Lake City are coquetting with Los Angeles. Advices received here indicate that the Utah State Teachers' Association and the members of the Mormon Tabernacle choir are planning to come to this city as soon as possible after the opening of the new Salt Lake railroad to traffic. The two parties will number several hundred. They would like to come in April, if the line is open at that time.

Knocked Off His Wagon.

Lawrence Brown, a driver for the Los Angeles Transfer Company, attempted to drive across the street railway tracks in front of an approaching car at Sixth street and Central avenue at 11 o'clock last night, but misjudged the speed of the car. It collided with his wagn with such force that Brown was thrown from his seat to the street and was run over by his own wagon and sustained several severe scalp wounds. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment. Brown was intoxicated, and that probably caused the accident.

Newman Club Dines.

Alleged Orange Thief.

James Psilos, for whom the police of this city and the peace officers of a number of smaller towns in this county have been looking for several weeks, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Talamantes near Chatsworth Park, brought to the city and lodged in the City Jail. The prisoner is said to be an orange thief. The arresting officer says Psilos has frequently stolen whole wagonloads of oranges from various ranches. He peddled the fruit at prices which competitors could not approach at a profit, and thus is said to have cleaned up a considerable amount on every load. He was booked on a charge of petty larceny.

Weather and Crops.

The weekly crop bulletin issued by the local Weather Bureau, under date of February 27, for Southern California: The weather conditions of the past week have been unusually favorable to the growth of crops. Warm weather has prevailed, and this, with plenty of moisture, has resulted in a notably fine condition of crops generally. Grain is still being sown in some sections. Orange packing and shipping are reported active and prospect is that the bulk of the navel crop will be shipped soon from some localities. There is a little dropping from overripeness of the fruit. Celery shipping is going on rapidly. Orange trees are showing new growth. Lemon and almond trees are in bloom.

New Dress Goods and Silks

Here at these departments there is constant change; a continual performance of novelty. Every overland train adds to the variety. To keep posted on fashion this season it's necessary to pay frequent visits to the stores, else you may miss the very thing you're seeking.. Prices, too, are persuasive and they are backed by sterling quality. See today's arrivals.

New Woolens $1 Yd.

When such qualities, styles and assortments can be had for a dollar a yard is there any need of looking further?

Here are four lines, all new, proper in weight, weave and coloring for waist suits, jacket suits, demi-costumes or evening gowns.

Crepes de Paris, Mohairs, Crepellas and Panamas

In each line will be found almost every shade that fashion or tasteful dressing demands. Reseda, hunter and apple greens; tans, modes, castors and champagne; seal and fox browns; navy, royal cadet and Parsifal blues; garnets, cardinals and ox-blood reds; black, cream and white. 40 to 52 inches wide, $1.00 a yard.

Dress Silks $1 Yard

We have never shown values to equal these, nor varieties so wide, at this popular price. Besides being all new and pretty and fashionable, they are, we firmly believe, dependable wearable silks.

Checks of every possible style and dimension from a plain pin-head to an inch broad; broken plaids, overplaids and bars, hair-line checks, checked grounds with jacquard or embroidered figures. Stripes in many novel styles—hairlines and ombras. There are fancy woven grounds with small brocaded figures and allover running designs. Greens, blues, browns in all their different shades, combinations and mixtures, changeable and chameleon effects, make up the color schemes. Chiffon taffetas and louisines are the favorite weaves. At $1.00 a yard.

Emerson Pianos Greatly Reduced

There is a certain "goodness" about an Emerson Piano that makes it distinctive. It is not only its beauty of tone, nor its artistic case, but it has what might almost be called individuality—a direct appeal to the musical and aesthetic tastes of the player.

It is possible to be extravagantly economical in buying a piano. Emerson Pianos are cheap in the sense that value and cost are carefully balanced, and when from prices originally modest we take a discount of 20 per cent., the purchase of an Emerson becomes an investment rather than an expense. During this sale;

$280 buys a $350 Emerson
$320 buys a $400 Emerson
$360 buys a $450 Emerson
$380 buys a $575 Emerson

We are somewhat surprised that so few Emerson Pianos are among the large number of instruments disposed of during this Clearance Sale—the Emerson being one of our strong leaders. But this can be accounted for by the fact that this is the first day the Emersons have had much of a showing in our newspaper advertisements.

How the Sale Is Going

The results of our Annual Clearance Sale so far are remarkable—87 instruments sold in eight days! And taking last year as a criterion, the latter half of the sale will show an increase over these figures.

Sixty-eight Pianos sold last week! Monday added nine more to the list; Tuesday ten—among them three Steinway Grands, two Steinway Uprights, two Kranich & Bach Grands and two Uprights—the rest being of various other makes, both new and second-hand.

But what we wish most to impress is the fact that this sale is for a limited time—and will end just as soon as stocks are reduced to the desired level.

JUBILATION AT ST. PAUL'S.

New Parish House is Opened With Ceremonies.

Gathering of Clergy from Over the Diocese.

Handsome and Convenient is the Building.

An event long anticipated by Episcopalians took place last night in the opening and dedication of the beautiful new parish hall of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, located on South Olive street, in the rear of St. Paul's Church.

There was a large attendance of people representing the various parishes of the city and surrounding towns, all gathered to rejoice with St. Paul's in the great addition to its working facilities.

The dedicatory ceremonies consisted of a procession of the bishop and clergy through the halls to the various rooms, where in each department the dedicatory prayers were recited by the bishop, with responses by the clergy. In the parish hall a beautiful altar had been placed, and before this the bishop, surrounded by the clergy, closed this part of the service with the ritualistic service of the church for such occasions.

Bishop Johnson was assisted by the dean of the Pro-Cathedral, Rev. J. J. Wilkins, D.D.; Rev. A. G. L. Trew, D. D., of the Church of the Angels, Garvanza; Rev. W. H. Dyer, Rev. Henderson Judd, Rev. E. W. Meany, Rev. Edward Walters, Rev. Stephen Sherman of St. Athanasius Church; Rev. L. W. Ridgley, St. John's Church; Rev. T. C. Marshall, Church of the Neighborhood; Rev. Robert Windsor, St. Luke's Church, Vernon, and by the members of the vestry and the Building Committee.

After a short inspection of the various departments of the new parish house, the people assembled in the main hall, and there a programme of interesting short talks was presided over by Maj. H. T. Lee, senior warden.

Bishop Johnson spoke in a happy vein on the prosperity of the parish of St. Paul's, and also of the general growth of the entire diocese. "There are few parishes in the land so peculiarly located as is this," said the bishop, "and it is a matter for sincere congratulation that this work of development has been accomplished. This has been a work of faith, begun about two years ago, it has been justified and the building stands ready now to aid in the great missionary work that lies at our very doors."

Bishop Johnson closed his address with a glowing tribute to the efficient work of Dean Wilkins and the faithful help and watchfulness of Col. J. G. Chandler in the construction of the building. Col. Chandler has contributed his time for many months to the supervision of the work.

Rev. Charles Spaulding, rector of Coronado, spoke of the possibilities of the field before St. Paul's and declared that in deciding to remain a "downtown" church, it retains a position of immeasurable influence.

The Nestor of Southern California churchmen, Dr. A. G. L. Trew, spoke of the early history of the Episcopalian church in Los Angeles and Southern California, and compared the situation when he first entered the clergy list of California with the promising situation of today.

Rev. W. H. Dyer told of the evolution of the little brick church which stood where the stone lions now guard the entrance to the Courthouse.

Dean Wilkins was the last speaker, and he dwelt on the hope of developments yet to come in the broadening work of the parish. "This work is the result of your faith and your self-sacrifice," said Dean Wilkins, "and what we now see is only a step in the line of progression that I have faith to believe will continue. Enlarge your vision and ambitions so as to include schools, a deaconess home, school for theological students, a cathedral and other developments."

During the evening several solos were given by Miss Ebbert, and an orchestra played. At the close of the programme the ladies served light refreshments.

The new parish house was erected at a cost of $10,000. It is of old English architecture, and besides the main hall, on the second floor, which will accommodate about 400 people, there are guild rooms, choir room, missionary headquarters, bishop's offices, and other conveniences which the parish has long needed.

There is only a small debt remaining on the building. The church owns sufficient land adjoining for a site for a diocesan hall, and this will be built later. Plans are now maturing for extensive improvements in the Pro-Cathedral itself, and the annual Easter offering will be taken this year for that purpose.

PUDDING FROM SANTA CLARA.

CROSSMAN COMES HERE TO CEMENT NORTH AND SOUTH.

Starts in by Telling Us We Have Nothing but Air and All Should Go to Santa Clara County to See What a Real Thing Is—An Animated Joke.

"I want to be interviewed," said a voice on the telephone from the Van Nuys Hotel last evening.

With an olive branch in his hand and his voice modulated by the flutter of the wings of the pearly-white dove of peace, W. H. Crossman of San José had come to Los Aigeles to cement Southern and Central California in an everlasting bond of unity and bliss—by knocking us!

"California, great and glorious, but you have nothing but climate," is the slogan of the gentleman from San José, who confesses to the ownership of a million-dollar equity in a Santa Clara town and owns up to a former presidency of the Board of Trade of San José, as well as interests in scads of other things.

"I have mingled with your people here for two or three days," Mr. Crossman said last night at the Van Nuys Hotel to a Times reporter whom he had invited to meet him, "and I find that you of the south and we of Central California are working at cross purposes.

"We in California have lied too much about some things. Orange growing, for instance.

"The finest oranges grown in the world, as well as the first to reach the market, are those that come from parts of Kern and Fresno counties. That is the only section in California where oranges are raised at a profit.

"Here—here in Southern California—is the finest climate in the world," and the interviewee waxed truly eloquent.

"This is the place for the man with money who wishes a home under the most delightful conditions—where he may raise his family to the enjoyment of life and bask in peace and sunshine for the rest of his life. Here one may—"

"But we raise something else besides children," timidly ventured the reporter. "We are shipping about thirty thousand carloads of oranges this year, and the walnuts and lemons and——"

"Why, your entire orange-growing section is not worth 10 cents on the dollar," exclaimed Mr. Crossman. "I was talking today with a man who owns 250 acres of the finest orange land in Southern California and he says he can't get enough money to pay the taxes. You are getting 70 and 80 cents a box for the fruit in the East, and the industry practically has gone to smash.

"But this glorious climate, ah! there is nothing like it, even in Santa Clara county."

"My mission, I repeat," said Mr. Crossman, "is to bring Californians together—to make it possible, as it were, for one-half to see how the other half lives.

"Let the people of the Southland know that one is here who sees in their climate the most wonderful that exists, and my people of Central California will take up the refrain, which will echo down the ages as the turning point in the development of our common State."

"But what do we get out of it?" inquired the reporter.

"Why, you get a chance to go to Central California," replied the amiable Mr. Crossman.

B. FAY MILLS'S VAST PROJECT.

To Hold Many Congresses at "Venice of America."

Notables Listed from Jane Addams to Roosevelt.

Railroads Understood to be Backing Enterprise.

Rev. Benjamin Fay Mills proposes, with the tentative backing of financial heavyweights and the transcontinental railroads, to bring about at the "Venice of America" this summer a series of national sociological congresses "on a scale never before attempted in America except at the World's Parliament at Chicago in 1893." A big pavilion, to be erected at Venice, would house the assemblages, and the plan is to gather there during the months of July and August many of the most famous sociological experts from various departments of the world's work—such personages as Roosevelt, Taft, LaFollette, Thomas J. Lawson, Dolliver, Debs, Parry, Tom Johnson, Miss Jane Addams and Booker Washington.

The opening day, July 4, would be signalized by a "California Congress," with Gov. Pardee in the chair and scheduled to make the opening address, "A Heart to Heart Talk With the People of California," other invited participants being Senator Bard, Senator Perkins, Senator Flint and the Hon. William E. Smythe. This congress would continue, perhaps, several days—thus far only the general outlines of the undertaking have been sketched—and would be followed in some such succession as this:

A SAMPLE PROGRAMME.

(2.) A "Patriotic Congress," to consider especially national and international affairs. The President of the United States to be invited, by an influential committee, to attend. Secretary of War Taft to be invited to speak on "Our Colonial Problems."

(3.) A "Reform Congress," participated in by such notables as Albert Shaw, Gov. Alva Adams of Colorado, Miss Ida Tarbell, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, Thomas J. Lawson and Clarence Darrow.

(4.) A "Universal Peace Congress," graced by the presence of several distinguished advocates of international arbitration and permanent peace.

(5.) An "Economical Congress," to deliberate upon the chief commercial and industrial questions of the day, with the promise of debates between Senator Dolliver and Eugene V. Debs on "The Expediency of Socialism" and between Samuel Gompers and D. M. Parry on "The Strength and Weaknesses of Trades Unionism;" also affording opportunity to hear such noted exponents of socia and political economy as Tom Johnson, James A. Garfield, "Golden Rule" Nelson and others.

(6.) A "Congress of Religions," taken part in by great leaders of religious thought throughout the world.

(7.) A "Philanthropic Congress," addressed by Miss Jane Addams, Judge Ben Lindsey of the Denver Juvenile Court, John L. Whitman of the Chicago Jail, and Raymond Robbins.

(8.) An "Educational Congress," participated in by such teachers, trainers and upbuilders as Nicholas Murray Butler and Booker T. Washington.

(9.) A "Psychic Research Congress," with speakers of international fame selected from among such men as William T. Stead, Sir William Crookes, Sir Oliver Lodge, Minot J. Savage, I. K. Funk and Richard Hodgson.

The plan is to have these various and successive congresses administered as a symmetrical whole on the broadest principles, with an advisory council in general charge of each, composed of eminent Californians according to their special equipments.

SUMMER UNIVERSITY.

It is proposed, further, to group together at Venice during July and August a number of summer schools to teach the popular branches of general culture and individual expression, among them being listed the following:

Cumnock School of Expression, Coreia-Phipps School of Modern Languages, a special school of music conducted by eminent vocal and instrumental teachers, a school of ethics with B. Fay Mills at its head, and a school for nature study, especially in sea life, for children.

Other proposed features are: A series of popular lectures, concerts, dramas and other high-class entertainments; daily concerts "by one of the finest bands in the world," occasional dances performances by a trained amateur dramatic society, "and a general attempt to promote good fellowship among the thousands who are fortunate enough to be present; each Sunday morning a great undenominational religious service in the pavilion, with the finest of sacred music and sermons by distinguished preachers.

B. Fay Mills is to be the president and director. He states: "Gov. Pardee has been elected one of the vice-presidents, and has cordially accepted the office. There will be other noted vice-presidents—such as Senators Perkins, Bard and Newlands, Hon. William E. Smythe, Franklin K. Lane and Abbot Kinney. The First National Bank will act as treasurer."

It is believed by Mr. Mills and his associates in the undertaking that the enterprise is one to draw to Los Angeles and Venice a fine class of people from all parts of the country and draw them by the thousands.

'PHONE TO DENVER.

Los Angeles May Soon Say "Hello" to Rocky Mountains—Gigantic Projects of "Consolidated"—To Connect With the Atlantic Coast.

WITHIN ninety days this city will be connected with one of the longest telephone systems in the United States, and Angeleños will be on speaking terms with the people of Arizona and New Mexico and with citizens as far east as El Paso, Tex.

An enterprise large enough to bind all the western cities in a gigantic chain of telephonic communication is now in progress. Denver, Colo., is the present objective point, but the ramifications of the heavy copper wires will not cease until the cities of the Gulf of Mexico are reached, and with New Orleans and Los Angeles connected by direct wire it will be possible to send a message from the Pacific to the Atlantic Coast by telephone. New York is already connected by telephone with the Louisiana city.

C. W. Hinchcliffe, general manager of the Consolidated Telephone, Telegraph and Electric Company, whose present headquarters are in Tucson, Ariz., was in this city yesterday for a few hours, and was found by a Times reporter. The interesting story of the big undertaking was learned from the man who occupies an important place in one of the greatest movements interesting western brains and capital.

Mr. Hinchcliffe was disposed to give all the credit to others. He thought that President Epes Randolph was deserving of great praise because it was due to his planning that the present undertaking was possible.

"President Randolph is one of the great men of the West," said Mr. Hinchcliffe last night, "and the more I know of him the more I am convinced that he is willing to sacrifice almost everything to his consuming desire to develop the West. He is untiring in energy and devoted to his work to such an extent that he will allow nothing to circumvent his cherished plan of a united East and West."

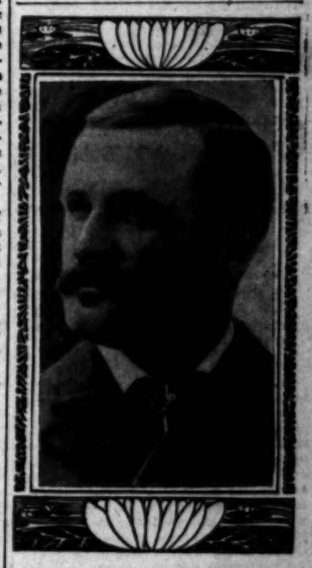
The general manager of the big concern told much concerning the plans of the company which will soon have large gangs of men at work on a line that when completed will stretch 806 miles east to El Paso and then northeast another 278 miles to Denver, completing a line of heavy copper wire 1084 miles long, giving to Angeleños one of the longest telephonic communications in the world.

Working from both ends of the long system, poles and wires will be put into place at the rate of about six miles a day. Commencing either at Colton or in the hill country around Julian, the gang from this end will operate through the Imperial Valley to Yuma, Phoenix, Tucson, Benson and Bowie. From the other end the men will work from El Paso, Deming, and on through New Mexico, connecting with the crew from this end of the line.

Branch lines will extend up into the Tonto Basin, where the big government dam is being erected, and the town of Roosevelt will be in direct communication with this city. Another line will go down into Cananea, Mex. San Diego will be on the direct line of communication and will share with Los Angeles in the benefit of the long-distance stretch.

The Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company will connect with the Consolidated system and the present movement will be a great extension of the Sunset system, as it will be only through the lines of this company that long-distance cities will be possible, Mr. Hinchcliffe was for many years connected with the Sunset company.

"The work of connecting a great system of telephonic communication is stupendous," said Mr. Hinchcliffe, "and calls for the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars for material and labor and for the purchase of costly machinery, switchboards, and the general equipment connected with long-distance operations.



C. W. HINCHCLIFFE.

"Few people realize what it means to build a system more than 1000 miles in length. Only a limited number of skilled operators can work toward its completion, and that the process of placing the high poles over mountain and desert in all kinds of weather calls for the exercise of real grit and determination on the part of the promoters.

"Copper wire weighing 570 pounds to the mile will be stretched between the poles, forming a system complete in itself, as far as the connecting of the different cities for long-distance speaking is concerned. The telephone companies of the cities, however, are being consolidated with the larger concern with a view to making the greatest wire communication possible."

The general manager will leave today for Arizona, where he goes to superintend the construction which the company is to set a-going at once. The first direct communication will be with Tucson, where the offices are located. Mr. Hinchcliffe declares that before they have finished with their present plans not an important mining camp in Arizona and New Mexico will be without communication with the outside world.

STOCK BROKERS' HEADS MAY FALL.

AT A SPECIAL meeting of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange to be held Monday, March 6, members will take action on the changes and additions to the bylaws recommended by the governing board at its meeting held February 15.

The board recommends changing article V relating to commissions to be charged by members of the exchange, as follows: "On stock selling up to 4¾ cents per share, $1 per 1000; on stock selling from 5 to 19¾ cents, $2 per 1000; on stock selling from 20 to 49¾ cents, $2.50 per 1000; on stock selling above 49¾ cents, ⅛ of 1 per cent. on amount involved; on bonds, $2.50 per $1000 par value; on bank stocks, 50 cents per share. No commission less than $1 per single transaction."

The additions to the bylaws recommended by the board relate to the control and conduct of members off the exchange, and "street sales."

The proposed article relating to the control and conduct of members off the exchange, recommends that if any member shall be accused in any business dealing, off the exchange, of dishonest conduct, complaint may be made to the governing board by any three members, whose names shall not be divulged, and it shall be the duty of the governing board to at once investigate the charges. The accused member shall have the right to be heard in defense. If the charges are proven the governing board may require the accused member to make restitution, or may suspend or expel him. If suspended or expelled, he shall have the right to appeal to the members present at any regular session. Before a vote is taken the accused member shall withdraw from the room and the vote by secret ballot be taken on the question, "Shall the action of the governing board be sustained?" If decided in the affirmative by a majority of those present and voting, the finding of the governing board shall be final. If decided in the negative, the accused member shall be in good standing as though no action had been taken.

The proposed article relating to street sales reads as follows:

"A committee of three members of this exchange shall be appointed by the members of the exchange at the passage of this amendment and annually thereafter at the annual meeting of the members for the election of a governing board, to be known as 'Street Sale Committee,' two members of which shall constitute a quorum and their decision to be final.

"Any member may, at any regular session, report a street or office sale which shall, unless objection is made thereto by any member, be published in the official bulletin for the day, under the caption 'street sales.' Should any member object to such publication the matter shall at once be referred to the Street Sale Committee, who shall require the member requesting the report of such sale to furnish authentic proof that such sale was bona fide and fully consummated. Should the member fail to make satisfactory proof to said committee, the sale shall not be reported. If a majority of said committee be convinced the sale was bona fide it shall be published. The members of said committee are in honor bound not to reveal or take any advantage of information gained in the discharge of their duty. Vacancies on this committee between elections shall be filled by the governing board."

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

At the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday, Mr. James introduced a resolution looking to the possibility of selling saloon-license permits at auction.

By the dropping of Oscar Nunnaley by the Civil Service Commission, Assessor Lewis secures J. B. Conrad as his permanent appointee for chief deputy.

The old-time dispute between Henne and Lankershim over the addition of two stories to the Lankershim building is to again come up in the courts, the Supreme Court having reversed the trial court on the denial to grant a new trial.

Mrs. Maie C. Stuart of Pasadena is again on the trail of her young husband, and this time the suit is to recover for the cost of the wife's board and maintenance.

PUBLIC ADVERTISING—NEW TODAY. (1.) Ordinance granting street-railway franchise to the Pacific Electric Railway Company. (2.) AT THE CITY HALL.

GOLD BUG BITES POLICE BOARD.

CASH OF HIGHEST BIDDER MAY WIN LICENSE.

Proposal to Sell Saloon Permits to the Highest Bidder—Mayor McAleer Signs Contract for Lighting Broadway—Assessor Lewis Has His Chief Deputy.

The Police Commission scented cash in the liquor license traffic yesterday. They found themselves with the application of E. R. Cooper for a license for the new Hotel Lankershim, which had been on the hook for several weeks. At the meeting of the board last week they revoked the license of a saloon over in Sonoratown, which belonged to Maier & Zobelein, brewers, and the supposition was that Cooper's application would be taken up yesterday and the license granted to him.

But two other applications that were filed for saloon license seemed to have the effect of creating a love of lucre and Cooper's application remained on the hook.

They discovered an application from Frank Rademacher for a saloon to be located at Fourth and San Pedro streets. Rademacher is well known as chairman of the Board of Engineer Examiners, and has been in the employ of Maier & Zobelein for five years, and, of course, has their backing for the license. There is no question but they would be willing to pay a good sum to get back the revoked license and install it in a new location.

Then there was still another application for the license. It came from the Southern Commercial Company, No. 112 Commercial street, at which place a wholesale liquor and grocery business is being conducted by Charles L. Egger & Co., but there are earmarks about the Southern Commercial Company's application that lead some people to suppose that Maier & Zobelein are the power behind the throne in this also. But whether that is a fact or not, the application looks well from a financial standpoint.

While Mr. Cooper put up a fight against the "license trust," it goes without saying that he, too, would be glad to pay well for a license for his hotel rather than to lose it entirely.

Under these circumstances the Police Commission conceived the notion of selling the license to the highest bidder. At the close of the routine business, after the two new applications had been filed and Mr. Cooper's application did not show up in the basket, Mr. James offered a suggestion that this method of receiving and filing applications should not be taken as indicating a preference in favor of the earliest applicant getting the license. A moment later he offered a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of two "to report on the power and authority of the board to grant permits for saloon licenses to the highest cash bidder."

Mayor McAleer appointed Messrs. James and Gates, and under the resolution they will report at the next meeting.

Should the report be in favor of the right of the board to adopt the course suggested, there will be a warm bidding contest on hand, with the chances against the Lankershim, should there be anything in the supposition that there is collusion between the other two bidders.

Will Sign Light Contract.

Mayor McAleer held a conference yesterday with the officers of the Broadway Boulevard and Improvement Association, with the object of inducing the association to pay part of the bill for the lighting of the new system which they had installed and presented to the city. The conference resulted in the association agreeing to pay one-half the expense for the fiscal year, and the Mayor thereupon agreed to sign the contract with the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company. The labor in connecting the posts with the conduit will be considerable and will require four or five weeks' time.

Roar from "Klondike Hill."

Residents of West Fifth street between Bixel and Boyiston, yesterday filed a petition in the City Clerk's office praying the City Council to give them relief from a nuisance occasioned by a city improvement, made eight or nine years ago.

At the time stated the city cut through "Klondike Hill," forming Beaudry avenue on one side and Boyiston street on the other. The dirt from the hill was dumped along West Fifth street, off toward Fremont avenue, in some places reaching a depth of thirty feet.

The late wet season has caused the street in the section complained of to sink, to the damage of sidewalks and walls, and the City Council is asked to give a means of outlet to the water in order that it may not hereafter be held there to seep through and destroy the street.

Keep Wolf from Door.

There is less gold in the City Treasury than last month, but still there is sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. Auditor L. H. Schwaebe and chief deputy, L. H. Bryant, counted the cash yesterday to see whether "Uncle Billy" still had the balance on the right side of the ledger and could show up the specie to meet the figures. There is no surprise to announce that every cent of it lies safely in the vaults, and neither Treasurer Workman nor the dear people need lose any sleep on that score. In the subtreasury the count showed $2,060,000 in gold, and in the City Hall vault, $89,954.38, a grand total of $2,159,954.38. This is $39,239.21 less than when the cash was counted last month.

City Hall Notes.

Capt. Auble stated to the Police Commission yesterday that Patrolmen Story and Peters, who were resting under charges preferred by A. M. Nieto, had been detailed from headquarters to go to a certain house and arrest Nieto and that they found him hidden in a closet, half disrobed. He said the charge against the officers was simply spite work without any grounds, and as the complainant was now ready to withdraw the charges he thought the officers should be exonerated. A motion was adopted accordingly.

The Crown Hill Improvement Association filed a general protest against the issuance of any saloon, restaurant or wholesale liquor license in the territory adjacent to the west end of the Third-street tunnel, and asked to be notified should an application be filed from that district. The statement was made that the community is unanimously opposed to having any sort of liquor license there. The board acquiesced in the request and filed the protest.

Lewis C. Haller, a death-colored Social-Laborite, petitioned for the privilege of holding street meetings every Saturday and Tuesday evening at either Seventh and Spring, Seventh and Broadway or Main and Temple. He was allowed to speak before the board, after which his request was unanimously denied.

Councilman Percy Hammon will appoint W. F. Harris, a former newspaper reporter, to the third position as telephone operator at the Police Station.

Assessor Lewis Wins.

After many unnecessary trials and tribulations all the obstacles are removed from the path of Assessor Lewis, in his desire to get a chief deputy of his own choice. Only two men took the examination before the Civil Service Commission and but one—J. B. Conrad—passed. He has been filling the office of chief deputy since the suspension of Oscar Nunnaley, and now that Nunnaley has been finally dropped by the commission because of pernicious activity at election time, Conrad will continue right along as the regular appointee. The other applicant who took the examination was I. Q. Dague, who some years ago was an employé in the office of the Assessor.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

HENNE'S PARTY WALL FIGHT.

COURT SAYS LANKERSHIM HAS BUILT TOO HIGH.

Two Stories Added on Block and the Injunction First Asked for Will No Longer Avail—Litigation Will Take on a New Phase—Contest is a Sizzling One.

The remittitur arrived yesterday from the Supreme Court in the somewhat noted case of C. Henne against J. B. Lankershim, wherein the parties made a sizzling contest in the local courts, which was carried up on appeal. Now the whole subject matter of the litigation will have to be fought over again.

The dispute between these two property owners arose out of the determination of Mr. Lankershim to improve his block at Third and Spring streets by adding two additional stories to the building. In 1896 both the plaintiff and the defendant entered into an agreement regarding their respective rights in the party wall. One-half of this wall was to be built upon Henne's land and the other one-half on the Lankershim land, and proper arrangements was made regarding the cost and the payments by each party.

Both buildings were erected under the terms of this agreement, and have been numbered among the finest of the city blocks. But in 1902 Mr. Lankershim decided to add two stories to his building, and this raised all the trouble. Mr. Henne objected for a variety of reasons, and the dispute was carried into court on an application for an injunction to restrain Lankershim from carrying his plan into execution. Henne lost his case and then moved for a new trial, and was denied. From that denial he appealed and now the Supreme Court has determined that the trial court was wrong in overruling the motion for a new trial, and incidentally refers with much directness to some of the leading issues in the case.

Justice Angellotti, who wrote the opinion, which is concurred in by Van Dyke and Shaw, says that he is satisfied that the defendant was not entitled to add to the height of his building. The written agreement between Henne and Lankershim being for a five-story wall, the height was limited by that agreement to five stories. For this and other reasons adduced the order appealed from is reversed.

In the meantime the two additional stories have been completed and have been occupied by tenants for a long time.

HER NAME WAS SMITH.

BUT IT REMAINS WEBB.

When Mrs. Webb refused to live any longer with her husband, Dr. Warren W. Webb, a cancer specialist in this city, and skipped back to her people in the State of Washington, she said that she never loved but one man and his name was Smith, her first husband, by whom she had several children.

Dr. Webb used to practice in the northern State and there met and married the relict of the lamented Smith. She had some property and so had Webb, and coming to Los Angeles the doctor bought a comfortable home on Forty-seventh street.

Mrs. Webb wanted a large and imposing home. Then, too, the climate of Los Angeles was not to her liking. There was too much sunshine. As for the people here—well, she didn't like them at all. In July, 1903, Mrs. Webb announced her ultimatum to the doctor—she was going at once back to the deliciously exhilarating climate of Washington, and she went. Before leaving, property interests were arranged and a last effort put forth by Webb to get her to change her mind. He asked his friend, Dr. Evans, to see his wife and try and bring about a reconciliation. Dr. Evans went cautiously to work and discovered that among the other causes of complaint, Mrs. Webb was out of sympathy with her husband's views on religion.

Yesterday all of this and much more was told to Judge Conrey. Dr. Webb said that his wife wrote to him upon being served with the summons in the divorce proceeding, asking that she might be allowed by the court to resume her previous name of Smith. The decree was granted to Dr. Webb, but as no order to that effect was made, the ex-wife will continue to bear the name of Webb.

GILDED YOUTH SUED

FOR WIFE'S BOARD BILL.

Another move was made yesterday in the marital entanglement in which William C. Stuart, Jr., and wife of Pasadena have become involved, by John F. Coulling, beginning a suit against the young husband for board and maintenance of Mrs. Maie C. Stuart.

The action has been begun through Attorney J. H. Merriam of Pasadena, and the complaint is an exceedingly brief document. It is alleged that between April 12, of last year, and January 5, 1905, Stuart made no provision for his wife, and that the plaintiff, in good faith, supplied her with board and clothing, medical attendance and other personal living expenses necessary for her support and maintenance, to the amount of $681.80.

It is also alleged that Mrs. Maie C. Stuart never abandoned her husband, nor has lived separate from him by agreement, and by reason of these premises, Stuart has become indebted to the plaintiff in the amount named, for which amount judgment is asked.

DIVIDED FAMILY.

STRENUOUS MRS. EDWARDS.

Charles K. Edwards was a farmer and gardener back in Michigan, but throat and lung trouble warned him that he must move. His doctors recommended California. His wife said he might go West if he liked, but Michican was good enough for her.

The husband and second daughter came to Los Angeles, and though Mrs. Edwards occasionally writes to the girl, she never refers to her husband. The daughter yesterday said that all the trouble arose from her mother's bad temper. She belongs to a wealthy family, and is miserable unless things go exactly to suit her.

Judge Allen granted the decree of divorce asked for.

WEE BIT UNCANNY.

DISCIPLE OF PYTHAGORAS.

George Sheperd is a Scotchman who lives at Garvanza, and who, under the stress of prolonged illness, has had a revelation from God—he says. He argued the point with Judge Allen yesterday.

As the peculiarities of the man are neither dangerous nor offensive, he was discharged.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ASCOT SLANG. A flip-looking little fellow pleaded guilty before Judge Smith yesterday to having embezzled a bicycle. He gave his name as Charles Dugan, and said that his business was that of exercising the horses at the Ascot Park track. "Oh," exclaimed the court. "Do you ride the jumpers?" "No, I don't," said Dugan. "I ride the flats." He got 120 days in the County Jail, and the court is still wondering what he meant.

TWICE DIVORCED. Mary F. Dunn was granted a divorce from Charles A. Dunn by Judge York yesterday, on the ground of cruelty. The parties have been living on a ranch at Compton with their six children, and have been married for about twenty-five years. Some years ago Mrs. Dunn got a divorce, but remarried her divorced husband in 1903. In the interval he had not changed his habits and in his drunken fits he would curse and abuse his wife until she was again obliged to seek release from the galling bonds.

MINIMUM SENTENCE. Arthur Steele, an Englishman of good appearance and advanced years, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Smith to having forged a check for $7. The check was drawn on the Southern California Savings Bank and purported to have been signed by Ulrich Knoch. When asked if he had anything to say, Steele stated that he merely wished to say that the person whose signature was appended to the check had no deposit with the bank, and no effort whatever had been made to make a copy of the signature of any person. Judge Smith made no comment on this explanation, but sentenced the defendant to one year at Folsom.

LECHEROUS BRUTE. J. H. Murray, who was found guilty by a jury of having assaulted indecently five-year-old Madelina Morales, was sentenced yesterday to five years at Folsom. Murray has given notice of appeal.

WIFE IN MEXICO. J. I. Parker was granted a decree by Judge Trask yesterday, divorcing him from Kitty A. Parker, on the ground of desertion. Parker is engaged in the retail shoe business in this city and was married in December, 1899. In May, 1901, his wife skipped to the City of Mexico. He went to Mexico to try to prevail upon her to return, but Mrs. Parker had accepted a situation in a store, and refused to return.

AN EXHAUSTED LIFE. W. J. Clark, who mumbled out that he is 85 years of age, was ordered committed to the State Asylum at Patton by Judge Allen yesterday. The old man was wheeled into court in an invalid chair and sat with his head sunk on his breast oblivious to his surroundings, save when roused into momentary consciousness. Mr. Clark has been living with his daughter on Bunker Hill avenue and for two years past he has been growing more and more imbecile and irritable. He imagines that spirits are after him and at times is violent. Senile debility has claimed him for its own FICKLE BLACKSMITH. Mrs. Blanche Percy was divorced yesterday from Claude K. Percy. They were married at Cleveland, O. The husband was a burly blacksmith and made a good living. In a short time he tired of his wife and fell in love with another woman who had a little money. He eloped with her and came to Los Angeles and passed the woman off as Mrs. Percy. The wife followed when she had succeeded through the police and the Maccabees in locating him, but Percy told her he wouldn't have her on any account. Recently Percy and his paramour have been living at Claremont, where he has a good blacksmith shop, a comfortable cottage and some little property, all standing, however, in the name of his acting wife. He grumbled when he learned that his wife was about to ask for a divorce, and said that now he would have to get out of Claremont and leave the soft snap of $5 a day just because his wife could not let him alone. Judge Allen granted the decree asked for.

ALTA SANTA MONICA. The Alta Santa Monica Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $160,000, all of which has been subscribed. The directors are: R. C. Gillis, H. W. O'Melveny, Los Angeles; H. M. Gorham, Hollywood; Roy and Sam Jones, Santa Monica.

TO MAKE CLOTHING. Wenning & Co. have incorporated as clothiers, with a capital stock of $25,000, of which $25 has been subscribed. The directors are: William Wenning, A. J. Harshberger, L. H. Winegar, C. Squires and E. O. Edgerton, all of Los Angeles.

SENT TO PATTON. George Johnson talked sensibly to the Lunacy Commission yesterday on all subjects but one; he imagined that two fellows he had known while working in a railway camp were making a hot time for him in the County Hospital. Every night or two they would come along and drag him to the bathroom and there plump him into a full tub of water. Johnson, on one occasion ran in a state of nudity outside the building and was found in an outhouse. About three months ago he had an accident in which his head suffered, and it was supposed that the skull was fractured. At the County Hospital he was trephined, and for a time he appeared to do well, but lately his mind has become distorted. Judge Allen ordered him committed to Patton.

RECEIVED THE PLUNDER. R. J. Blair was yesterday before Judge Smith charged with having received a bicycle knowing the same to have been stolen. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to ninety days in the County Jail. His partner was a man named Chapman, who actually stole the wheel and who also was sentenced to a similar term in jail by Judge Smith.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

RUBEL MUST FACE A JURY.

HINDU PALMIST FAKER HELD TO ANSWER FOR USING A GUN.

Prosecution Confident of Sending Him to Penitentiary—Bogus Cripple Sentenced to Thirty Days on the Chain Gang—Men Who Attacked a Policeman Pay Fines.

If F. Rubel, the Hindu fake palmist, who, while working his graft in a shack near the postoffice, became so enraged at Harry Clemente, a business competitor, that he proceeded to fill him full of bullet holes, does not do time in one of the penitentiaries, it will be surprising to the prosecution.

Rubel's examining trial was concluded in Justice Austin's court yesterday and he was held to answer to the Superior Court, his bail being fixed at $2000. Just what his defense will be is not known, as he presented no evidence whatever at the examination and at its conclusion his attorney endeavored to have him released on the lowest possible bail.

The effort was made to show that Rubel had ample provocation for trying to kill his business rival, but it was not successful.

Gave Him Thirty Days.

Under ordinary circumstances a simple case of violating the ordinance intended to regulate peddling would not receive much attention, but there was a case in Justice Chambers's court yesterday in which the rigid enforcement of the ordinance made it possible to impose deserved punishment upon a faker. J. C. Wilson, a cripple, has been selling cheap rings, spectacles and other articles, representing them as pure gold. He made considerable money and when he was arrested he made his boast that he had enough to pay his fine. Justice Chambers handed him something of a surprise, however, when, after he had pleaded guilty and the court learned the circumstances, he sentenced him to thirty days on the chain-gang.

Partly Ziegler's Fault.

Victor Day and E. Magley were fined $15 and $10 respectively by Justice Chambers yesterday on charges of battery. These are the two members of the gang of race-track toughs who assaulted Patrolman Tom Ziegler at First and Spring streets and who were subdued by that officer by the use of his handcuffs as a club. There was no denial of the assault, the defendants pleading that they did not know that Ziegler was an officer. Ziegler swore that he had told them he was a policeman, but the defendants contended that they did not hear him if he made that declaration. It was shown that when Ziegler began using his handcuffs the crowd realized his official position and the fight immediately stopped.

Turned Hose on Them.

Mrs. Florence Fisher lives on Temple street and in her neighborhood there is a crowd of boys who, according to her statements, greatly annoy her at times. Several days ago she is alleged to have turned the hose on the boys and they retaliated by causing her arrest on a charge of battery. It was shown in court yesterday that she had not purposely wet the boys, but even had she done so she would have been justified in her action. The case was dismissed.

Geha Pleaded Guilty.

Joseph Geha, who created a scene on February 8 by pursuing his wife into a store and there making a motion as if to draw a revolver, which caused him to be immediately seized and disarmed by two clerks, pleaded guilty in Justice Chambers's court yesterday to a charge of carrying concealed a deadly weapon and was fined $25.

Police Court Notes.

The case against Antonia Nieto, formerly a deputy constable, charged with adultery, was dismissed in Justice Austin's court yesterday and immediately a new complaint was issued against him in Justice Chambers's court on the same charge, it being found necessary to amend the complaint in several important particulars. Nieto is the man who preferred charges against Patrolmen Peterson and Story before the Board of Police Commissioners, but the charges were dismissed by that body yesterday. He declares he is being persecuted, but the arresting officers say they have abundant evidence to convict.

George Clay, colored, paid $10 yesterday in Justice Chambers's court for the pleasure which he derived from having thrashed a white barber near Sixth and Broadway.

E. W. Passon was a driver for a bakery company and "forgot" to return a large box of crackers which had been sent out for delivery to a customer who refused them. He will either have to pay $30 or remain in jail for thirty days, because he was adjudged guilty of petty larceny yesterday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PAVILION, SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Battling" Nelson of Chicago demonstrated tonight that his former victory over "Young Corbett" of Denver was no fluke, by again defeating him decisively in nine rounds in what was to have been a twenty-round contest. Corbett had the best of advice in training, and in the ring his seconds were the cleverest that could be obtained in the West. By his own confession, he never was in better condition. Despite all this, Nelson wore him down and had him helpless on the mat in the ninth round.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Woodward's Pavilion, Feb. 28.—"Battling" Nelson of Chicago made "Young Corbett" of Denver appear the veriest tyro at the fighting game tonight, when he practically knocked him out in the middle of the ninth round. In order to save their man a complete knockout the seconds threw up the sponge.

The man who twice met Terry McGovern was not in it with the young Dane at any stage of the game. He seemed to lack speed and certainly lacked accuracy. In the early part of the fight on several occasions he straightened Nelson up with rights and lefts on the jaw, but when it came to following up his advantage his swings were wild. He seemed to be overanxious, while Nelson at all times was cool and confident.

In the seventh round, when it appeared as if Corbett were practically gone, he showed a flash of his old-time speed, and landed several severe punches on Nelson's ribs and jaw. From the fifth round on, Nelson had Corbett in a corner or against the ropes, and landed heavy blows at will.

Corbett in some way managed to protect himself from a knockout blow until the middle of the ninth round. Then, in a rally, Nelson swung his right over the jaw, and Corbett went down on his back. He remained down, and then stood up against the ropes with his hands lowered, unable to protect himself. Nelson partly toppled him over with a swing on the jaw, but before Corbett was fairly on the mat, his seconds threw up the sponge. The round lasted 2m. 25s.

In the eighth round Nelson had Corbett against the ropes, and the Denver man claimed a foul and lowered his hands. No foul was apparent, and the referee did not allow it.

Nelson tonight demonstrated that he is Corbett's superior in speed, accuracy and aim, ability to take punishment and stiff punches.

After the fight was over, Corbett had but very little to say. He had no excuses to offer. Nelson, of course, was very happy, and announced that his next effort would be to obtain a fight with Britt, who had once defeated him. The fight tonight was heavily played by the betting element. The odds were 10 to 8, and were eagerly snapped at by Corbett's admirers, but there was plenty of Nelson money in sight, and all bets offered were taken.

TO DISPOSE OF PAT POWERS.

PLOT IN EASTERN LEAGUE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is reported that George Stallings of the Buffalo club and Howard Griffith, the deposed president of the Jersey City Club, are the prime movers in a plot to depose "Pat" Powers from the presidency of the Eastern League.

It is alleged that the first move was made at Cincinnati, when Griffiths was elected chairman of the committee to conduct the negotiations with Majors in relation to the draft rule. Powers was president of the National Association, and should have represented the Minors in so important a matter. It was regarded as a direct slap at that official. He is said to have retaliated by ousting Griffith from the presidency of the Jersey City team of the Eastern League, and that brought the dispute to a focus.

George Tebeau, "Pooh Bah" of the American Association, is also said to be arrayed against Powers, and is giving his moral aid to Stallings and Griffith, who intend to call a special meeting and vote Powers out of office.

The reason assigned for the alleged revolt against Powers is that he insisted on being a one-man power, both in the Eastern and National Leagues, and that others determined to rearrange matters so that they would have a finger in the pie.

YALE-HARVARD RACES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the captains and managers of the Yale and Harvard crews, held in New London, arrangements have been made for the annual races, June 27 being named as the date. It was decided to ask C. H. Schweppe of Harvard to be chairman of the Regatta Committee and W. A. Meilkeleham to be referee.

GOOD THINGS ARE BAD ONES.

PADDOCK SPECIALS FAIL TO FINISH RIGHT.

Considerable Money is Dropped on Supposed Winners That Couldn't Win—Only One Favorite Lands in Front—Sheriff Bell Runs Impressive Race—Big Crowd Present.

Good things are all right in their place, but when they don't get there they are about as bad as a telephone when you want some one quickly. Like the University Traction cars they run about when they feel like it, and a large bunch of sports thought this yesterday at Ascot when the ones they didn't like but played just the same, finished about where they figured to.

It is a costly operation trying to make horses run where you want them to, merely by betting on them, and those who yesterday bet on Flora Bright, Sweet Kittie Bellairs, Mart Gentry, Smithy Kane and Watercure will probably go right back and do the same thing again today if they have the chance. This is part of "hoss race"

BUSIEST DAY FOR BALL MEN.

LOOLOOS ANXIOUS TO BEGIN THEIR TRAINING.

Men Could Not Wait and Went "to it" Yesterday, Taking Advantage of Favorable Weather—Toman and Flood Expected Today—Also Eager and Baum.

Though not obliged to report until this morning at 11 o'clock nearly every man on Morley's pay roll took advantage of a fine spell of hot weather yesterday by presenting himself at the ball park for an hour or two of light training preliminary to the hard grind which will begin at noon today.

Most of the local players started slowly, and as the time before the opening of the season is ample, the team members expect to take their conditioning easily. A few more such days as yesterday will do great things; as one of the players put it, "such weather starts the sap running, and makes old trees as good as new."

Rain will of coprse prevent the beginning of practice today, provided there be enough of a downpour.

Toman and Flood are expected in by any train now, and Capt. Dilion, though unable to be on hand for the first day's training, will not be far behind.

The men now here are all more than usually anxious for the game, and beyond doubt the coming of Dillon has had much to do with the reklindling of their enthusiasm. Last summer's apathy will not be repeated during the pennant race to come.

Morley's new pitchers, Toren and Goodwin, seem to be in pretty fair shape already. They are an athletic pair of lads, though widely dissimilar in physique. Toren is big enough to make two of Goodwin, but both are of spare, wiry figure, and such men as require but little work to keep themselves fit.

"Little Arthur" Ross, the left fielder, has been somewhat indisposed since reaching town, though he declares he never felt better than during the winter in the East, although the cold was somewhat unusual in the part of New York where his family reside. Ross has returned with the same hirsuite appendage which graced his upper lip on his initial appearance, and expects to play in it. He has always had some trouble with his stomach, and at times it incapacitates him from doing his best, but when right a better little fielder never lived, and he can use the stick as well as many a man of much greater weight.

Heine Spies, the cast-iron catcher, is apparently as hard as nails now, and all he needs do is limber up a bit. This sturdy Teuton never gets far out of condition. His habits are of the best, and his natural endurance seems to warrant the prediction that Heinie will be on the baseball turf for many moons to come.

Jud Smith, the elongated tooth carpenter who covers third base and considerable of the adjacent territory, has been working hard at his profession all winter, but is as keen as any. Smith takes pretty good care of himself during the off season, but is one of those chaps who warms up to his work slowly and needs a good deal of training before fit.

Bobby Eager and Charlie Baum, the "busher battery" of the Looloos last year, are expected in from San Francisco today.

Frank Selee's Chicago team is on the trail, and will with favorable weather probably make camp at Santa Monica by tonight.

PORTLAND FIRST.

ONLY ON EMONTH MORE.

The baseball season this year will open Thursday, March 30, and will close Friday, December 1, according to the statement of Manager Morley last night.

The schedule for the season has already been agreed upon, but will not be given out for publication until a week before play begins. It can be stated, however, that the local fans will have three weeks of baseball as a starter, Portland, Tacoma and Seattle playing here in succession. For the opening week with Portland here, Tacoma will play against Oakland at Oakland, and Seattle against San Francisco at San Francisco.

CHARIOT RACES.

OLD-FASHIONED SPORT.

What will doubtless prove a novelty in the sporting line will be a programme of chariot races and other speed contests to be held at Agricultural Park on Saturday of next week. The leading contestants will be A. N. Wiggins and P. B. Michel, the winners of the chariot races held at the Pasadena rose carnivals during the past two years. They will race best two in three heats in chariots to be built especially for the occasion and it is said the prize will be a substantial purse and the major per cent. of the gate receipts. In addition to these races there will be pony races and other events.

CLEANING THE STREETS.

If you wish to get a thing clean, wash it. This is a good maxim in most cases. Why not good as applied to the streets of Los Angeles? These same streets are at the present time about as unclean as can be found anywhere, notwithstanding all the voluminous talk that has been indulged in at various and divers times relative to the best and most sanitary methods by which they may be properly cleansed.

After due consideration and authorization, Street Superintendent Hanley has entered upon the experiment of washing the paved streets of Los Angeles. He is zealously trying to get them clean by the vigorous use of scrubbing brushes and an abundance of water. More strength to his elbow, and to the elbows of his stalwart assistants. Once the coating of mud and refuse has been thoroughly cleaned off from the asphalted streets perhaps it will be possible to keep the surfaces of these streets in a passably clean condition by a frequent repetition of the process, provided the free use of water does not injure the asphalt too much, and provided, moreover, that the water supply holds out.

This latter consideration may prove important in the summer months when water is less plentiful than now. The proper flushing of the streets will require a large quantity of water, and the quantity required will increase with the increase of the paved area. On the other hand, the quantity of water required for domestic purposes will rapidly increase with the growth of the city. The time when the people of Los Angeles will be obliged to be much more economical in the use of water than they have been heretofore is near at hand, and the exigencies of this approaching situation must be reckoned with. It is perfectly clear that if we have not the water to spare for the purpose of scrubbing and flushing the streets, the idea of keeping them clean in that way will have to be abandoned.

There is practically no doubt that the downtown streets can be kept measureably free from dirt by washing them frequently, but as this method is likely to be found impracticable because of the lack of sufficient water, we shall probably be compelled to resort to some other method, and be content with an occasional scrubbing—possibly once a week, like the family washing. One thing may be set down as certain, and that is that we must have clean streets at whatever cost. Los Angeles has too long been subjected to criticism, much of which was fully deserved, because of her unclean, unkempt, and unsanitary streets. We are getting very tired of this sort of criticism, and the time has come to put a stop both to the criticism and to the nuisance which gives rise to it.

JUPITER'S SEVENTH SATELLITE.

The discovery of another Jovian satellite by Prof. Perrine of the Lick Observatory, so soon after he had announced his discovery of the sixth satellite, is an event of great importance to the scientific world, of startling significance to all astronomers, and will be read with deep interest by every person who is familiar with the most elementary principles of the sublime science.

The fecundity of the giant planets is something remarkable. Their already large families of moons are receiving accessions at the rate of one a month. It is true that these new arrivals have nothing to boast of in respect to size, the ninth satellite of Saturn, and the sixth and seventh of Jupiter, just discovered being objects too minute to be seen by any but the most powerful telescopes, and even then they can be discerned only by the most keen-eyed and practiced observers. Their existence would, perhaps, have been unsuspected for generations to come had it not been for the aid of the sensitive photographic film.

Prof. Perrine's portrait lens covers a section of the heavens about two degrees square, and it notes the presence of objects down to the 16th magnitude. When such a plate is centered on Jupiter, it embraces all its known moons and such stars as happen to be in the line of sight. If one of those faint stars, instead of being fixed, is found to change its position with respect to the adjacent stars, it becomes an object of suspicion, and special attention is directed to it. It may be an unknown asteroid and consequently worthy of being recorded. Or it may be, as in the present instance, a hitherto undiscovered satellite, in which case universal interest will be manifested in its future career, and speculation will be rife as to its past history.

The little object now discovered is so exceedingly minute, it is so immersed among brighter stars, that it requires a careful inspection to detect and verify it. But it is there, and furthermore it has been carried along with Jupiter in his vast Jovian orbit. But there is still a slight possibility that it is one of the undiscovered asteroids, and at least one more observation will be necessary before the eager young astronomer can safely make his announcement to the world.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD HOUSE.

The House of the Good Shepherd, recently established in Los Angeles, is an institution which, from an impartial view, would appear to appeal in an especial manner to the sympathies and support of the whole community. Although it is conducted by Catholic nuns, we are assured by reliable authority that the house is strictly nonsectarian in its practices. The religious beliefs of the inmates are not interfered with nor influenced in any way. The only effort made is to teach the broad beliefs of Christianity and to rescue fallen girls and women from lives of shame and to restore them to pathways of virtue and the ways of righteousness.

Owing to the fact that the courts of Los Angeles county have committed a number of girls to the House of the Good Shepherd, there is an impression abroad that the institution is to some extent supported from the public funds. This is not the case. No part of the public revenues is being so diverted. On the contrary, the house depends entirely on private philanthropy for its existence. But it is worthy of mention that the courts have expressed the greatest satisfaction at the results of their experiments in sending wayward persons to the House of the Good Shepherd, and aver that they have cognizance of many young girls who have been rescued by this means.

No spectacle more heartrending than that of a young girl living the terrible life of the underworld can be imagined. Poor, abused little creatures, outraged and wronged, the playthings of sensual brutality and the mockery of the vandals of virtue, who is to help them and save them from an existence that is worse than death? Surely no appeal that goes out in their behalf would be disregarded by any man who ever loved a sister or whose own heart has not been calloused with crime. Whatever saving hand is put forth to reach these poor waifs of society, that hand should be supported. And, if the House of the Good Shepherd is doing the work that it certainly seems to be doing, this community owes it constant gratitude and unfailing support.

Japan's latest loan is purely for domestic purposes and is a mere trifle of $45,000,000. If the Japs enjoy working for a "dead horse" there is a vista of delight stretching out before them on the king's highway of debt that will hold them even unto the 'steenth generation. Such is war and its glamored glories.

It is announced that Thomas Jefferson also will soon have another birthday, the same to arrive on April 13. As that fateful number stares us in the face we can the more readily understand why it is that the Democratic party has been so unlucky.

In view of the fact that almost every railway company in the country prints a monthly magazine, it will be seen that President Roosevelt's courage must be all that has been claimed for it or he never would have tackled the freight-rate question.

Secretary of State John Hay makes the announcement that the real name of Jinr Bludso was Fairchild. The election of a Vice-President being so long past, however, it is difficult to see how the announcement can have any political significance.

It will be noted that while we are actively engaged in busting the trusts Rockefeller has just been caught red-handed forming the biggest railroad combination ever heard of. And the question is, what are we going to do about it?

No matter what the weather may prove to be in New York City next St. Patrick's Day, it will cut no figure at all with those 150,000 Irishmen who are to be in the parade while President Roosevelt is in the grand stand.

An English authoress has made a great hit with a new book entitled "Kitchen Comedies." It is being seized upon with avidity by housewives who never knew before that kitchens contained anything but tragedies.

Scientists have discovered that a certain class of insects are fond of alcohol. Perhaps if the problem of devolution were probed to the bottom it would be found that those insects were once a certain class of men.

The Chicago masher who was set on fire by a box of his own matches doubtless also suffered the loss of the cigarettes on his person at the time of the conflagration, although it is not so stated in the reports.

It is no longer necessary to cast any reflections whatever on the reputation of the people of Arizona for truth and veracity. The continuous rains have rendered the waters of the Hassayampa unfit to drink.

The excuse that Russia makes for the parole breakers of the Lena is that the men are young. They were also homesick, which is a better excuse and one that will appeal the stronger to every human heart.

As the procession moves along, a large sized premonition of fear is seizing upon the country to the effect that a few other things will be busted before we see the trusts in that condition.

Although Kaiser Wilhelm has been given a doctor's degree by the University of Pennsylvania, he probably will not be any more willing to take his own medicine than the other doctors are.

While the subject is up, those European sharks should be notified that if they continue to recklessly lend money to South America they'll have to take their chances to collect it.

While the agitation for fair freight rates is on, steps might also be taken to restrict the railroads in the number of people they shall be allowed to kill annually.

The Burlington Hawkeye asks "What ails Iowa?" The answer probably is that she's getting lonesome, most of her sons and daughters having emigrated to California.

Chicago is now counting on the arrival of spring in another month. In another month the windy citizens will still be counting on its arrival in another month.

The outlook now is that the legislatures of both Delaware and Missouri will fail to elect United States Senators this year. And maybe it is just as well.

The Boston Post advises the President to investigate "all sides" of the Standard Oil Company. He certainly will do so, especially the insides of the "critter."

If Jupiter continues to gather satellites about itself at its present rate it will soon be in a position to rival some of our boss politicians.

In endeavoring to force the railroads to give fair rates the President's intention is merely to secure a fair deal for the public.

BITS OF VERSE.

LAUGH-AWAY LAND.

Do you know, little tad, when the West is red,
And the swamps are mistry gray,
The sand man comes to your trundle bed
To carry you far away,
To carry you off in his tinkling cart
Thats filled with silver sand?
He fills your eyes and then you start
For a trip to Laugh-Away Land!
Rollicking, care-free, Laugh-Away Land!

It's a wonderful road, grandma will tell,
The route of the sand man's cart;
Through orchards sweet where fairies dwell
And rabbits timidly dart.
There are gay playgrounds where the sand man stops,
And even a circus band,
That plays in front of the candy shops
On the road to Laugh-Away Land!
Juvenile, jolly Laugh-Away Land!

So heed, little boy, to the chiming gong,
For the sand man's never late;
And you must be asleep when he comes along,
For he hasn't the time to wait.
Don't miss the trip when he comes again
In his tinkling cart of sand;
For in after years you'll wish in vain
For a trip to Laugh-Away Land!
Mirthful, merry Laugh-Away Land!

CONSOLATION.

Perhaps we are convinced
That life is on the blink,
Because champagne is not
Our every other drink—
Perhaps we kick at Fate's
Continual rebukes,
But cheer up now,
For anyhow
We're none of us Grand Dukes.

Perhaps we pine because
We have a mournful lot—
Because our debts are large,
Because our income's not—
Because our transfer checks
Aren't good on motor cars,
But wherefore fret
And get upset?
At least, we are not Czars.
—[New York Sun.

LOVE.

It is not love I ask,
I only pray that you may not forget
Those happy summer days when first we met—
Is this too hard a task?
I ask no perfect bliss,
I do not even ask to have you near—
Only be true! and may the past be dear—
Ask I too much in this?

AMONG MEN OF ACTION.

Warrant-shavers who prey on city employés have a determined foe in Street Superintendent James Hanley. He is perfecting plans whereby laborers may be paid weekly in cash.

It is considered likely at the City Hall that some change may be made in the present system, in view of the fact that Auditor Schwaebe has reported it as not working satisfactorily.

"Surely this large city can afford to treat its employés as well as does any other big corporation," said Mr. Hanley yesterday. "If the laborer is worthy of his hire he certainly is entitled to receive his wages without having them pass through the hands of those people who mulct him for their services.

"I have given orders to my foremen throughout the city that they are not to handle money between the warrant-shavers and the men employed on the streets. This has checked the abuse to some extent, but not sufficiently. I hope to have some arrangement made by which the men may receive the full amount of their wages in cash from the city at the end of each week's work.

"As it is at present, only a comparatively small number of the men receive their money direct from the city. They assign their weekly warrants to the brokers, who draw the money from the municipal treasury and turn it over to the men, deducting a charge for their services that, in the aggregate, reaches a considerable sum each week.

"One source of the trouble is that the men, who may be at work in outlying portions of the city, do not wish to make the trip downtown for their pay. They fall readily into the clutches of those who wish to discount their warrants.

"I find on inquiry that there is nothing to prevent the city from paying the men promptly in cash, and I hope to have that system adopted.

"This plan is followed generally by employers of men situated as are the workers on the streets and there seems to be no good reason why it should not be adopted here."

About two hundred men are employed in the street gangs. When the Council some time ago provided for the issuance of warrants weekly to pay them it was thought the business of the Shylocks would be broken up. The report of the Auditor, however, indicates that the snake hardly was scotched and that the brokers continue to reap a rich harvest.

The Street Superintendent is trying to induce his men to turn a deaf ear to the song of the warrant-shaving sirens, pointing out to them that the practice of a little thrift for one week will put them beyond the reach of the Shylocks. Each laborer, it is estimated, pays to the brokers in a year enough to purchase a suit of good clothes.

Should Mr. Hanley's efforts succeed, the money to pay the men for their work will be handed to them direct at the end of each week and the graft of the sharks will be cut off.

Applicants for Federal jobs under the new political régime that enters with the seating of Frank P. Flint as United States Senator on Saturday next must agree to pay to the "push" a portion of their salaries.

This is the order that has gone down the line, presumably from Walter F. X. Parker, the Southern Pacific manager in charge of the State "works."

No one can hope to receive consideration of his desire for a government office unless he steps up to the captain's office and makes some form of an agreement.

"You'll have to see Walter," is the invariable reply of the minor political bosses to every inquiry from aspirants for office.

The reason of it all is that the "push" needs the funds to strengthen the machine. With its grasp on the Federal and practically all other patronage in the State, the gang intends to intrench itself solidly, both with pledges and with money.

Already there is a howl from those whom it is intended to mulct. Many of the faithful consider that they did enough at the primaries and in other ways to entitle them to consideration without depriving them of part of the emoluments of office in the event that they land positions. Some of them are seeking means through which to obtain places without "seeing Walter."

There are so many aspirants, however, and the places are so few, that the objectors will receive short shrift. The Barkises who are willing to share their salaries with the machine are numerous enough to go around, and then some.

One of the world's greatest insurance kings, John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance Co., is spending a few days in Los Angeles with a small party, for recreation and the enjoyment of our balmy climate. The magnitude of the gigantic institution over which Mr. McCall presides may be inferred from the last annual statement of the company's assets, which aggregate $390,660,260, and the insurance in force amounts to $1,928,809,305, yielding an annual income of $96,891,272.

Mr. McCall had a thorough training in the life insurance business before attaining the presidency of the New York Life. Born in Albany in 1849, he served in various capacities in the New York State insurance department, and for six years was comptroller of the Equitable Life till he was called to fill his present position. These varied experiences have fitted him, by a thorough acquaintance and mastery of all the complicated details pertaining to the business of life insurance, for the high and responsible position he now holds.

There has grown up within the last quarter of a century a class of financial institutions unlike anything ever before developed in the world's history. The united assets of the Equitable Life, the Mutual Life and the New York life aggregate $1,245,591,651. Of this vast sum about $400,000,000 is in income-producing real estate, and $750,000,000 in bonds and stocks. A small proportion of the latter are in government and municipal bonds, but the great bulk of them are in railroad securities, and consequently subject to the fluctuations of the market and the prosperity of the railroads.

Of late the larger banking institutions and technical trust companies of New York, Philadelphia and Boston have interchanged directors with these great companies, in order to get in closer touch with the managers and secure the benefit of their large temporary deposits, and the advantage of a personal stock ownership.

Thus James Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York, with gross deposits of $230,000,000, and director of the New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and Union Pacific railroads, also of numerous trust companies, and closely associated with the Standard Oil interests, is trustee of the New York Life. Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life, with $440,000,000 assets, is vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce with gross deposits of $198,000,000, and director of the Guaranty Trust and of the United States Mortgage and Trust companies of New York, and of the Commercial Trust Company of Jersey City.

J. W. Alexander, president of the Equitable Life with $413,000,000 assets, is vice-president of the Western National Bank of New York, and director of the National Bank of Commerce and the Mercantile Trust Company of New York, the Commercial Trust Company of Philadelphia and the Fidelity Trust Company of Newark. John A. McCall, president of the New York Life, is director of the Citizens Central National Bank of New York.

William Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, A. J. Cassatt, Norman B. Ream, Cornelius Vanderbilt and other railroad magnates are on the directory of one or other of these three life insurance companies. Thus there is an interchange of interests and mutual favors are exchanged.

Mr. McCall believes in cultivating good fellowship, and will give a formal dinner at Levy's today, at which the agents of his company in this city and vicinity will be present.

AMBITIONS OF YOUTH.

They were two messenger boys. Neither could have been more than 12 years old. They boarded the elevated train at Park place, nestled gnugly in one of the cross seats and began to talk of city life and their own ambitions. What the passengers heard was something like this:

"Hey, Tim, do youse know dat cop up in the Tenderloin? You know dat young feller?"

"Who d'ye mean. De captain? He ain't so young, he's married, dat guy is."

"Aw, I know he's married. A cop can't be a cap'n if he ain't married."

"Can't he. Who says so?"

"Naw. Anyway, all de cops have a cinch, so dey have. Do you know what?"

"What?"

"A cop kin ride de cars free. He don't have to pay nothin.' He kin even ride on de ferry free too, if he wants. And fer dat matter he kin even ride free to Chicago, or any of dem places, an' dey can't say nothin' to him. Looka here, Tim, s'posin' dat captain up in de Tenderloin wants to go to Chicago. All he does is to go down to de ferry, an' cross de river. Den he goes and sits down in de car, an' if de conductor come along and tries to put him off, all the captain does it to pull out his badge and tell de conductor he's a cop."

"A fireman kin ride free, too," said Tim, pulling out his handkerchief and blowing his nose.

"Sure he kin,' 'answered Tony. "But I don't like any of dem jobs. I'd like to be a Judge. You know, one of dem fellers dat sits up on a platform and smokes dollar cigars. Dem fellers make a bunch of dough, dey do."

"Do dey?" This was Tim. "How?"

"Dis way," answered Tony: "Spos'n I wus a Judge, an' I was hard up—you know, busted—and I had to get $100 to pay a bill wid. I'd be sitting up on de platform, smokin' a five dollar cigar, when some feller would be brought in to me by two cops fer being drunk. I'd look him over, take de cigar out of me mouth, an' say 'Guilty or not guilty?' Den de feller he'd say 'Guilty.' An' I'd say 'Hundred dollars fine.' An' after de feller'd give me de money I'd put it in me pocket to pay de bill wid, an' say 'Tank you.' Dat's what all dem Judges do."

"Gee, dat's a pipe," said Tim. "Guess I'll be a Judge for mine."

Then they departed through a lane of broad smiles.—[New York Sun.

The darky shook his head mournfully as he replied: "I dunno, Mahse Ollie. I done had a dream last night. I thought I was daid an' gone to heaven. It shorely was a beaut'ful place. Inter-Urban Railway Men

To meet the requirements of the coming railway inspection, possibly you may require a new watch.

We would be glad to provide you with a new watch—one that will meet the most rigid requirements as to quality, durability, and perfect time.

The watches we would especially call your attention to are made by the Elgin or Waltham Companies. They are 17-jeweled, adjusted movements, such as the well and favorably known "B. W. RAYMOND," made in Elgin, Ill., or the "APPLETON-TRACEY," made in Waltham, Mass. In number, more of these two high-grade movements are in use today by railway men, than any other grade of watch, and no one ever heard of a Raymond or Appleton-Tracey watch that was not a perfect timepiece. These watches are especially made and sold to steam railway conductors and engineers and railway men in general who require a high grade watch.

In the past we have sold many of these high grade watches to street railway men, some of whom have carried their watches for quite a while and subjected them all to the vicissitudes and heavy knocks of railway use. In every instance they have done good service and given their wearer perfect satisfaction.

Should we be fortunate enough to sell you a watch, we guarantee that your watch will keep accurate time and that it will pass inspection.

The lowness of our prices for these 17-jeweled adjusted watches will surprise you. You can buy them for cash or on approved credit, just as you may desire and no advance in prices will be made to men who would like credit.

In addition to these 17-jewel movements we have in stock all the high grades of railroad watches made by the Elgin or Waltham companies in 19, 21, and 23-jeweled movements. We also have in stock a full line of "HAMILTON" and "HAMPDEN" movements. They will be sold at the same comparatively low price and on the same liberal terms.

We hope you will do us the favor of looking over our stock of watches and learning our very low prices—prices which have been made specially low to you for this inspection.

Prompt Attention is Necessary.

In order to reduce our stock to a minimum we are quoting prices on Weber, A. B. Chase, Kimball, Schumann, and, in fact, on EVERY PIANO in our store, that will make them sell on sight. On March 15 the Sun Drug Co. will vacate the store just north of us, No. 231 South Broadway, and we shall annex it. New fixtures and fittings are necessary, and rather than to be overstocked at such a time with valuable musical instruments which are liable to damage, we are determined to sell them at a great reduction. Not only will we sell pianos and organs at cut rates, but music boxes, violins, guitars, mandolins, banjos, music—everything in the music line—will be offered at ridiculous prices. The people of Los Angeles know the Bartlett Music Co. They know that when we advertise we have the goods, and we give our personal guarantee with every instrument we sell.

We have a great many pianos on hand which are practically as good as new. These pianos have been rented for a few months, and now will be sold on easy terms and at startling reductions. Monday and Tuesday our store will be crowded. Today we expect a great rush than ever. However, we have prepared for just such acrowd, and shall be able to wait on all customers. Our store will be open every evening until the great sale is over. We have good light to examine instruments and there is not such a crowd and confusion in the evening as during the day, so we strongly advise you to come down at night and pick out that piano—or organ or violin or music box that you have promised the son or daughter you will buy for them. There is nothing to be gained by waiting, and you may lose the very opportunity you have been waiting for. There are baby grand pianos, upright pianos and square pianos. Prices range from $100 down as low as $40. All tastes and means can be satisfied. Come to the Bartlett Music Co., 233-235 S. Broadway, opposite City Hall.

CITY'S WELLS HAVE NO RISE

Winter's Rains Have Not Yet Increased Supply.

Tunnel Under Arroyo Seco Now Complete.

Vernon District Will Soon Have New System.

Today the trackage and timbers will be removed from the new extension of the infiltration tunnel under the Arroyo Seco, and its waters will be turned into the high-gravity reservoir to supply the business districts of the city.

The main tunnel was first constructed underneath the Los Angeles River, near the end of Buena Vista street. While this saved to the city a large amount of water, it did not equal expectations, and it was decided to extend the tunnel underneath the bed of the Arroyo Seco.

This extension is a little over 900 feet in length, making a tunnel of 2900 feet in all, which will give to the city over 3,000,000 gallons of water per day, which, before the building of the tunnel, passed on to the ocean.

Another item of interest in the water development of the city is the progress of work on the reconstructed Boyle Heights reservoir, generally known as the old Hazzard reservoir. The excavation will be completed today, and the capacity of this storage will be doubled. The cement work will begin next week, and Superintendent Mulholland expects to have the reservoir ready for water by the last of March. This source of supply will be for the whole Boyle Heights section.

Nearly all the machinery is in place at the new water developments in the Vernon district. Only one important part remains to be placed, one of the large compressors. It is now en route from the East, and as soon as it is in position the system for the southeastern part of the city will be in readiness for service.

The waters from these wells will be pumped directly into the service pipes attached to the gravity system, so that the Vernon people will have water pressure from both ends of their pipe lines. It is estimated that the new wells will furnish enough water to supply 20,000 people.

Superintendent Mulholland yesterday, in speaking of the winter's rains, said: "There is no visible rise in the city's wells yet, and it will take a large amount of rain to fill up the earth so as to make the increase noticeable. Two years ago we had nineteen inches of rain, while so far we have had but twelve inches, so it cannot be expected that there would be much change in our water conditions.

"Our city reservoirs are really simply service reservoirs, and are not for storage; therefore, there is not opportunity for increasing the amount of water on hand because of the let-up on irrigation during the rains."

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Sentiment and the Band.

One of the most exquisite selections in the voluminous repertoire of the Ellery Band is "L'Histoire d'un Pierrot," by the Neapolitan composer, Mario Costa. Sig. Ferullo is particularly happy in his interpretation of Costa's music from the fact of having so often played under that composer's direction while he was a member of the San Carlo Orchestra in Naples. Ferullo tells an interesting story of Maestro Costa which is worth repeating if only to prove that there is still some poetic sentiment left in this age. It appears that Costa, when quite youthful, was deeply enamored of a beautiful Italian girl who was dying of consumption. The composer scarcely could be induced to leave the bedside of the unfortunate young woman even to take nourishment and when she finally breathed her last, Costa, finding no adequate expression for his overwhelming grief save in his beloved music, set himself to the composition of a funeral mass, which, inspired by a perfect exaltation of sorrow, proved to be a work of the most remarkable beauty. After the funeral, at which the mass created the profoundest impression, friends of the grief-stricken composer went to him full of eager enthusiasm and begged him with tears in their eyes to publish the mass at once; but Costa took up the manuscript that lay upon the table at his side and, lighting a candle, deliberately burned his masterpiece to ashes, saying simply: "It was for HER only." "L'Histoire d'un Pierrot," which will be played tonight by the Ellery Band, reflects much of the sorrowful spirit which distinguished the funeral mass that saw the light of but a single day.

David Bispham Tours.

David Bispham sings at Riverside tonight under the management of the Tuesday Musical Club. He has thoroughly enjoyed his two days' rest, and is in fine voice. Tomorrow night he will sing at San Diego under the auspices of the Amphion Club, the representative musical organization of that city. On Friday evening Mr. Bispham will appear at Redlands for the Spinet Club, the premier of musical clubs in southern California, closing his season in this city on Saturday afternoon at Simpson Auditorium.

THE PLAYHOUSES.

Ramona.

Last night the Los Angeles public was again generous in its patronage of "Ramona," and in its reception of the players. The house was comfortably filled, very few unoccupied seats being noticeable on the floor or in the boxes, balcony and gallery. As the result of some cutting and trimming, done expeditiously during the day, this second-night performance was concluded at 11:30. The book will have to be still further pencilled to bring the play within the customary length of performances.

Friends of the company are confident that the sense of unreality which has been commented upon as ruining throughout the portrayal will fade away to ultimate disappearance in reasonable time. Miss Calhoun's predilection to the Ben Greet—"Everyman" style of emotional interpretation will be softened; Mr. Griffith will become more at ease in his Indian role; Miss Belmour will grow less sonorous in the sharp sayings of Aunt Ri; the two American ruffians will forsake the graveyard crouch; and what is really a commendable play, will in due time, beyond doubt, go off with eclat.

INJURIES CAUSED DEATH.

Fall from Long Beach Car Proved Fatal to Robert Olsen Near Dominguez Station.

Robert Olsen died at the County Hospital at 6 o'clock yesterday morning from the effects of injuries sustained by falling from a Long Beach electric car near Dominguez Station late Saturday night. He was a ranch hand who resided near Dominguez and was going home when he stepped from the car and fell in a slough. He remained there until Sunday morning when a track walker found him and sent him to the County Hospital. There it was found that his back was broken, his skull fractured and that he had sustained internal injuries which the surgeons could not successfully treat. Monday afternoon a section of his vertebrae was removed and the splintered bones taken from the flesh. He failed to rally from the effects of the operation and death relieved his sufferings yesterday morning.

MRS. CODY TAKES THE STAND.

NORTH PLATTE (Neb.) Feb. 28.—Mrs. Louisa Cody, wife of Col. Cody ("Buffalo Bill,") today took the witness stand in defense of her character and good name, which have been assailed by her husband in his sensational petition for divorce, and to tell her side of the family quarrel. Mrs. Cody emphatically denied that she had ever attempted to poison her husband and that she had administered "dragon's blood" or any poison to him for the purpose of securing his love or gaining control over him.

Styles for Spring

Long and Short Coats of Covert

While the short blouse prevails almost exclusively in suits and in a number of the new jackets, many of the covert cloth coats appear in long tailored models, with seams strapped and welted most strikingly and effectively. The exactly right shades and lengths, in tan, are shown in our present exhibit. All have the new sleeves—which are, this season, decidedly new—some models are tight and some half-fitting, at $10, $12.50, $15, $17.50, $20, $22.50, and $25, while the loose box coats range in price up to $35 each.

The extremely long (full three-quarter length) plain and corded Redingoat styles in loose and half-fitting effects, hold fashion's supreme approval this season: $25, $30, $35, $40 and $45.

New Silk Suits

Fashion, always capricious, has at last evolved a decided innovation in the shirt-waist suit, which promises to give that already highly popular costume a renewed hold upon feminine favor. It is known as the "Suspender Suit," and is shown in Taffeta and blue-and-green, brown-and-white, red-and-green checks, combined with plain shades.

For instance: Sometimes the skirt is of the checked taffeta, with suspenders of the checked, and plain waist; several styles in these combinations at $37.50.

In a somewhat more elaborate suit the waist is of white lawn, trimmed with Val insertion, while the skirt and suspenders are of black and white checked taffeta. $45.

But the prettiest of all is the suspender coat effect, where a very short lace and applique trimmed coat is worn over any of the various waists the wearer may possess, with the suspender skirt. In a pretty shade of navy—price $47.50.

New Cloth Suits

The new suits for Spring show a decided smartness, even in the less expensive sorts, heretofore confined to the extremely high-priced costumes. To give you a glimpse of our wide assortment: Suit of wine-colored Panama, blouse jacket, leg o' mutton sleeves lined with changeable taffeta silk, new very full umbrella skirt, walking length, $25.

Worsted suit of fancy light tan broken plaid; blouse jacket in peplum effect; deep girdle, fancy vest front, ribbon trimmed; shirred full sleeve; full pleated skirt, $35.

Suit of white mohair with black hair line checks; fancy blouse; Persian collar, braid and button trimmed; girdle of white silk folds; lining of white taffeta; large leg o' mutton sleeves, pleated into cuff at wrist; very full umbrella skirt, $40.

An extremely handsome suit is of gray, green and white checked material; shirred blouse coat, with pipings of green taffeta; short, full sleeve; fancy white pique pleated vest, with lace insertion; full circular skirt; stitched bands at bottom, piped with green taffeta, $67.50.

ORDINANCE NO. 10,603.

[New Series.]

An Ordinance granting to the City of Los Angeles, granting to the Pacific Electric Railway Company, its successors and assigns, the right to construct and for a period of twenty-one years to operate and maintain a double track railroad along a certain private right of way and over, along and across certain public streets in the City of Los Angeles.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the right and privilege is hereby granted to the Pacific Electric Railway Company, its successors and assigns, to construct and lay a double track railroad over and along the private right of way and over, along and across certain public streets in the City of Los Angeles hereinafter described, and for the period of twenty-one years to operate and maintain a railroad thereon; provided, that said railroad shall at all times be constructed, operated and maintained and the said right and privilege is hereby granted and said shall be at all times exercised and enjoyed in accordance with and subject to each and every of the terms and conditions of this Ordinance, and not otherwise.

Sec. 2. That the center line of the right of way over and along which said right and privileges is granted, is particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center line of Ninth street, said point of beginning being north westerly along said center line of Ninth street 213.4 feet, more or less, from the point of intersection of said center line of Ninth street with the center line of that portion of Maple avenue lying north of Ninth street; thence from said point of beginning northwesterly along a curve concave to the northeast and having a radius of 165.75 feet, 18.45 feet; thence northerly and northeasterly along a curve concave to the east and having a radius of 85.75 feet, 67.79 feet; thence northerly and northeasterly along a curve concave to the east and having a radius of 105.75 feet, 33.46 feet to a point in the center line of Santee street; thence northeasterly along said center line and across Eighth street to the northern terminus of said Santee street; thence northeasterly over private property parallel to the westerly line of the Maple Avenue tract to a point in the southerly line of Seventh street; thence continuing across Seventh street to the northerly line of Seventh street; thence continuing northeasterly over private property to a point south of Sixth street; thence northwesterly to a point in the easterly line of Los Angeles street, distant 311 feet, more or less, from the southeasterly corner of Sixth and Los Angeles streets; thence northwesterly across Los Angeles street to private property on the westerly side of said Los Angeles street, to a point 161 feet, more or less, from the southeasterly corner of Sixth and Los Angeles streets.

Sec. 3. That the road bed and rails to be laid under the rights and privileges granted shall be so constructed and maintained as to conform at all times to the established official grade of the street, over, along or across which said road bed and rails are laid; provided, however, that where any of the said streets have been graded or otherwise improved prior to the granting of this right or privilege, and road bed and rails shall conform to and be flush with the surface of said graded and otherwise improved street or streets, whether such surface be above or below the official grade of said street, and that on all other street or streets said road bed and rails shall conform to such official grade as aforesaid; provided further that upon any regrading or improvement of any of said streets, said road bed and rails shall by said grantee, or its assigns, be placed upon and be made to conform to said official grade. That said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall pave, gravel, plank or macadamize the said road bed wherever the same crosses or occupies any part of the streets hereinbefore mentioned, between the rails, between the tracks, and for two (2) feet on each side thereof with the same material used by the city and under the same kind and quality and in the same manner as said streets are or may be hereafter paved, graveled, planked or macadamized, to be done under the instructions and to the satisfaction of the Street Superintendent of said city. And in case the said grantee, or its successors or assigns, shall fail to comply with the instructions given by said official for ten (10) days after service thereof upon the said grantee or its successors or assigns, or upon the manager or the agent in charge of the said grantee or its successors or assigns, he, the said official, shall enter upon the road of said grantee, or its successors or assigns, and do the work as ordered by the Council, and said officer to keep an itemized account of the cost of said work which the said grantee, and its successors and assigns, shall become liable to pay, and the said privilege hereby granted agrees to forthwith immediately upon the presentation to said grantee, its successors or assigns, or to such agent in charge in Los Angeles.

Sec. 4. That said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall construct all necessary flumes and culverts for the free passage of water under the tracks of said railroad wherever, whenever necessary, and that all such flumes and culverts shall be constructed in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the City Engineer.

Sec. 5. That no steam engine or locomotive shall ever be operated or run over, along or upon that portion of said right of way hereinbefore described, or within the City of Los Angeles over, along or upon any part of the railroad to be erected, operated or maintained under the right and privilege hereby granted.

That no car or cars shall ever travel or be drawn over or propelled upon the tracks along, or across any of the streets hereinbefore mentioned at a greater rate of speed than eight (8) miles per hour; and that no car shall ever be allowed to stand upon said streets so as in any manner to obstruct the use of said street by vehicles or pedestrians.

Sec. 6. That the City of Los Angeles expressly reserves the right to pave, macadamize, sewer, or repave, remacadamize or resewer, any of the streets hereinbefore named over which the right to construct said railroad is hereby granted, and to lay gas, water and other pipes therein, such work to be done so as to injure said railroad as little as possible.

Sec. 7. That the City of Los Angeles shall have the right at the expiration of the aforesaid period of twenty-one years to purchase the rails, track, and road bed and all property in any of the streets, hereinbefore mentioned, belonging to said grantee or its successors in interest, laid or constructed under the grant hereby made or used by said grantee or its successors in interest, in the exercise of the rights hereby granted, at a fair valuation, provided that the option to make such purchase shall be declared by resolution of the City Council passed not more than three years nor less than six months prior to the expiration of said period of twenty-one years.

The valuation of the property proposed to be purchased pursuant to the provisions of this Ordinance shall be determined by a board of three arbitrators, of whom one shall be appointed by the city, one by the said grantee, or its successors in interest, and the third by the two arbitrators so appointed. Said arbitrators shall be appointed within thirty days after the declaration by the city of its option to purchase said property. In case said arbitrators fail to make and file an award within the time hereinafter limited, a new board of three arbitrators shall be appointed as hereinbefore prescribed, to determine the valuation of said property. The board of arbitrators shall immediately upon the appointment of its members enter upon the discharge of its duties. Any vacancy in the board of arbitrators shall be filled by the party who made the original appointment to the vacant place. The award of the arbitrators must be made and filed with the City Clerk of said city within three months after their appointment, and a majority of the arbitrators who agree thereto may make such award.

The amount of the valuation of said property determined by the arbitrators as herein before provided shall be paid by the city to said grantee, or its successors in interest, in lawful money of the United States upon the expiration of the aforesaid period of twenty-one years, or, if the award of the arbitrators shall not have been made and filed at least two months before the expiration of said period of twenty-one years, then within two months after the filing of said award. Upon the making of said payment the title and right of possession of all said property shall pass to the City of Los Angeles.

Sec. 8. That any neglect, failure or refusal on the part of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, its successors or assigns, to observe or comply with any of the terms or conditions in this Ordinance contained, shall thereupon immediately take effect as a forfeiture of the rights and privileges hereby granted, and said city by its City Council may thereupon declare said rights and privileges forfeited and may exclude said Pacific Electric Railway Company, and its successors and assigns from further use of the streets of said city. And said Pacific Electric Railway Company, its successors and assigns, shall thereupon and immediately surrender all of said rights and privileges and the grant thereof by this made shall immediately become and be deemed and remain null, void and of no effect.

Sec. 9. That the city shall certify to the passage of this Ordinance by the vote of two-thirds of all the members of the City Council of the City of Los Angeles, and shall cause the same to be published once in the Los Angeles Daily Times.

I hereby certify that the whole number of the City Council of the City of Los Angeles is nine, and that on the 26th day of February, 1903, at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Los Angeles, a quorum of the Council being present, the foregoing Ordinance was passed and adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members of said Council, to wit, by the following vote:

CONTRACTOR IS THEIR TARGET.

JAWSMITHS KNOCK MAN WHO BROKE MANY STRIKES.

Labor Councils Would Have F. O. Engstrom Placed on Black List by City Council—Claim He is Working Men Long Hours on Polytechnic High School—Indignantly Denied.

The "Central Labor Council," the "Building Trades Council," and the "Carpenters' District Council" of this city, after having been beaten out by Contractor F. O. Engstrom in strikes so numerous that most people have lost count, is now attempting to get its troubles before the public through the medium of a resolution which was presented to the City Council yesterday.

These "councils" are real angry, and they have concocted a long typewritten screed in which the words "unprincipled contractor," "violator of law" and "manifestly unfair" are some of the things said about Engstrom.

The union labor people allege that Engstrom is taking advantage of the condition of his employés to force them to work longer hours for less wages than is commonly paid by contractors doing the same class of work, and that this is being done on a piece of public work, the construction of the Polytechnic High School.

The union laborites request the City Council to "refuse in future to recognize the said Engstrom as a proper person to be intrusted with any part of city work."

When asked about this statement of the labor councils Mr. Engstrom said yesterday: "We have no trouble with the union labor people. We used to have, but we are through with them now. We run an open shop, and shall continue to do so. We certainly have had enough trouble with these people in the past to decide us on this line of conducting our own business.

"Within the last few years they have ordered strikes on our work in the Conservative Life Building. The Emergency Hospital, the Santa Barbara High School, the Potter Hotel, the Riverside Courthouse and the new Hellman building.

"These were senseless strikes and we at last decided to go ahead in our own fashion, and if they didn't want to work for us to fill their places with others who were glad of the places.

"As to the work on the Polytechnic High School, the wages of the men have ranged from $3 to $4 a day, with $6 a day for some of the very best. There have been eight-hour days for all these men. There has been no overtime except in the case of some pick and shovel men who were put on in time of rain to protect the building. These charges have no foundation in fact, and are simply a continuation of the senseless attempts of the men who went down to defeat in their strikes, to annoy us."

PARCELS POST CONVENTION.

Postmaster First has received notice from the Postmaster-General that a parcels-post convention having been concluded between the United States and the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, to take effect April 1, 1906, parcels-port packages for destination in Great Britain and Ireland will be admitted on and after that date to the mails for Great Britain and Ireland made up in and dispatched from this country. Parcels exchanged between the United States and the United Kingdom must not exceed 350 in value, weigh more than four pounds six ounces nor measure more than three feet six inches in length and six feet in length and girth combined. Postage must be prepaid in full at the following rates: In the United States, on parcels for Great Britain and Ireland, 12 cents for each pound or fraction of a pound, and in Great Britain and Ireland, on parcels for the United States, 2 shillings for each parcel whatever its weight. A delivery charge not exceeding 5 cents in the United States or 2½ pence in the United Kingdom may be collected of the addressee of each parcel.

A Naples dispatch says that the post-mortem examination of Miss McCready, who was found murdered in her villa at Caserta, Saturday, shows that death was caused by asphyxiation. As yet there is no clew to the identity of Miss McCready's murderer.

Any man who is weak, rheumatic, full of pains and aches, growing old and losing his youthful vim and vigor, can have my Electric Belt free until he is cured. I am not giving it away unless I fail to cure you. When you are cured you can pay me, not otherwise. I don't want money I don't earn. I don't need it, but I am after the dollars that are daily going into useless drugging and fake treatments, and I am willing to show my own faith by waiting for my pay until I have done the work if you secure me. So write for my belt today, enclosing this ad.

Consults A Physician

But does NOT Tell Him All.

Few women confide fully in a physician. They simply will not tell him all. That's why many doctors fail to cure female diseases.

Every woman dreads the ordeal of the physician's consulting room. A sensitive, refined woman shrinks from the searching questions and the physical examination!

It is not so in writing to Mrs. Pinkham. Thousands of women owe their present health and happiness (yes, and their good looks, too) to the fact that they have told all their physical troubles to Mrs. Pinkham and followed her advice and been cured of female diseases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cures more women every year than any other medicine in the world. If you are in doubt about your case, write in perfect confidence to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. You will receive in reply a personal letter of advice free.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For three months I was sick in bed with female trouble and had four doctors, who all agreed that I must undergo an operation and have my ovaries removed. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I submitted to an operation. I did so and am very glad to say that after I had used five bottles I was restored to perfect health, which I have enjoyed ever since. I am only too glad to recommend your medicines, as they saved me from an operation which might have proved fatal.
MRS. M. KUTTNER.
556 South Main St., Los Angeles, Cal.

Mrs. Hayes also profited by Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Sometime ago I wrote you describing my symptoms (fibroid tumor) and asked your advice. You replied and I followed all your directions carefully and to-day am a well woman.

DAILY REPORT OF ORANGE MARKET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The upward movement in California oranges continued and the advance this week has been from 10@25 cents a box, depending upon quality and grade. Local buyers were more numerous at auctions today, the rise in temperature enabling street dealers to display fruit safely. The embargo of snow is about lifted on transportation lines and distribution is attended with less danger. Arrivals are moderate and supplies on the way are reported no more than sufficient to satisfy the demand.

The market is steady. Eighteen cars sold at auction today. The weather is favorable.

EXCHANGE NOTES. Yesterday was another active day on the Stock Exchange, the transactions amounting to $16,000. Bidding took a wide range, the list being the only one in which there appeared to be no interest, but most of the attention was given to the oil stocks.

Associated Oil advanced fractionally in the buyers' price, and advanced fractionally in the holders, closing at 27¾@28. At the former 1000 shares were sold; 1000 at 27¾; 1000 at 27¾ and 1000 at 28. Continental closed strong at 26¼@27, and at the former figure 1500 shares changed hands on Monday, though by an error in the official bulletin it was made to appear that 1500 shares of Associated had been sold at that price. Fullerton was on a rising market, gaining nearly 2 points in the buyers' and selers' prices, closing at 22½@25, and at the former price 1000 shares were sold; 1000 at 23½, and 1000 at 23. Reed Crude weakened somewhat in the buyers' opinion, and strengthened fractionally in the sellers', closing at 22½@2.37½. Union also went off ½ in the buyers' price, closing at 71.00 @72.50.

The only bank stock that elicited any inquiry was Los Angeles National, which closed 192@196½.

In the bond list California Pacific Railway went off 2 points in the holding price, returning to the 100 mark; but there were no bids. Home Telephone appreciated nearly a point, closing at 99¾@99¾, and at ½ less than the holder's price one bond was sold. Mission Transportation and Refining declined ¼ point in the holder's price, closing at 95½, but there were no bids. Four Pacific Light and Power bonds were sold at 99¾, closing at the same price without further offerings.

In the miscellaneous list 71½ was bid for Edison Electric preferred, but there were no offerings, Home Telephone advanced ½ point in the bid and ¾ point on the asked price, closing at 49¼@50¾, and at ½ less than the holder's price, 10 shares were disposed of.

The Times has it from two excellent sources that H. E. Huntington has disposed of his holdings in Pacific Light and Power bonds. It is stated that they amounted to $100,000, and that he disposed of them at par in New York. The story was denied at the office of the Pacific Light and Power Company.

COMMERCIAL.

CITRUS MOVEMENT. The shipments of citrus fruits Sunday and Monday were 273 carloads of oranges and 20 carloads of lemons; grand total of shipments, 16,127, of which 787 were lemons.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

The produce market yesterday was quiet to steady, a large part of the trading being of a hand to mouth order. The orange market was given a momentary lease of life with inside prices ruling; excepting lemons, other citrus fruits were in somewhat better demand than for several days, though quotably unchanged. Vegetables were again in scant supply and two or three of the prices were at a premium, with a firm market.

Peas ranged from 5 to 8 cents, Hollywoods easily bringing 7 cents, and Tropicos a cent more. Beans were hard to get and ruling strong in the jobbing trade at 15 cents. Tomatoes were again in demand at $1.25 per crate and $1 a box, with stocks only fair in quality; but Mexicans were bringing $2.50 and more in a jobbing way. Egg plant was in rather light supply and jobbing freely at 15 to 18 cents; Frisco asparagus 20 to 25 cents per pound. Summer squash $1 to $1.20 per box; artichokes 90 to $1.10 per box; celery, root, 65 to 75 cents per dozen; eschallots, 30 cents per pound; chiles, 5 to 8 cents; bell peppers, 21 cents; cauliflower, 40 cents, and only medium in quality, and lettuce 25 to 30 cents per dozen.

Bananas weakened under heavy shipments. Seven cars came in and stocks were selling in the jobbing trade at 3½ to 3¾ cents.

Butter receipts were rather heavy, though the market was holding up well under quotably unchanged prices. The Produce Exchange reported receipts for Monday, 35,061 pounds, of which nearly 18,000 pounds were by steamer, and it is now a question with dealers how long existing prices can be continued.

The potato market was reported in good position, owing to a firm demand for fancy grades, but no changes were made in the prices.

The egg market was abundantly supplied with local stocks and the Quotation Committee fixed the selling price at 21 cents.

Apples were in fairly good demand repacked, four-tier Bellefleur moving in their jobbing trade at $1.15; Colorado Ganos at $1.35, and other varieties at $1.50 to $1.75. New Yorks were reported out of the market.

Grapefruit was in better demand than on the day before at $1.75 to $2.25 for fancy seedless.

Tangerines were in brisk demand at $1.25 to $1.35.

Strawberries were in light supply and only medium in quality. Gardenas and Monetas bringing 14 to 16 cents in a jobbing way.

The Produce Exchange reported receipts as follows: Eggs, local, 747 cases; butter, 35,061 pounds; cheese, 30,-686 pounds; Irish potatoes, 383 sacks; sweet potatoes, five sacks; onions, 585 sacks; beans, none.

The fish market was again oversupplied with halibut; all other fish were scarce; there were no crabs and lobsters were scarce.

Poultry continues firm and scarce.

Several sacks of wild geese arrived in the game market, and few rabbits, stocks moving quickly at top prices.

MAY SOLVE THE MYSTERY

Unidentified Woman Who Committed Suicide at Ocean Park May Have Been Guest at Westminster.

It is possible that a clew will be found today which will result in the ultimate identification of the body of the unknown woman which was washed ashore at Ocean Park Monday. Manager Larrett of Hotel Westminster communicated with Coroner Trout last night and stated that possibly he might be able today to shed some light upon the mystery surrounding the woman's identity. His attention has been directed to that portion of the published description of the woman which stated that a portion of her teeth were filled with gold. This caused him to remember that some time ago a woman whose teeth were filled in a peculiar manner had been a guest at his hotel and that her actions were so unusual as to cause remark. She seemed extremely melancholy, but that condition was supposed to have been due to ill-health because she was sick most of the time she was at the hotel. What became of her Mr. Larrett could not tell the Coroner. He gave no particulars as to the address which the woman had given, reserving that until after he has seen the body. He takes the position that if upon seeing the body, he is able to identify it, it will then be time enough for him to give such information as he may have about the woman. If, however, the body is not that of the woman he had in mind, it would be unnecessary to attract unpleasant public attention to her when that would not assist in clearing up the mystery. Mr. Larrett will be shown the body this morning.

The day the body was found Coroner Trout received a telegram from a man at San Luis Obispo, asking him not to bury the body until he could come to Los Angeles to see it, because he thought it might be that of a woman he knew. Last night another telegram was received from this man, stating that he had found the woman he had referred to in his first message, and therefore it would not be necessary for him to come to Los Angeles.

NEW YORK MARKETS. SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The reactionary tendency in stocks gained force today, and was of more influence on speculative sentiment than yesterday. A Monday reaction is viewed with equanimity during the course of a rise in stocks, for reasons well understood, but there are less plausible explanations for the carrying-over of a selling movement into the second day of the week. The day's operations disclosed a watchful bear party in the trading and their attacks on prices and the success that met them were testimony to the vulnerable condition in which the speculative situation had fallen. The falling-back of prices followed with unfavorable news developments, and was clearly due to technical causes. For one thing, the newcomers in the market on the side of the public were disappointed at having bought yesterday morning at the top level only to see them decline. There was in consequence a significant decrease in the outside demand for stocks, and the inclination by the outsiders to sell out holdings. The failure of confirmation by official announcement of any of the numerous reports recently circulated kept a spirit of timidity among buyers. The shaky condition of prices yesterday had the effect of inducing the placing of stop-loss orders to a very large extent at prices below the current level as a precautionary measure. In the recent feverish condition of the market, brokers have been inclined to insist on this measure of precaution on the part of customers. Recent favorites in speculation were most vulnerable, and New York Central, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania consequently suffered most severely in the day's movements. In the period of recession special stocks were pushed upward, apparently with the purpose of supporting the market and extending the rally. Amalgamated Copper, the New York Ontario and Western issues and a number of specialties, including the high-grade industrials, made such advances from time to time. The imminence of the hearing in the Northern Securities appeal may have been an influence in the realizing which was in progress as the expected decision in that case has been made the basis for such long-continued movement in the various stocks affected that further results from the announcement are hardly to be expected. Yesterday's advance in United States Steel came to a pause. The day's record clearing-house balances and exchanges, only slightly below the highest record, witnessed the heavy requirements of the Southern Pacific bond payment made yesterday. With this operation completed today's money conditions are to be expected, but this did not serve to check the speculative liquidation in stocks. The feeble rally, aggravated the tendency to throw over stocks and the pressure increased, making low prices for the day in the final dealings and a decidedly weak closing. New York Central's loss ran to nearly five points and the other active speculative leaders were down from 2 to 3 points. Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $4,720,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

Clearinghouse Balances.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Balances at the clearinghouse today aggregated $27,542,570, which establishes a new high record. Exchanges amounted to $189,794,377, which were only once before equaled. Today's clearings transactions reflected the payment yesterday of $73,000,000 for new Southern Pacific bonds.

FOUNDATION OF NEW CHURCH.

CORNER-STONE CEREMONIES AT HIGHLAND PARK.

Presbyterians Will Soon Worship in Beautiful New Edifice—Handsome Addition to Educational Suburb of Los Angeles—Structure Will be of Mission Style.

The corner-stone for the new Presbyterian Church at Highland Park was laid at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with appropriate ceremonies, witnessed and participated in by a large congregation, including many of the students of Occidental College.

The new church, which will be an ornament to the pretty suburb, and which will be second only to Occidental College among Highland Park institutions, will be located at the corner of Avenue 53 and Pasadena avenue. Architecturally it will compare favorably with any of the many beautiful sacred edifices in Los Angeles.

The building will be of mission style, and will cost $15,000, exclusive of ground, which is worth $4500, making the total value of the church property about $20,000.

The invocation at the corner-stone-laying was delivered by Rev. John A. Gordon, vice-president of Occidental College.

The singing was under the direction of Prof. Dwight C. Rice, leader of the choir, and director of music in Occidental College.

An historical sketch of the church organization was read by Daniel M. Hammack, Esq., ruling elder of the congregation.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. Gu W. Wadsworth, D.D., president of Occidental College, and Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church. Both were given close attention.

The stone was laid by Rev. Franklin P. Berry, pastor of the church, who has labored indefatigably to provide the congregation with a new house of worship commensurate with the growing needs. The pastor accompanied the laying of the stone with a short address.

Among the articles deposited under the stone before it was sealed into its place were copies of the Los Angeles City papers, church periodicals, a Bible and a copy of "The Highlander," a little paper published by the church.

In the evening a musical and literary entertainment was given in the Hall of Letters of Occidental College. Music was furnished by the Highland Park Mandolin and Guitar Club and the Thompson Quartette. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Hugh K. Walker and Rev. Frank DeWitt Talmage. A vocal solo was given by Mrs. Catherine Collette.

Incidentally the audience subscribed nearly $2000 toward the completion of the new church.

HIS FATAL CHANCE.

Poor Brace Gives Way Under Daring Workman and He Plunges to a Swift Death.

Fred L. Benedict, a carpenter, aged 35, while at work on the top floor of the Los Angeles Furniture Company's new building on Spring street, missed his footing and fell to the ground fifty feet below, and was instantly killed yesterday morning. The accident was witnessed by several workmen, but they had no chance to try to save him. Benedict was dead almost before they could move from their places. According to their statements to the Coroner, the accident was largely due to Benedict's carelessness. He was known as a man who would take chances, and had been warned many times to be careful.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Federation's Good Work.

The good work of the cleaning of the city by night, and the general reform in existing garbage arrangements goes steadily on. Yesterday morning at the meeting of the out-door art section of the Civic Federation, Mrs. J. E. McLean, chairman of the Garbage Committee and her able assistants were busy handing to every child study circle representative in attendance copies of the petition that was published in The Times yesterday and which will soon be ready to hand to the City Council with the names of the women of Los Angeles attached.

First one and then another, who listened to the report of the Garbage Committee, had something to say in favor of the proposed arrangement.

Their words carry weight, for they are all practical housekeepers who have to deal with individual garbage problems in their own homes. They feel that in enlarging the sphere of home to include the entire city in which they dwell, to bring about conditions which will make for the health and wellbeing of their own children and their neighbors' children, they are doing a work which is distinctly a part of woman's sphere.

When a woman wills she generally wins a way, and though the out-door art section will look to the good judgment of the city fathers to carry out their plans, they tell that they are assisting the powers-that-be to find out beyond the slightest shadow of a doubt the desire of the householders in this particular.

The present garbage contract will expire August 1; and after that time if all goes well, a clean city, with the garbage quickly and quietly removed at night while the people sleep, as is done in so many eastern cities, may attest the practical interest which the club women of the city take in the beauty and safety of their homes.

Some one suggested at the meeting that a uniformity of garbage cans regulated by law, would do much to solve the garbage question, but this point has been met before by the officials of other cities, and leads to a monopoly in the manufacture of the brand of can prescribed. It is also a hardship upon the poorer families to compel them to purchase three expensive garbage receptacles each. The refuse of the city must be assorted, according to law; ashes, in one vessel broken glass, china, tin cans and such like, in another; and decaying animal and vegetable matter in another.

The out-door art section is working for other needed improvements in official housekeeping. The Streets Committee reported, yesterday, that in many sections unsightly papers are blowing hither and thither. A letter was sent to the owners of the Mason Operahouse warning them to remove the heaps of old papers, tickets, programmes, and general conglomeration to trash that is at present littering the rear of the theater.

Mrs. J. F. Kanst reported as chairman of the Signboard Committee, she had interviewed the City Attorney and learned that nothing could be done toward abolishing this particular nuisance without additional legislation. The only thing that can really be accomplished is the compulsory lowering of the signboards to six feet in height. The ladies decided that this small achievement is hardly worth while, and they intend confining their efforts to the securing of better legislation.

After the report of all the committees of the out-door art section the Arbor Day meeting was held. J. A. Haskett of the Arbor Day Association presided. Ex-Councilman Davenport was present and put a motion before the house to petition the City Council for $100 toward defraying the expenses of Arbor Day. This motion was carried.

The Woodmen of the World were represented by L. Flood who pledged their cordial participation in the celebration, he also spoke for the order of Foresters. C. W. Hyatt was there from the Chamber of Commerce, Supt. Foshay from the schools, and Fred Alles, representative of the Sunset Club announced the club's intention to finish the planting of the row of oak trees which was started last year. A song written especially for this occasion will be a part of the Sunset Club's ceremonial.

The committee of last year, having the arrangements in charge, have been reappointed with a few changes. Representatives from all the large women's clubs were present at the meeting and nearly every child-study circle in the city sent representatives.

THE NEW SOUTHEAST

That Section's Development Proceeding Rapidly —Exemplified by Quick Sales in New McCarthy Tract

The rapid development of the southeast part of town is well typified by the way the new Main and Moneta street tract of the McCarthy Company is going.

Though it has been on the market but a few days, a third of it is already sold to prospective home seekers.

The tract lies between Main and Moneta streets. Forty-ninth, Fiftieth, and Fifty-first streets run through it.

This beautiful forty-acre tract has been subdivided into lots most of which are 40x136. These lots are selling at less than the market rate for such property, and hence are going rapidly.

The McCarthy Company has adopted the plan of selling out its tracts at small profit to itself, in order that it may turn its money over quickly.

In a proposition of this kind the investor has his greatest chance to make money.

LASH'S KIDNEY & LIVER BITTERS
A PLEASANT LAXATIVE
NOT INTOXICATING

He was working in an angle of the wall near the top of the building, placing in position certain frames for fireproofing. He had placed a heavy board through a window as a brace upon which to stand, fastened the board in a slanting position, one end resting upon the window ledge and the other being secured only with one nail. When he stepped upon this brave it held him for a time, but the single nail gradually pulled out, and without warning the brace fell. Benedict dropped a distance equal almost to the height of the building. In falling he tried to save himself by catching at a window on the floor below. He got his arm through the window, but could not hold on, and plunged headlong to his death. His hammer remained in the window at which he had caught.

Benedict struck on his head on a pile of bricks, his skull being crushed and many bones in his body fractured.

The body was removed to Bresee Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held today. Benedict came here recently from the East and was regarded as a good workman. He lived with a widowed sister at No. 936 East Thirty-first street. He leaves one child, his wife having died several years ago.

THINGS DOING IN PASADENA.

THREE MUNICIPAL TICKETS PUT IN THE FIELD.

Slavin Has Become Head of Present City Government and Business Man in His Campaign for the Mayoralty—Ex-Gov. Markham Seriously Ill—Big Realty Deals.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 36 South Raymond Avenue, March 1.—Things were doing in politics last night. The Socialists, met in the Board of Trade rooms, and talked to a late hour, and then nominated candidates for the city offices. Over in the City Council chamber there was another talky-talk, and the Prohibitionists named the men that they think would best handle the reins of city government. On the second floor of the Slavin Block, in the office of Mathew Slavin, there was also a pow-wow, but it was short and sweet.

Despite the rainy weather about fifty representative business men, professional men and well-known local politicians gathered around Slavin's banner. It certainly looked as though the Councilman had the proper backing, for there were assembled the heads of the present city government, directors of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Association, promoters of the Tournament of Roses, and, in short, the cream of Pasadena's push and energy.

Slavin made a little speech in which he handed out the customery genial bouquets, told how pleased he was to see so many intelligent faces and promised to be a nice Mayor if elected. Attorney A. S. Van Etten was chosen chairman and W. E. Cooley secretary of the organization which is solely for the purpose of furthering Slavin's candidacy. Van Etten was instructed to appoint a general campaign committee of five from each of the ten precincts. From this number an executive committee of one from each precinct will be selected. Meetings will be held each Tuesday evening in rooms 201 and 202 of the Slavin Block. Every day Secretary Cooley will be there between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., and between 3 and 6 p.m., for the purpose of registering and transferring voters and of securing signatures to Slavin's petition. It was pointed out that there are only a few days left in which transfers and registrations may be received.

The Prohibitionists organized with Harmon Cook as chairman, and C. H. Parsons secretary. The Committee on Platform reported a lengthy platform, an item of which was the expressed opposition to that section of ordinance 229 which permits the sale of liquor with meals at restaurants. Rev. C. H. Hobart was nominated for Mayor; C. H. Parsons, Clerk; A. J. Evans, Treasurer; M. A. Hall, Councilman-at-Large; Kenyon Warren, Councilman from the Second Ward; A. H. Fawcett, Third Ward; E. B. Allen, Fourth Ward; D. A. Curl, Fifth Ward.

The Socialists nominated J. J. Patton for Mayor unanimously; City Treasurer, Dr. Elias Smith; City Clerk, P. H. Quinn; Councilman-at-large, Mason Allen; Councilman Second Ward, W. S. Beal; Third Ward, H. W. Hillier; Fourth Ward, A. K. Caldwell; Fifth Ward, C. P. Steteon.

MARKHAM SERIOUSLY ILL.

Former Gov. H. H. Markham, ex-Congressman from this district and member of the board of governors of the National Soldiers' Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, is seriously ill in this city. While in Washington, D. C., some weeks ago on business connected with the Soldiers' Home, Col. Markham fell on the ice and split a kneecap. He was laid up in Washington for some time as the result of the accident, and has been ailing ever since his return home. He is now threatened with pleuro-pneumonia and his friends and family are quite alarmed over his condition.

BIG REALTY DEALS.

An astonishing number of sales of real estate in big chunks was reported yesterday. At least two of them mean the erection of palatial homes. J. J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Savings and Trust Company of Chicago, bought the James Smith place, 195 feet on Gordon Terrace and 200 feet on Bellevue Drive. He has already engaged an architect to erect a home thereon which will cost between $15,000 and $20,000. Mr. Mitchell has been spending the winter with his family in the George B. Post home on Grand avenue. Mr. Smith has also sold to Joseph Foster Rhodes of Chicago a property adjoining that bought by Mitchell on the north, and 195 feet square, for approximately $7000. Mr. Rhodes and family reside at Hotel Maryland and will improve the land with a handsome home. The property sold to Mitchell was the old Smith home place and the family expect to build elsewhere.

Another important sale was reported last night by J. C. Brainard. Mrs. Alice Porter has sold to a local investor for $10,000, ten acres at the northwest corner of Mountain street and Lake avenue.

The handsome home of E. W. Hitchings at No. 75 North Grand avenue, which has been occupied by W. R. Nash of Evanston, Ill., was yesterday sold to Randolph Schiffman of St. Paul, Minn. The property is 220 feet on Grand avenue, 250 on Orroyo Drive and overlooks the Arroyo Seco. It is one of the handsomest properties in the city and the house is one of the largest private dwellings. The purchaser, who is closely identified with the city government of St. Paul, paid about $40,000 for the place with its furnishings. He will make some improvements and occupy the place as a home.

Mrs. Laura E. Fogg of Alliance, O., has purchased the southwest corner of Fair Oaks and Union street for $25,000 from Mrs. Musick of Vernon avenue. This property includes a large brick block, in the second story of which the municipal departments had their offices until the new City Hall was built. The lot is about 40 feet on Fair Oaks and 100 on Union street.

LITTLE ITEMS.

The death of James Goodman Fee, aged 41 years, occurred yesterday at his home in North Pasadena. He came here last December from Canada.

On Monday Mrs. Clarissa L. Patton died at the Hollenbeck Home in Los Angeles.

In the Throop tennis tournament yesterday Gerald Waterhouse beat E. Leistikow, 6-1, 1-6, 8-6; Parish Barker beat Gabriel, 6-0, 6-2; Huntington Barker beat Robert Hunter, 6-0, 6-2; Harlow Frink beat H. Thompson, 6-1, 6-1.

Rev. and Mrs. William MacCormack have gone to Santa Barbara for a few days' rest.

Don't forget that Brown and Sutliff have moved to 75 North Fair Oaks in Masonic Temple Block.

SANTA MONICA.

DEPOTS FOR TROLLEY LINES.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 28.—When the City Trustees met last night E. P. Clark was present to represent the Los Angeles-Pacific relative to the plans for the new passenger depot which his company is planning to build in Linda Vista Park in the vicinity of the junction of Utah and Ocean avenues. Mr. Clark said the plans would be for a structure similar to the ones at Hermosa and Playa del Rey, except that the traffic here will require a larger building. He is also planning to build a new freight depot on Oregon avenue.

The City Attorney has been instructed to prepare deeds for the right of way from the Jones interests and the Southern Pacific for the converging approaches that are to be built to the beach from the vicinity of California and Montana avenues. These are to be built under the Vrooman Act, and just as soon as the right of way deeds pass, the necessary legal steps will be taken for the commencement of the work. When the approaches are completed the plans for the development of that section of the city will embrace the construction of a bath-house on the beach. A pleasure pier is also among the probabilities. These approaches will connect the city proper with the new Rindge driveway up the beach.

John Carrillo has tendered his resignation as Street Superintendent of Santa Monica. No successor has been named.

The Citizens' Gas and Electric Company is still a proposition of the future. Last week the promoters appeared before the City Trustees and asked that a franchise be advertised for. The city granted the request, but imposed a condition which was calculated to protect the city against financial loss in the event that when the franchise came to be sold there might perchance be no bidders. As an evidence of good faith the city asked the new company to put up a certified check of $200, which would indicate that the makers of gas meant business. But no check was put up by the gas company. The date for advertising the franchise as agreed upon having expired, the gas people last night asked and were granted another week in which to make good. F. E. Bundy, who was elected president of the company when it was organized last week, has tendered his resignation.

SAN DIMAS.

WHERE'S THE BARBER?

SAN DIMAS, Feb. 28.—What has become of Victor C. Condron, barber, poolroom man and erstwhile pokergame manager? For several days he has not been seen and inquiry concerning his whereabouts is occasioned by conflicting statements by those who should know. His father has taken charge of the place of business and issued a call to all persons owing his son to pay him, but no provicion is made for the son's creditors, who feel very much slighted.

The father stated last week that Victor had gone to Colton, and now says he is in a Los Angeles hospital, severely sick. Telephone inquiry at all the Los Angeles hospitals brought the reply that no such man as Condron is there. Last Sunday the young man was seen in Lordsburg, not ill. His wife is at her father's home there and says Victor has gone to some nearby town to work, she does not know where, but that he is not sick nor in a hospital. The report generally accredited is that young Condron's creditors were making trouble and that he wished to get away from it.

CATALINA ISLAND.

GOLFERS HARD AT WORK.

AVALON, Feb. 28.—A men's open handicap competition at golf began here yesterday and will continue till Friday. There are twenty entries. Four sets were lined up yesterday playing for positions. DeWitt won from Woodward and L. Cox won from Manning, each two playing with even handicaps. Fletcher with a handicap of ten holes won from Lubetich with a handicap of five holes. Chamberlain with an eight-hole handicap won from Hough with a ten-hole handicap. The other entries are playing today, and the winners will continue to play until it is a case of the "survival of the fittest." The other contestants are George and Ted Merriman, Riddle, H. Allen, McAfee, Kimball, Hunt, Dwyer, Jenness, G. Cox, Green and Schellenberger.

SIERRA MADRE.

FIXING "LUCKY'S" TRACK.

SIERRA MADRE, Feb. 28.—They are getting ready for trotting the fine horseflesh out at Arcadia, the city of which "Lucky" Baldwin is the patriarchial head. The grand stand and other buildings at the coursing park are completed and painted and the track is being put in shape.

Miss Clara Howes entertained a large party of Los Angeles young ladies Saturday.

Mrs. M. L. Maxgood of Long Beach has purchased a lot on Laurel street on which she intends to erect a residence at once.

The funeral of Wheeler Huston, who died at the Pasadena Hospital Saturday from an abscess on the brain, took place at the Episcopal Church Monday. Rev. Charles Bentham officiated.

BURBANK.

Among those who attended were Misses Grace and Blanche Shelton, Alice Lehman, Hope Kughen, Lizzie Johnson, Evaline Wood, Ethel Land, Susie Clugage, Idona, Myrtle and Burnice Ayers; Esther Nioma and Ruth Pomeroy; Orpha Stancliff, Beatrice Brown, Jean and Annie McCunn; Mabel Kohlhagen and Grace Ludlow; Masters Ward Shelton, Ray Ludlow, Reuben George, Glen Kughen, John Daily, Charlie Wood, Abie Ryers, Alfred Land and Carl Kern.

HOLLYWOOD.

BAD TUMBLE IN ORCHARD.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28.—Thomas Hudson fell from a ladder this morning while picking oranges, spraining an ankle severely. He lay unconscious in the orchard for a long time. When he reyived he was able to crawl to the home of a neighbor, who summoned a physician and took him home.

Dr. Millspaugh, president of the State Normal School, will be the principal speaker at the reception Friday night given by the teachers of the Hollywood High School Union.

EAGLE ROCK.

EAGLE ROCK, Feb. 28.—A dramatic entertainment was given at Gates's Hall Saturday evening. Among those who participated in the production were Misses Edmunds and Ethel Taylor and Paul McReynolds of Los Angeles, Mrs. G. E. Myers, R. Draw, Miss Terry, Carl Reese and Earnest Craw.

WILL GREET ENDEAVORERS.

READY FOR CHRISTIAN THRONG AT LONG BEACH.

City is Asked to Join Redlands and Riverside in Defense of Suit of Dustless Roads Company—Overlooking a Switch Was Cause of Death of Young Thayer.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 28.—On Friday and Saturday of this week, the County Convention of Christian Endeavor societies will be held at the First Christian Church. This is in acceptance of an invitation extended last year by the Board of Trade under the leadership of D. A. Schweitzer. Numerous rallies have been held the past year throughout the county and great interest aroused in the annual convention. The local societies are making arrangements to entertain 600 delegates.

The convention will open Friday afternoon with a praise service, conducted by Rev. Lindley A. Wells. The address of welcome by Rev. Grant K. Lewis will be responded to by Rev. Joshua Silby of Azusa. An address "Pro Christo et Ecclesia" will be given by Rev. William Horace Day of Los Angeles.

In the evening, Leon V. Shaw, State president, will lead the devotional service and later will talk on the Santa Barbara and Baltimore conventions. A floating stereopticon talk by O. D. Couney, of Los Angeles and an address by Rev. Malcolm McLeod of Pasadena will be principal events of the evening.

Saturday's events will begin with a sunrise prayer meeting on the pier. Later, in the church, Miss Anna G. Fraser will speak of the California Christian Endeavor Hospital; E. C. Lyon of Los Angeles will tell of the 1907 convention and Judge Curtis D. Wilbur will deliver an address on "Citizenship." Saturday afternoon will be occupied mostly by the election of officers and reports of committees.

The concluding programme Saturday evening will consist of an address by Rev. Erwin S. Chapman of Los Angeles; installation of officers and a consecration service.

DUSTLESS ROADS SUIT.

Long Beach has been asked to join with Redlands and Riverside in contributing $100 each to secure the necessary evidence in the cases pending against these cities, charging them with infringing on the patent owned by the Dustless Roads Company for using oil on public thoroughfares. C. S. Rogers, who represents the defendants, says he can secure in the East evidence to show that oil was used in treating streets years before the patent was issued.

OVERLOOKED ONE SWITCH.

Overlooking one switch was the cause of the death by electricity of young Charles B. Thayer at the Pacific Electric sub-station last midnight. He had gone into the balcony to clean up and his duty was to turn off all switches for safety. After the flash came which told Otto Streetor, his assistant that something was wrong, Streetor found that one of the delta switches was closed and this ran to an oil switch carrying 5000 volts and which Thayer was cleaning when he touched the wire and got the full shock through his arm, the current burning a hole through his head which was leaning against an iron support. The coroner returned a verdict in accordance with the facts. The victim will be buried on Thursday morning. Young Thayer succeeded six months ago to the position he held, which became vacant by the death of a young man named G. W. Plannett, who attempted to replace a fuse, neglecting ordinary precautions. Thayer was an exemplary young man and two weeks ago at the big revival meeting here professed Christianity and was to have joined the Methodist Church next Sunday morning.

Golf Tournament at Coronado next week.

OCEAN PARK.

"UNKNOWN'S" BURIAL DELAYED.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 28.—It was thought for a time this morning that the mystery surrounding the woman's body found on the beach Sunday morning was about to be solved. Just as the corpse was about to be buried Coroner Trout received a telegram from W. H. Robinson of San Luis Obispo, who stated that he would arrive tonight to identify the woman as that of a missing relative of his. Awaiting his arrival, the body was not buried. Tonight Robinson telegraphed again that the person for whom he was searching had been found. There now remain no further clews to be followed, and, unless some one appears tomorrow morning to claim the corpse, it will be laid away at the expense of the county, with a headboard recording the fact that here lies buried one who is "unknown."

VOTE SCHOOL BONDS.

The Ocean Park school district yesterday held its second $10,000 school bond election. There was no opposition to the issue, and each of the eighteen votes cast was in favor of bonds. The money is to be used in completing and furnishing the new school building, and in completing the payment for the lot on which it is located. The district is less than a year old. The other election was held late in the summer.

SAN PEDRO.

HANGS FIRE TWO YEARS.

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 28.—Inquiry into the laws governing the recall of San Pedro shows that the scheme of "Boss" Craig to capture the municipal offices will meet with dismal failure for the present at least. San Pedro by her vote yesterday has become a fifth class city, but section 752 of the Municipal Corporation Act provides that no election can be held to fill municipal offices until 1907. The only cities of the fifth class that will elect officers in 1905 under the terms of this section are those which elected officers in 1901 for a term of four years and whose terms expire in 1905. San Pedro is not one of them. [illegible] was enacted in 1903 for the benefit of the city of Santa Monica which was juggling with the legislature at that time.

For Mrs. Widney.

Mrs. Robert M. Widney was guest of honor yesterday at a pretty "at home," given by her daughter, Mrs. Boyle Workman, of No. 346 Boyle avenue. The home was converted into a bower of fragrant beauty with flowers and potted plants. In the receiving room white hynacinths and violets were artistically combined, and in front of the fireplace potted palms and plants were effectively arranged. In the dining-room a particularly pretty scheme was carried out in violet and green. In the center of the shining round table was reflected a basket filled with ferns, and on either corner, resting on handsome cloths, were low bowls of violets and maidenhair ferns. Green tulle was festooned from the chandelier to the edges of the table, ending in fluffy bows. A programme of harp music was given during the afternoon by Mrs. J. M. Jones. Receiving with the hostess were Mrs. Widney and Mrs. W. H. Workman, and those who assisted were Mmes. W. T. Johnson, E. F. Spence, E. R. Kellam, John F. Ellis, Hancock Banning, J. R. Hamilton, W. H. Miss Talbot's rendition of "The Legend Beautiful" was given with a rare poetic understanding and feeling. "When the Minister Comes to Tea," by Miss Dudie Shaw and "Granny," by Miss Ione Thompson, were received with pleasure as a grateful bit of humor. "The Telephone Romance," as given by Miss Talbot, was productive of much mirth. Little Miss Fern Thompson was irresistible in quaint Martha Washington costume, in which she recited "Little Martha Washington." Others who contributed to the programme were Miss Velma Lee and Mr. Hamm. The room was draped with flags, and the central picture, a handsome one of Longfellow, was surrounded by the soft folds of a silken flag. Refreshments were served.
